ROCK HALL SCHOOL.

Commencement Exercises on Wednesday—Excellent Exhibition By The Scholars.

Rock Hall public school closed its 1902-3 term on Wednesday and proved to teachers and pupils a "red letter day." The closing features consisted of final preparations of the teachers in the wind-up of their work and a public exhibition of the artistic work of the scholars. The artistic work of the pupils consisted of free hand and mechanical drawings, which covered the walls of each room and numerous large tables, and to justly describe the work is more than time and space will allow. Truly the drawings made a most excellent appearance and showed skill and accuracy on the part of the pupils. The whole exhibit was examined by many patrons and friends with the keenest interest, exclamations of surprise being heard from all quarters

The exhibit in Prof. Greenwood's room was the mutual work of the 7th, 8th and 9th grades and was simply charming. That of the graduates, we are sure, is unexcelled by any school on the Peninsula, which consisted of geometrical and botanical work. Another work in this room showing excellent skill and interest was that of pupil Lillian Willson, consisting of a pencil drawing entitled the Louisiana Purchase in 1803, and the great results from that purchase in the formation of the following States and cities: Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Montana, Kansas, Wyoming, Minnesota, Indian Territory, Colorado, Arkansas, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas; Minneapolis, Topeka, Denver, Des Moines, Omaha, St. Louis, Lincoln, Jefferson and Bismarck. Another interesting design on the blackboard was a "Troublesome Household."

The 5th and 6th grades, taught by Miss Mary R. Camp, showed no less skill and beauty in their pencil drawings and other work. The 4th grade, under the excellent tutorship of Miss Lelia M. Reese, are certainly to be congratulated on their artistic work, consisting of pencil drawings of flowers and fruits and conical designs. The 3d grade, Miss Lillian Maslin teacher, showed remarkable skill in their drawings, while the 1st and 2d grades, taught by Misses Nettie Hersch and Ada Middleton, respectively, showed their keen observation of flowers, animals and fruits, which they had in mind while in the prosecution of their drawing work, and will soon come to the front the equal of any. Each grade and numerous individual scholars had on exhibition many works of art that certainly deserve special mention, but space is insufficient for the purpose at this time. We hope to particularize at some future time.

Prof. Greenwood and assistants vied with each other during the exhibition as to who could best make the visitors' pleasure greatest, offering every facility in examining the beautiful scenery and imparting minute information. Each teacher feels proud of the work of the year and are entering on their vacation with the knowledge of work well done. May their vacation days be the happiest of their lives.

After the close of the public inspection of the art production, the fifth annual commencement exercises took place in the M. E. Church before an audience that filled every available space in the edifice, the order of procedure being as follows: Entrance of Prof. Greenwood and Rev. J. L. Elderdice, followed by Misses Mary R. Camp, Lelia M. Reese, Nettie Hersch, Lillian Maslin and Ada Middleton, assistant teachers, and the senior class bringing up the rear. Then the following program was successfully rendered;

Voluntary ..... Star Spangled Banner
Prayer..... Rev. Warren Burr
Address to Graduates....Rev. J. L. Elderdice
Music..... Foidolin Waltz
Salutatory..... Pearl Downey, Graduate
Music..... Rivervale Two step
Recitation..... Delma Middleton, Graduate
Music. "I've Waited, Honey, Waited Long for You."
Presentation of Diplomas..... Principal
Music..... Urania March
Valedictory ..... Mabel Webb, Graduate
Music..... Rosedale Waltz
Benediction.
Music..... Princess Poalcca

The graduates occupied positions in the pulpit recess and were the pictures of health and beauty. The rendering of their parts elicited strong applause from the enraptured audience. The graduates were the recipients of many handsome presents showered on them by admiring friends. The senior class occupied the space just outside the chancel rail and looked charming in their attire.

Rev. Mr. Elderdice's address to the graduates was masterful and well received by the school and audience. The principal's address in his presentation of diplomas was one of the best and was heartily applauded from all parts of the house. The judges, Misses Nettie Dean, Lula Thomas, Freda Strong, Lillian Stevens and Mr. D. W. Crosby, who passed upon the art productions of the pupils, rendered their verdict and the following received prizes: Clayton Willis, 1st grade, by Mr. J. A. Casey; Bernice Rich, 1st grade, by Mr. B. T. Ashley; Leroy Boyer, Ernest Boulter and Simpers Coleman, 2d grade; Millard Sewell; 3d grade, by Mr. R. S. Crew; Olin Colyer, 4th grade, by Capt. Kerr; Robert Diehl, 5th grade, by Mr. T. B. Durding; Anna May Ayres, by Mr. David Ayres; Emma Barbine, by Mr. Kramer; Bessie Maslin, by Mr. D. W. Crosby; Lillian Willson, by Mrs. McCormick; Pansy Cosden, by Mr. Jos. Judefind; Lillian Willson, for the best production, by Mr. Reybold Wilson. There were others who were awarded prizes, but we failed to catch their names.

Rev. Mr. Burr made a brief address, in which, among other things, he depicted the great pride of the parents and friends of the school in the successful achievements of the teachers and taught, but blushed with shame at the appearance of the "college" building standing in the centre of the town; and as there was an apparent purpose to add another patch to the already too much patched structure, a call was made for a meeting of the citizens at Downey's Hall tonight for the purpose of protesting to any further patching, and the appointment of a committee to wait on the honorable commissioners to request that this town be furnished with an up-to-date school building. The address brought down the house.

The Junior Endeavorers of Christ M. P. Church, have purchased an elegant Estey organ and the same arrived this week.
