NEWSY ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Residence Sold.—Mr. Thos. M. Jefferson has sold his beautiful home in Crumpton to Miss Ethel B. Clements, Principal of Jarman's Branch School, Ruthsburg. Miss Clements' parents will occupy the property. Mr. Jefferson moves to Bristol, Pa. Price $2,000.

Sailed For Europe.—Mr. Lemuel Dunbracco sailed saturday from New York on the steamer Umbria for Europe. He expects to return the latter part of the present month.

The Grand Jury for the Talbot County Court in session at Easton recommended that chewing gum slot machines be removed from view on the Sabbath, as they educate the little ones to deposit in them their money intended for the church or Sunday school.

Will Build.—Mr. A. M. Culp who has purchased the Mann lot on Washington avenue will begin grading the lot at once, preparatory to the erection of six modern residences which will be an ornament to our town, three fronting on Washington avenue and three on Kent street extended. Work on the residences will begin sometime in the early fall. The property is located in one of the most desirable resident sections just opposite the home of Cashier Copper and Mrs. T. E. Hayes.

Minister Hurt.—As a result of being thrown from his carriage by a pair of runaway horses which he was driving, the Rev. J. M. Yingling, one of the foremost evangelists of the Maryland Methodist Protestant Conference, lies at his home at Laurel, Del., in a critical condition. Mr. Yingling had driven to the station there to meet his daughters when the horses became frightened by the train.

Wedded.—Mr. William R. Armstrong, of Newark, N. J., son of Mr. R. T. Armstrong, of Church Hill, and Miss Virginia D. Easton, of Church Hill, were married on Tuesday, June 30th, at the Howard House, Baltimore, by the Rev. J. P. Wilson, pastor of Guilford Avenue M. E. Church. They will spend ten days in Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia, after which they will go to their future home, Newark, N. J.

Laying the Rails—Work on the Middletown and Odessa trolley road has been going on rapidly during the week, and the rails are laid from the Pennsylvania Railroad track in town to Mill Lane, and in a short time the contractor will complete the task of laying the rails. The work of placing the poles in position has been going on for several days, and the scene along the entire route is one of great activity, and from present indications the entire line will be completed in a few weeks. This road is being built by the Tennis Construction Company.

Fruit Farming.—In a few years, Benj. F. Hudson has made a fortune in fruit farming in Delaware, after starting with nothing. Mr. Hudson and his wife, neither of whom had any capital, but both having plenty of common sense, began farming on a small scale, and after he had reached the station of middle life. A few years of good management and good luck brought him a fine farm northwest of Milford for which he has just refused $8,000. Now Mr. Hudson has purchased, for $1,200, the small farm of David Boyce at the south side of Milford, as a home for himself and wife to take life somewhat easier.

Walter H. Thompson.—Mr. Walter H. Thompson died Sunday morning in Easton at the age of 80 years. He was actively engaged in business until 10 days before his death. Mr. Thompson retired from the mercantile business several years ago and since his retirement he had been interested in the affairs of the Easton National Bank, of which he was a director, and for the Building Association. Mr. Thompson was a leader in the Methodist Episcopal Church. He had held all the offices in that church that laymen can have and represented Ebenezer Methodist Episcopal of Easton in all the Wilmington and General Conferences.

Easton Rector Overcome.—Rev. Leonidas B. Baldwin, rector of Christ Protestant Episcopal Church Easton, while conducting services in that church Sunday afternoon, was overcome by the heat and fell to the floor. A number of the members of the congregation ran to his assistance and began fanning him. Dr. Philip Travers was summoned and gave medical aid. The minister was removed to the rectory, which adjoins the church. He is much better now, but it will be several days before he fully recovers. Dr. Baldwin will soon take a vacation for the benefit of his health. He and Mrs. Baldwin will go to the mountains of New Hampsire.

Negro Jury.—For the first time in a number of years, and never before in a murder case, a negro jury sat at Wilmington, summoned by the coroner. The case was the inquest on the body of William Creamer (colored), who was shot and killed, it is alleged, by William Simms (colored), in the riots of Wednesday night. The jury brought in a verdict against Simms. It is considered a clever move on the part of Coroner McCormick to impanel a jury of blacks, as it is thought that this will go far to make them think that they are being put on a par with the whites, with whom they have been on the verge of a race war since the lynching of George White. The city is now quiet, and further trouble is not expected.

Farm Sold.—The Elkton Stock Farm, situated about one mile west of Elkton, has been sold to the Kentucky Racing and Breeding Association by John J. Ryan. The farm contains 147 acres and was formerly owned by the late William M. Singerly, of Philadelphia. The farm was purchased by William M. Rogers from Mr. Singerly and later purchased by Oscar W. Deppler, of St. Louis Mr. Deppler later deeded the farm to John J. Ryan & Co., but the deed of transfer of the last sale says the words "and Co." were surplusage.

Lodge Officers Elected.—Chestertown Council Daughters of America, has elected officers as follows: councilor, Mrs. Emma J. L. Miller; asso. councilor, Miss Emma F. Davis; vice-councilor, Mrs. Etta S. Nelson; rec. sec; Mrs. Susie B. Ferguson; ass't. rec. sec; Mrs. Nettie Thompson, treas. Joshua B. McIntyre; conductor, Mrs. Ella Allcutt; warden, Mrs. Hallie C. Kelley; inside sentinel, Mrs. Alice Burchinal; otuside sentinel, William Malin; Jr. Past councilor, Mrs. A. P. Matthews; asso. Jr. Past councilor, Mrs. Ada Duyer; trustees, Miss Jeanette Gooding, Miss Emma Davis, Mrs. Hallie Kelley; rep. to State council, Miss Emma Davis; alternate, Mrs. Hallie Kelley; deputy, Mrs. A. P. Matthews.

Chestertown Council Jr. O. U. A M., has elected the following officers for the ensuing six months: Councilor, William F. Malin; vice-councilor, Wm. A. Burke, conductor, John W. Harris; warden John W. Barnes; chaplin, Alvin Brown; inside sentinel, James E. Allen; outside sentinel, Charles King; assistant rec. sec., Walter L. Elburn. The other officers of the Council are: treasurer, John W. Hirons; rec. sec., Charles S. York; finan. sec, George Burke; trustees, J. B. McIntyre, W. A. Burke and John W. Barnes.

GRABS POLICEMAN'S BADGE

But Negro Finds That Without Emblem The Officer Has Authority.

Matthew Smith, colored, of Kent county, caused considerable excitement on Light street, near Pratt, Sunday morning about 8 o'clock, when the sidewalk was crowded with excursionists in a hurry to get their boats. Smith had been vociferously upbraiding several persons along the wharves for not paying him money which he alleged was due him.

Patrolman Harry Knight, of the Southern district, says that when he approached the negro he grew unruly and snatched the badge from his breast.

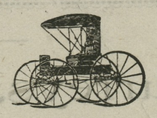

Smith evidentally thought that after the officer had been deprived of his symbol of authority no arrest could be made. Patrolman Knight, however, took a different view of the case and conducted the negro to the police station, where Justice Robertson fined him $10 and costs for disorderly conduct.

He did not have the amount and will serve 30 days in jail.

Elegance and Strength are happily combined in all the footwear we offer. They are pliable, strong and durable. They resist hard usage and return in wear every cent expended in their purchase; and they have style, too, something that every Shoe hasn't got. The cost of good Shoes here is not more than you paid elsewhere for poor Shoes.

Cool, Light Oxfords.

Fashion demands that you wear Oxfords, and they must be in the latest style. If you make your selection of Shoes here, your Footwear will be absolutely correct. We lead in values, as well as styles. That any Shoe was purchased from us is a sufficient guarantee of its excellence for style, fit and wear. These are persuasive prices, $1.50, 2.00, $2.50, and $3.00.
