Capt. Woodall is putting the finishing touches on his new gasoline boat at Georgetown and will have her ready for business in a very short time now. This boat was built at Cambridge and is one of the largest power boats yet brought out for service on the Chesapeake Bay. The Cambridge Manufacturing Co. built the hull, which is now at Georgetown being fitted with joiner work and a Globe gas engine of 85 horse power. The boat is intended for the grain and other trade between Georgetown and Baltimore. She will have a capacity of 6,000 bushels of grain, or about 175 tons dead weight cargo.

LIPTON IS A BUSY MAN.

Strenuous Work Needed to Lift the Cup—He Comes With 33 Vessels—Extremely Hospitable, Democratic and Popular—Well Satisfied With Conditions.

Attempting to lift the America's cup is strenuous work. For more than five years Sir Thomas Lipton has been devoting every minute of his spare time and millions of dollars of his fortune to try to capture the trophy won 52 years ago by the famous schooner America. In his five years of hard work Sir Thomas has loosened a few of the rivets that have held the cup so fast in this country, and he fondly hopes that this time with his triple Shamrock he will bear it away to the Emerald Isle.

The Lipton fleet numbers in all 33 vessels. It takes 205 men to handle it and to do the work that is necessary to be done.

The fleet is headed by the flagship Erin, a steamer 260 feet in length. Then there is the challenger for the cup, Shamrock III, a racing boat pure and simple. To help get this racing craft in perfect tune the first challenger, Shamrock I, has been brought over and kept in the finest possible racing trim, because if the trial boat was not doing her best it would be impossible for the new one to be improved in speed. Then there is the big ocean-going tug Cruiser, which helped convey the racers across the water. A barge has been pressed into service here, on which stores, extra sails and spars are kept.

Sir Thomas entertains so extensively that his big steamer is not large enough to accommodate all his friends, and so he has chartered the big houseboat Narodha, which has been fitted up luxuriously. There are six steam launches in the fleet, and an extra steamer, the William Fletcher, has been chartered for race days to take guests who are invited to sail on the Erin from the city to Sandy Hook, and bring them back afterward. The other boats in this fleet are gigs, cutters, jolly boats and dingies.

The Reliance and Shamrock III. were measured in the Erie Basin by C. E. Mower, the official measurer of the New York Yacht Club. As the result of his measurements and calculations it was announced at the yacht club that the Reliance would allow the challenger 1 minute and 47 seconds over a 30-mile course.

It was found that the Shamrock III. was slightly longer on the water line than the American boat, but the latter proved to have nearly 2,000 more square feet of sail area than the challenger, and it was this enormous sail spread that taxed the American boat so heavily.

The announcement of the time allowance in favor of the challenger caused little surprise at the yacht club, as it was the very general belief that the Reliance would prove considerably larger all around than her opponent.

A BIG excursion to St. Michaels was the event in the colored circles this week. A colored excursion from Baltimore came to Chestertown Sunday. Several of the crowd were put "in the hole" by officers to stop them from fighting.
