LYNCH ITEMS.

Miss Clara Jones has resumed her school duties at the Hanesville school and we are sure her heart was very sad on last Monday morning when she opened her school and did not see her beloved scholar, the late Frank Hessey, in his usual place, for he was a great help to her by his many little attentions for her comfort and also for his gentle, manly deportment.

It was the writer of this letter's privelege that she met the late Harry L. Boyd, Jr., on his father's front porch a few days before his sad death and remarked to a friend, what a handsome, healthy looking youth; he was a perfect picture of his father in his school days; not knowing he was even ill then, and was shocked to hear of his early death, truly, in the midst of life we are in death, and to who shall we look to for succor, but to thee, Oh God, for thou wilst comfort these bereaved hearts as no earthly friend can do.

Our pastor, Rev. J. M. Sheridan, preached a fine sermon last Sunday afternoon to the largest congregation ever seen in our fine new church at Lynch's excepting the two dedication Sundays. He has distributed tracts among the cannery workers here, also invited them to come to church which is the right spirit and is appreciated by all.

Miss Vanhinkle, of Philadelphia, has been visiting Miss Lillie Cornelius.

Miss Alice Hepbron has opened her school here and we hope she will like it.

Mr. Wm. Baynard died in Baltimore lately, he was the father of Mrs. Jos. Harper, Mrs. John Parrott and Mrs. John Bennett.

Mr. Hough Gooding, of Baltimore, who was married recently, brought his wife to Kent by train on a visit to his mother and family. Mr. Gooding stands high in the Police Service of Baltimore, having been made a sargeant a long time ago.

Quite a singular coincidence occured last week in the death of two old colored men of the same age and name, Perry Brown, of Still Pond, and Perry Brown, of Sudlersville.

Circus.—The local circus season will be ushered in Friday, September 18, when Sig Sautelle's new big three ring railroad circus, menagerie, royal Roman hippodrome and wild west will exhibit afternoon and evening on Washington avenue, Chestertown. This famous showman has spared no expense this season to secure the very best and newest all-star features several of which cannot be duplicated and would do credit to the largest circus in the world. One exclusive featnre is a ferocious riding lion. The brute is the same that attacked and nearly killed its trainer, at the winter quarters in Homer, N. Y., a few months ago. "Nero," for that is its name, is a large, fierce beast than which there is no member of the cat family more fearless, savage and treacherous. This nerve destroying, hair raising act will be given in one of the regular, open rings, Another salient feature among a grand profusion of marvels is the 63 horse act. Under the perfect control of one man, who sits astride a pure white horse at the apex of a previously erected pyramid, 63 members of the equine race enter a single ring and, after assuming their respective positions execute a most complex and marvelous drill. The number of all-star artists engaged for the Sautelle shows this season doubles that of last year and the programme which they now offer is one of par excellence and admirably suited to the tastes of old and young alike. This will be the second year Mr. Sautelle has traveled by rail and a special train of 26 cars is now required to transport his mammoth tented amusement institution, while he employs a well organized army of over 300 workers and hundreds of horses, ponies and donkeys. A gigantic street pageant, of marvelous splendor and dazzling brilliancy, will be given over the principal streets at 10 o'clock on the morning of the above day and date. The grand processional display of wealth will be resplendent with lustrous chariots, bands of clever musicians, elephants, camels, several large, open pens of wild animals, a steam calliope and a greater number of big features than has ever been seen in a similar pageant.

IN MEMORIAM.

Departed this life after an illness of 4 months, JAMES T. WOOLYHAND.

Over the river faces I see,
Fair as the morning looking for me
Free from the suffering of trouble and care,
Waiting and watching patiently there.

Father and mother, safe in the vale,
Watch for the boatman, wait for the sail.
Bearing the loved ones over the tide
Into the harber near to their side.

Jesus the Saviour, bright morning star,
Looking for lost ones, straying afar;
Hear the glad message; why will you roam?
Jeasus is calling, "Children come home."

CHILDREN.

NOTES HERE AND THERE.

There were a number of teachere as well as Laymen who got "stuck on" the chairs. Better be these than some of our young men.

One lady from Rock Hall evidently combined a shopping trip with her duties for here is her list: pictures, glasses, shoes, skirt and waist, collars 2 and comb. If all the teachers were as liberal in their dealings with our stores the Institute proved a bonanza for some.

Some of the older teachers are inclined to believe that the new instructors do not add much beauty to their number. They are mistaken, for when they learn to know them they will find them beautiful in character and intelligent beyond measure, so that they will appear equally as lovely as the "regulars."

Kent county teachers have an eye for the beautiful as was evidenced in the handsome and striking costumes worn during the day and evening.

It is said that one of the sweetest and cutest school "marms" at the Institute was Miss B. of Chestertown.

Miss Helen Wilkins' singing was a pleasant feature of the Institute. Her sister, Miss Olevia, played the accompaniments.
