CHURCH NOTES.

Rally Day at the M. E. Church—Rev. Kent M. Bull Preaches Farewell Sermon in Worton, &c.

Worton Presbyterian Church was crowded Sunday with people to hear Rev. K. M. Bull's farewell sermon. He has been in Kent just ten years and has proven popular and efficient. His text Sunday was "Regeneration." He goes from Kent to Stewartstown, Pa. The Presbytery will fill the vacancy at once.

Sunday, October 16, will be observed as "Rally Day" in Christ M. P. Church. On that day will be celebrated the 16th anniversary of the dedication of the beautiful edifice, and Rev. Dr. W. R. Graham, of Easton, its builder, will preach the sermon, and Rev. Dr. W. S. Hammond, the president of the conference at the time of the dedication, will likely address the Sunday School. Special music will be rendered by home and city talent, and a programme of unusual interest will be given at all the services.

Last Sunday was observed as Rally Day by the Chestertown M. E. Church and Sabbath School. The following program was rendered: Singing; Prayer by Dr. J. T. Twilley, Singing, Scripture Reading by School, led by Mr. J. T. Anthony, Singing, Lesson Hymn, Brief review of Quarter's lessons by Rev. W. L. White, Address by Rev. D. L. Greenfield, Special Music by Choir, Singing by Primary Department, Talk on Grading the School, by Miss Mary C. Burchinal, Singing by the Choir, Announcement by Rev. Mr. White, Singing, School, Benediction.

Capt. J. F. Willis, of the Volunteers of America, Salvation Army, a former Kent countain, occupied the pulpit Sunday evening and delivered an interesting address concerning the work of the Army.

Although he has been requested by the Bishop through Presiding Elder Mowbray to vacate the parsonage of Asbury Church and also by the Rev. Thomas Poulson, the Rev. Charles S. Baker, who was suspended from preaching by the Methodist Episcopal preachers at the inquiry concerning his stock dealing, still continues to reside in the parsonage of the church. Several efforts have been made to remove him from the church house but he continues to reside there. The Board of Trustees of the church deeply regret Mr. Baker's aspect in continuing to live in the parsonage when he is no longer a pastor of the church. As a final step they are in communication with counsel to ascertain if they have the authority to eject the pastor. The church is now forced to maintain two establishments. One for the supply pastor and the parsonage occupied by Dr Baker.

Wedding Events.—Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Beauchamp, of Queen Anne's, Md., have issued invitations to the wedding of their dauphter, Annie K., to Mr. Howard Franklyn Owens, of Betterton. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. George F. Mayes, in the M. E. Church, South, at Queen Anne's, Tuesday, October 11th, at high noon, after which a wedding dinner will be served. The bridal couple will take a Southern tour and will visit the St. Louis Fair. At home, Betterton after November 15th.

The attendants will be: Mrs. James Scott Muir, of Philadelphia, matron of honor; Mr. Maxwell Starkey, of Betterton, will be the groom's best man: Messrs. Reginald Beauchamp, of Queen Anne's, cousin to the bride-elect, Alfred T. McDorman, of Baltimore, A. L. Duffy, of Hillsboro, and Harry Knotts, of Betterton, will act as ushers; Miss Estelle Crew, of Betterton, will preside at the organ with violin accompaniment by Miss Elva Reese, of Harrington.

Miss Beauchamp being a former student of Washington College is quite well known and has many friends in Kent. Mr. Owens is a member of the well-known firm of Owens & Co., of Betterton, and is one of the progressive young men of the county.

The marriage of J. S. E. Pardee, editor of the Easton Ledger to Miss Mary Augusta Walls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wesley Walls, is announced to take place at Crumpton M. E. Church Thursday, October 13, 1904, at 12 o'clock, noon.

The House on Calvert street vacated by officer Hudson has been rented by one of Chestertown's young mechanics who will soon take unto himself a wife.

You con't vote unless you are registered. Next Tuesday is the day.

THE season is now at hand when the young partridges and rabbits are getting large enough to be easy marks for the pot hunter and the breaker of the game laws; the authorites ought to be on the alert. The game laws give ample power and they should exercise it. The shooting in this section is really good, but it cannot remain so unless the game laws are properly observed. In the enforcement of these laws the authorities of town and county should cooperate cordially.

Potatoes deteriorate in cooking qualities when exposed to light probably more than any vegetable grown, and should strictly be kept in perfect darkness if the highest quality is to be preserved.

DIED.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dearly beloved son, Lloyd H. Porter who departed this life one year ago. September 28, 1903.

One mournful year has vanished
Think we while the tear drops start,
But the memory of our dear loved one
Still is fresh within our hearts.

Oh the misery of that dreary morn,
When we stood around his bed,
Till death stole upon him softly
And we knew his soul had fled.

Oh, Since then our lives are saddened,
But when trials and sorrows are passed
And Jesus shall beckon us home,
We shall meet our dear loved one
Around God's white-robed throne.

Rest for the toiling hand,
Rest for the anxious brow,
Rest for the weary, way-sore-feet,
Rest from all labor now.

BY HIS MOTHER

W. C. T. U. COUNTY EXECUTIVE is requested to meet at Dr. Simmons' residence, Chestertown, on Thursday next, Oct. 6th, at 2 o'clock. All superintendents urged to attend.

ROCK HALL ITEMS.

Rally Day exercises were held in the M. E. Church on Sunday evening before a crowded house. The program of song, recitations and oratory were exceedingly appropriate and beautifully rendered. The banner for largest amount of collections was awarded to class.

Through thorough advertising, the festival and supper of the St. John's R. C. Society was a big success on Saturday evening. Beautiful weather, beautiful women, hustling men and a corps of well trained cutters was no little factor.

The pure ozone of Atlantic City, Coney Island, and other Northern sections, having restored to health Mrs. A. Alexander, while on her recent tour of those places, she and her husband are now planning a trip to New York, which will shortly take place, the object of which will be for business, health and pleasure, upon their return, they will buckle down to hard work for Thanksgiving and the holidays. The NEWS and a host of friends extend best wishes for the grandest "old time" of their lives.

Rev. Mr. Parris of the M. P. Church was a welcome visitor at the M. E. Sunday School service on Sunday afternoon. He took a lively interest in the proceedings, and large audience.

Contrary to expectations there was a big slump in the prices of oysters during the cold snap of last week. A Republican friend said the cause of the slump was the fact that Parker and Davis will surely win out and we are getting a forecast of what is in store for the country along all lines. If he was a prophet or the son of a prophet we might ponder.

Capt. B. F. Sewell has treated his vessel Bedworth, with a new suit of sails. He believes Parker is going to win, and it will only be a matter of a trip or so, when the out lay for sails will be replenished, may his faith never waver.

Capt. G. T. Sewell whose vessell the Hugh Bolton was wrecked during the recent storm, has succeeded in stripping the wreck of rigging &c. He also found his nets, and thinks $50 will place the nets in condition for service. He is now repairing his damaged pursing boat, and will in a few days be on the brinny deep again in pursuit of the finny tribe. If the Hamanites could examine our oysters bars, they would concede that the death knell to their oyster planting scheme has been sounded. Not for many years has there been such a large catch of spat. There is a fine spread of small oysters, and the older stock has made a large growth during the closed season. The very blustry weather during the last season and the long freeze of last winter all of which had the effect of keeping the ovster men off the bars much of the season is responsible for the large increase of oysters, thus demonstrating the fact that all the bars need is rest, and protection. Now if the oyster men are alive to their interests, they will see to it that the oysters are faithfully protected by themselves, all will be well.

There are many favorable comments in this section upon the KENT NEWS' improvment in adding an extra column to the page thus doing away with the often annoying supplement.

The new buildings on the Blackiston corner, and the Apsley lot are rapidly nearing completion. The store and dwelling on the Blackiston property makes one of the most decided improvements in recent years to the town.

Horse Notes.—Mr. Wm. Wagner, of Edesville, has purchased a fine driver of Mr. Frank Baxter, of Queen Anne's. Commissioner Ayres bought Mr. Wagner's trotter for $150.

Sheriff Keyser has a horse that refuses to go some times for him but is always willing to do his wife's bidding!

Linwood, Mr. John Bell's young horse by Bedworth, Jr., 2.06½, returned to Rose Hill Farm, near Chestertown, Saturday last, from Columbus, Ohio. Excepting for the accidents to both front legs, Linwood is in fair shape and is being driven daily on the road by Mr. Bell. His last race was at Wheeling, West Va, in the 2.23 pace, finishing in eighth position in both the first and second heats, but was drawn after that. Time of the winner of the heats in which he was a contestant,—2:21½ and 2:17¼.

SASSAFRAS ITEMS.

Mr. James Davis, of Wilmington, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Davis near town on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Spry are entertaining Miss Nora Boston, of Chestertown.

Dr. E. N. Jeter left on Friday for Baltimore, whither he took a patient to the Baltimore Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Johnson, of near town, are entertaining Miss Amelia Dreka, of Philadelphia.

During the heavy storm of last week there were so many apples blown down that making cider is quite an industry at Dreka Mills here, hundreds of baskets of apples were made into cider last week.

The whole community was greatly shocked on Monday morning to learn of the death of Miss Mollie D. Othoson near town. Miss Othoson had been seriously sick for the past two months but no one dreamed the end was so near. She was suffering from consumption and died sitting in her chair as she could not lay down, about half past five o'clock Monday morning with a devoted brother and two nieces and skilled physician by her side and everything that kind and loving hands could do was done for her, but our Heavenly Father willed it otherwise. Miss Othoson was a most lovely Christian lady and had many warm friends here. She leaves one sister and several brothers and many devoted relatives and friends. Her funeral took place on Wednesday morning, interment at St. George's Delaware Cemetery beside her parents and a sister who died some years ago very similar.

The death of Charles H. B. Massey, Esq., of Chestertown, was very sad and his family have the entire sympathy of the community.

Mrs. Martha McWhorter, of Wilmington, is visiting her daughter Mrs. E. N. Jeter, of Sassafras.

Mrs. Scott Rosin and son were entertained on Saturday for tea by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sylvester.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Robinson are entertaining her sister, Mrs. T. Taylor and daughter, of Baltimore.

Doc Hodson, wife and son visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith, of St. George's, Delaware, for several days last week.

GOLT ITEMS.

Mr. John P. Wilson, of Cecilton was in town Tuesday.

Mr. Powell F. Johns, of Warwick, was a brief caller in town Monday.

Mr. Virgel Rolph, of Wilmington, was the guest of Mr. Roscoe Worten on Sunday.

Misses Morris accompanied by their cousin, Miss Hughs, of Dover, spent from Saturday until Tuesday with relatives here.

Mr. Lee Stien, of Centreville, was in town over Sunday.

Miss Bessie Merritt is visiting friends at Warwick.

Rev. C. K. Morris closed the revival meetings at Dulaneys Church last Sunday night.

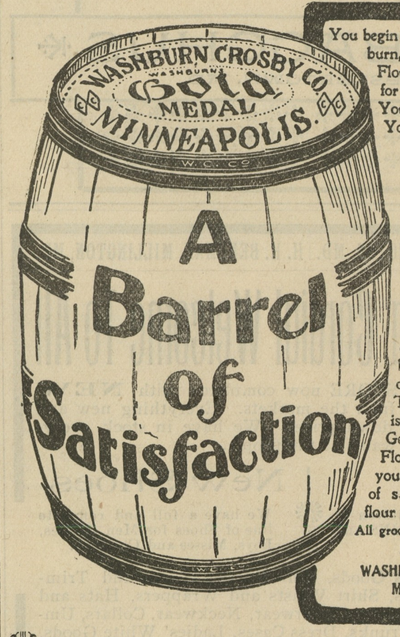

The oyster supper and festival held last Friday and Saturday evenings was a success, both socially and financially, a neat little sum being realized.

Judge Sheppard Morris and wife, of Golts, are entertaining a house party of young ladies, of Wilmington and Philadelphia. Mr. Elwood Morris is quite attentive trying to make their visit pleasant.

We surely must compliment our Editors on their beautiful new edition of the new Kent News.
