LET IT PASS.

Has it been a weary day?
Let it pass:
Lots of others on the way—
They will pass.
Soon the skies will start to lighten,
All around begin to brighten,
And misfortune cease to frighten—
Let it pass.

Does the world the wrong way rub you?
Let it pass,
Did your best friend seem to snub you?
Let it pass.
Chances are you were mistaken,
None is ever quite forsaken,
All for naught your faith was shaken—
Let it pass.

MORE FAVORABLE OUTLOOK FOR GOOD OYSTER SEASON.

Tongers Say Beds Are More Productive Than They Have Been in Many Years.

Despite the low prices which have prevailed in the oyster market during the greater part of the present fall Chesapeake bay oystermen expect one of the most satisfactory seasons in fifteen years.

Captain Clark, of the Chester River line carried to Baltimore this week a small stick which was literally covered with oysters ranging in size from a half to an inch in diameter. "Everything to which the spat could attach itself is reported as covered with young oysters," said Captain Clark. "Even the grass on the beds and nearby flats is loaded, and the outlook is the most favorable in years."

Specimens of mussel-covered oysters have been secured by the Hopkins University, and investigations are being made with a view to discovering the cause of the periodical appearance of the parasites. It was said at the Pratt street wharves last week that the stock now coming in shows a marked decrease in the number of mussels, and it is expected that with the approach of cold weather the trouble will entirely disappear.

The cargoes along Pratt street aggregated about 15,000 bushels. The demand was good and prices ranged from 50 to 80 cents. The big oyster packing houses have opened.

NEW TROLLEY.

Middletown and Cecilton to be Connected by a Ten Mile Railway—Bright Prospects in Sight.

The work of grading for the Middletown Warwick and Cecilton Electric Railway is nearly completed says the Wilmington Republican. The unfinished pieces are on three farms which the line crosses.

The new line is ten miles in length and runs through a thickly populated country. At Middletwon is the nearest railroad station all the freight for Warwick, Earlville and Cecilton comes to Middleton and in addition to the passenger cars there will be freight cars run over the line several times a day.

In addition to the towns mentioned the business men of many other Maryland towns express their willingness to patronize the new line. Farmers along the line say that in bad weather it will be very convenient to haul wheat and corn on the trolley cars to be shipped.

In doing this their teams will not have to haul heavy loads over the bad roads in winter time.

As soon as the grading is completed the work of laying the tracks will be commenced. It is expected that the line will be open about December 1.

DR. CAIN AND THE REPORTER

What He Thinks of Instruction in English and of Cigarettes!

A News reporter gives the following interesting interview with Dr. James W. Cain, president of Washington College, who was at the Rennert last week. Says he:

Dr. Cain was formerly vice-principal of St. John's College, and has been at the head of Washington College one year. There has been some changes in the faculty. Prof. Robert Clark, a graduate of Amherst and post-graduate of Clark University, is at the head of the department of pedagogy, and the department of English will be under the direction of Prof. John D. Epes, who for five years was professor of English at Warrensburg State Normal School, Missouri, and who, before coming to Maryland, was acting head of the department of English at Washington University, St. Louis. Miss Idell Baker of Chestertown has been made preceptress.

The conversation turned, somewhat peculiarly, to orthography and cigarettes.

"There is a great lack of proper instruction in English," said Dr. Cain, "and the deplorable ignorance in spelling which crops out of educational institutions now and then is the result. I believe in the theme system, by which the student is required to write a page theme daily, for correction and revision under the instructor's direction. That system is in use at Washington College. It is also used in your Polytechnic Institute here.

What is the difference between a honeycomb and a honeynoon? A honeycomb consists of a number of small "cells," and a honeymoon is one grand "sell."

What is the most dangerous time of the year to visit the country? When the bull-rushes out, and the cow-slips about, and the little sprigs are shooting all around.
