SPOT wheat was quoted in Baltimore yesterday at $1.18 and corn at 50½c.

JUDGE PARKER, in a letter to citizens of Ulster county, New York, states this as an issue: "Shall the ship of state sail by the people's chart or at random?"

MR. D. S. PINDELL, electrician and capitalist, was in Chestertown Wednesday and asked a franchise of the town commissioners to erect an electric light plant here. He proposes to begin work as soon as possible.

THE Court is to be congratulated upon the position taken as to the prompt trial of cases and the enforcement of same. In adopting this method the business of the present term has been expedited and the overburdened tax-payer thereby helped.

THE mass meeting of Democrats at Galena Thursday was a big affair. It was largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Mr. William F. Russell, cashier of the Kent County Savings Bank, was the speaker of the evening and made an excellent address, after which an oyster scald was enjoyed. Justice Henry Parr presided.

THE Auditing committee for Kent county consisting of Messrs. J. F. M. Woodall, Wilbur Eliason and Thos. Skirven completed their arduous labors yesterday and will submit their report to the county Commissioners at once. The public will be given this report at an early date.

GEORGE W. HARPER, Esq., of New York was in town Wednesday. He is confident that Roosevelt will carry New York and be elected but says the indications point to the election of the Democratic Governor. Mr. Harper is a "strenuous" Republican and the last prediction is rather surprising. Things must look blue for his party in the Empire State, sure enough.

HON. THOMAS A. SMITH, the Democratic candidate for Congress from this district, made a most favorable impression upon the people of Kent County in his brief visit to this section the past week. Mr. Smith is in every way fitted for the office to which he aspires, and would undoubtedly make an excellent representative for the Eastern Shore. The offices of State Senator and Labor Statistician have been filled by him with ability and honor, and he is in every way capable of filling a seat in congress with credit to his constituents. As a business man he has been successful, although he has not amassed a great fortune, and his character is above reproach. In him the Eastern Shore would have a Congressman alive to her interests and ever on the alert to further them. Voters of Kent County will make no mistake in marking their ballots for Thomas A. Smith for Congress.

Mr. Jackson's Record.

"Mr. Jackson has done more for his district than any representative for fifteen years."—The Salisbury Courier.

As an answer to the above statement we will let the Baltimore Herald's comment last Sunday state what has been Mr. Jackson's record since he has been in Congress:

"While a member of the House his voice was never heard for or against a measure.

"He never asked leave to print a speech, and only when he introduced a few private bills was his presence at all known. Of these measures just one was passed.

"The Congressional Record shows not only this, but it also brings to light the fact that Mr. Jackson was a chronic absentee.

"The yea and nay vote makes plain that upon 22 important bills and resolutions that came before the 58th Congress Mr. Jackson voted only for one. In other words, 'Uncle Bill' voted just once during the session on important roll-calls, and on that occasion he voted against subjecting renovated butter to similar restrictions with oleomargarin. This for a Congressman's record would be hard to parallel."

THE annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Maryland met in Centreville Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Among those present were Rev. Mr. White and wife, Mrs. A. S. Hurlock, Mrs. Legg, Mrs. Covey, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anthony, and Miss Ida Hudson. One of the interesting features was the oratorical contest for gold medal. This was won by Miss Rhoda Scarborough, of Harford county, who delivered an eloquent speech on "The Modern Cain." The other speakers were Msss Mabel Fussel, of Montgomery county; Miss Ida M. Hudson, of Kent county; Miss Mabel Powell, of Worcester county; Miss Ella Baker, of Talbot county, and Miss Kitty Spielman, of Washington.

THE Worton Democratic League held a successful meeting Saturday evening. Addresses were made by Messrs. Scott Beck, T. D. Bowers and J. Waters Russell.

GRAND DEMOCRATIC RALLY!

Stam's Hall Filled with an Intelligent Audience of White Men Tuesday—Harry J. Covington, Esq, of Easton, Isaac Lobe Straus, of Baltimore, and Hon. Thos. A. Smith, Candidate for Congress, Make Able Addresses.

The Democrats of Kent county held a successful meeting in Chestertown Tuesday. Mr. John Comegys, of the Democratic State Central Committee, called the meeting to order and Mr. Bernard J. McCauley was elected Chairman with the following officers; Vice-presidents, Lewis C. Hayes, Wm. T. Hicks, Wm. H. Loper, Wm. F. Collins, 1st dist; Eugene M. Bonwill, George R. Parrott, Chas. H. Price, Chas. D. McClary, Wm. Baxter, second district; John Henry Crew, John H. O. Stokes, Wm. D. Pennington, George W. Rash, B. J. McCauley, third district; John F. Howard, J. Frank Wheatley, B. F. Rust, Walter T. Pippin, Thos. Massey, fourth district; Wm. Thomas of Wm., Elmer E. Leary, Thos. Conner, John M. Hersch, James M. Wood, fifth dist.; Wash G. Skirven, James A. Jones, John W. and John E. Fowler, John E. Morris, Chas. H. Crew, sixth dist.; J. Romie Byron, Harry Nichols, Wm. J. Deford, Wm. E. Brown, Robert T. Ford, seventh; secretaries, Jessie H. Usilton and J. Waters Russell, J. Harry Covington, Esq., State's Attorney for Talbot county addressed the audience in the afternoon and made one of the finest speeches heard on the hustings this year. He presented the three great issues, viz, Imperialism, Trusts, Tarriff and Rooseveltism in such a manner that every one received a distinct and definite idea of the position of his party. His address was an attack upon the Republican party rather than a defense of the Democratic party and his arguments were practical and sound in every particular. His whole address was delivered with unusual vim and his audience listened with marked interest and enthusiasm.

Hon. Thos. A. Smith, the Democratic candidate for Congress, made the opening speech at night to a packed audience of White men and was enthusiastically received. Mr. Smith is a man of the people, and is deserving of every vote, not only of Democrats but of Republicans and Independents, while a friend to the colored man he is for white man's supremacy and stands for justice and law to all men.

Isaac Lobe Straus, Esq., of Baltimore, received a warm welcome and held the wrapt attention of his large audience for more than an hour. He said:

"I am here today to speak as a Democrat for the organic law of the Union and for the great fundamental landmarks of our political system. Under the standards of the Democratic party the people are rallying in defense of their Constitution. The Democracy is again leading the nation to the high seats of law and justice. We value the rights of the people as above all money and above all price, and if the Democracy succeeds this year it intends that the free, federal and limited government of the people, which was brought forth upon this soil in the blood of the revolution, shall once more be safely anchored within the harbor of the constitution.

"I make the charge that every peculiar and distinctive principle upon which this Government was founded has been violated by the Administration now in power. The Declaration of independence and the war of the Revolution were simply and absolutely a protest against the colonial system. Yet today the establishment of the colonial system over distant lands and alien races is the cardinal principle of the Roosevelt policy.

"This nation was brought into being upon the proposition that the powers of government can be justly and rightfully derived only from the consent of the governed. Yet the policy of the Administration today is to buy the right to rule millions of human beings and to fasten our unwelcome and odious dominion upon them with the sword and bayonet. Heretofore every responsible American statesmen of every political party, from Alexander Hamilton and Thomas Jefferson to Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison, have stood fast by the precepts of Washington's farewell address and discountenanced every project of foreign conquest, as well as every movement toward the embroilments and rivalries of world politics. The reiterated counsel of Jefferson, Madison, the Adamses, Webster, Calhoun and other great Americans upon this subject would make a library of themselves. With characteristic power and compactness, Mr. Webster summarized this traditonal policy of the Republic when he said: "The great objects of national pursuit with us are connected with peace. We covet no provinces; we desire no conquests; we entertain no ambitious projects of aggrandizement by war. This is our policy. Yet the Roosevelt party reverses all this and is plunging us into the vortex of European and Oriental politics, with all the perils and vices and costs of being a world power, with colonial pendencies, with vast armies and navies with huge war chests and endless civil lists, with schemes of exploitation as dark and bloody as those of the British East India Company under Hastings and Clive—and worse than everything else, the grinding taxes wrung from every toiling household in the land for the support of this imperial regime of plunder."

Mr. Straus made a telling argument on the tariff question in the light of present industrial conditions. He denied that any justification could now be found "for keeping up at high artificial figures, by means of living to every family in the land." "The Democratic party," he said, "is putting the question distinctly to the hosts of toiling men and women, who are despoiled of their earnings for the benefit of colossal monopolies and other favorites of class legislation, whether the despoilers shall continue to gather their plunder or whether this Goverment of the people, by the people and for the people, shall cease to be the oppressive instrument of private greed."

Mr. Straus in conclusion paid a high tribute to Mr. Thomas A. Smith, the candidate for Congress, saying he was excellently equipped for useful service in Congress. He also evoked loud applause by his reference to the "all star combination," which, he said, "was rolling up a majority for Parker and Davis in West Virginia, so that from the Ohio and the Potomac to the Rio Grand and the Gulf, through all the States of the Southland, there would be one unbroken jubilee of Democratic triumph."

READY FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

Rally Day At Christ M. P. Church—Wesley Chapel's Big Day—St. James' Program For Sunday.

Sunday was a day of unusual pleasure and interest to the members and friends of Christ Methodist Protestant Church, Chestertown. It was Rally Day and also the 16th anniversary of the building of the handsome edifice. The church was decorated with exquisite taste by the young people of the Christian Endeavor Society and never looked prettier than on this occassion. The day opened with early class lead by Mr. Wm. A. Blakeney and was followed by regular church services at which Rev. Walter R. Graham, D. D. of Easton, under whose pastorate of six years the new Church was erected, preached from the text "Behold these stones." The speaker was in perfect voice and his sermon was one of the best he ever delivered. It was a masterly discourse dealing with the scope and mission of the Church and gave to his hearers wise counsel and sound advise as to how to succeed. He struck a key note when he declared that there were "too many people in the church with angles and not enough with beveled edges!". The music included a beautiful solo by Miss M. Julia Thompson and selection by a choir consisting of Mrs. Harvey Boggs, Mrs. L. J Smyth, Mrs. A. M. Culp, Mrs. J. Hydie Thompson, Misses Addie Hurlock, Susie B. Culp, M. J. Thompson, Bessie and Flora Wheatley, Messrs. Fred G. Usilton, J. H. Thompson, J. P. Parrott, Howard Dodd; organist Miss Clara B. Usilton.

The Sunday School held their rally service in the afternoon under the direction of Superintendant, Wm. B. Usilton. The scripture was read by Mr. J. Henry Hurtt the lesson by Miss Mamie Thompson and addresses were made by Mr. John Mason, of Easton, Prof. L. J. Smyth and Rev. W. R. Graham. The singing was accompanied by orchestra composed of Messrs. J. Hydie Thompson, L. B. Russell, Foster Cannon, Warren Hurlock; Master James Bacchus, pianist and Miss Mamie Thompson, organist. A beautiful card souvenir was given each one present.

At 6.45 P. M. the Christian workers service was opened under the leadership of Mr. Thomas D. Bowers every seat in the room being taken. The history of the church was presented at this meeting in "Chapters," Mr. Lewin S. Fowler being styled the historian. He was the first speaker and dwelt upon the early days of Methodism followed by Mr. Wm. A. Wheatley who impressively told the story of the circuit riders while on old Kent Circuit. Then came a list of the pastors who had served Christ Church, read by Mr. J. Waters Russell on the early members of the Church and by Mr. J. D. Bacchus who read a full account of the ways and means employed and committees appointed for the building of the new church, the total cost of which was $30,000. The music comprised a quartette by Messrs. A. M. Culp, J. Hydie Thompson, F. G. Usilton and Howard Dodd; a duet by Misses Marion Lusby and Addie Hurlock; chorus by the College Glee Club under Dr. Cairns direction and congregational singing lead by Prof. Culp.

The evening service consisted of greetings from ex pastors read by Dr. D. L. Greenfield, an address on reminiscences by W. B. Usilton. An interesting feature of this service was the presentation to the church by Mr. James W. Chapman of a bronze tablet to perpetuate the memory of the building committee of this beautiful structure, said committee consisting of Messrs. Wm. B. Usilton, J. K. Aldridge, J. W. Lambert, J. W. Chapman, T. R. Hubbard, W. J. Vannort, J. Harry Simpers, S. F. Smith, T. W. Russell, Wm. Archibald, Jr. The choir rendered special music at this service and Miss Thompson rendered another solo "Hold Thou My Hand." The whole day was enjoyable and marks a bright spot in the history of this congregation.

Next Sunday St. James will celebrate it's anniversary and harvest home under the direction of Rev. J. M. Sheridan, pastor, the program being as follows:

Morning, 10.30 o'clock—Organ Voluntary; Hymn by the Choir; "Rally for the Royal Master;" Hymn No. 1, Church Hymnal; Prayer; Responsive Reading and Glora; Scripture Lesson; Anthem by the Choir; "O Lord How Excellent is Thy Name;" Sermon by Rev. S. B. Treadway, D. D; Collection; Doxology; Benediction.

Evening 7.30 o'clock—Organ Voluntary and Doxology; Hymn No. 192, Church Hymnal; Prayer; Responsive Reading and Gloria; Recitation, "He That Reapeth Receiveth Wages:" by Miss Morgan Hessey; Recitation, "Love's Ministry;" by Miss Addie Gale; Hymn by the choir, "White Already to Harvest; Sermon by Rev. E. C. Makosky; Collection; Revival services to be continued during the week; Preaching by the visiting ministers.

Church organized, 1831; Old Church Built, 1853: Present Edifice Dedicated, 1902; Cost of Building $4,560.00.

Building Committee—Samuel Vannort, Chairman; John P. Nicholson, Treasurer; Rev. E. C. Makoskey. Sec'y; William Morris: Joseph R. Usilton, Walter T. Morris, J. Walter Skirven, Thomas J. Willis, Robert G. Nicholson.

Rev. A. H. Covey will occupy the pulpit of Chestertown M. E. Church Sunday morning, Rev. Mr. White being in Philadelphia.

Rev. Kent M. Bull, recently of Kent county, estimates that he traveled over 25,000 miles during his ten years pastorate here. His succesor has not yet been called.

Last Sunday 16th Inst., was Rally Day at Wesley Chapel. Although the pastor had been trying for three weeks to secure pulpit supply at the last moment he learned that a number of adverse circumstances had rendered his efforts futile, so he was obliged to conduct the services alone. The day was charmingly beautiful, the congregations at both services good, and within a few cents of $70 contributed to our general interests for the year. The subject of the morning sermon was "The Poor Rich Man," from Matt. XII-21. The subject of the evening was "A Young Man's Choice," from Gen. XIII 11. No special program of music had been prepared, but eminently appropriate hymns were enthusiastically sung oy the choir and congregation. Close and enthusiastic attention was given to the message and trust much good accomplished.

The Maryland Sunday School Convention will be held in Baltimore on Oct., 27th and 28th. Each School in the State will send delegates to this great gathering. Mr. Preston Fiddis, a former Kent Countian, is president of the State Union and is doing everything in his power to make this convention the success it deserves.

Rev. H. K. Miller will preach in the Presbyterian Church at Worton, Sunday, October 23, at 7.30 p. m. Text: "Eagles Nest;" subject, Patriotism.

NEW YORK-ALABAMA OIL CO.

Dr. Charles M. Erwin, secretary of the above company, who is visiting our city in its interests, has made us a pleasant call. We notice that his company has a director on the Eastern Shore, Mr. L. E. Williams, President of the Farmers' & Merchants Bank at Salisbury, and the Doctor informs us that they have over 200 share-holders in Maryland.

The scene of operations is in North Alabama, near Huntsville, where they have several wells one of them being a natural gas well, which from all accounts is a wonder. In this connection we quote from the Huntsville Daily Tribune:

"Last afternoon the editor of the Tribune in company with a party of gentlemen again visited the gas well of the New York-Alabama Oil Company. The purpose was to obtain a night photograph of the brilliant light which illuminated the country for miles around. We know of no better name for this brilliant light than to call it the light of progress It means millions for Madison county and Huntsville. It is no longer an experiment, an idle theory, but a substantial, roaring, blazing fact, a well which has poured forth a steady volume since last summer, with a pressure of 118 pounds, and as pure an article as ever came from the earth. This gas can be piped to Huntsville. We are told its volume would furnish sufficient fuel to heat every boiler in the city and cook every meal. We had feared that Huntsville was finished, but the discovery of this gas arouses hopes of a brilliant future for our city. If such an opportunity was north of us people would run wild in an effort to utilize it. What will we do? It is up to us. In a few hours pictures of this well will be ready, the kodac cannot lie. It will show the great blaze illuminating the country for miles around In fact so brilliant was the light that figures of a group of men half a mile away were easily distinguishable and the horses could be recognized. The blaze was simply immense and grand. But burning on a hill fifteen miles away means nothing; if brought to Huntsville it would mean wealth and progress."

Dr. Erwin will be in our town several days and we presume will bring the enterprise to the notice of our monied men, who will, we feel safe in saying, give him their usual courteous attention. He comes fortified with affidavits, letters and expert reports that are very convincing.

A meeting of the directors of the Tolchester Steamboat Company was held at the company's Light street office this week. Capt. William C. Eliason, president of the company, made a report of the business done by the excursion steamers during the season, showing a decided falling off when compared with previous years. A resolution was passed to the effect that, taking into consideration the unfavorable weather, the depressing effect upon the public of the Slocum disaster, and the fire of last winter, the showing was highly satisfactory.

THIS IS THE SEASON OF THE

Elegantly Picturesque in Millinery

The large picture hats are pre-eminent for evening as well as day-time wear. Yet so varied are the shapes, that each individual taste is amply met.

The full autumn showing invites you.

The New Color Schemes of the Season

A dozen different whims have given us the beautiful combinations on these hats—indescribably bold and dashing, or faint and alluring.

When Marie Antoinette sat up all night with a gay party of friends to watch the sun rise, it made dawn pink the fashion. It is here in a marabou hat as soft as a cloud.

Because the Princess de Lambelle affected shades of pink, lavender, blue and green, wonderfully blended, this combination has been revived.

A certain shade of pale blue is much in vogue, as it matched Marie Antoinette's eyes.

But, besides these, there is the whole gamut of vivid flame colors, ranging from the volcanic yellow of flamme du Fujiyama down to dull, smoulding red.

There Are Also New Shapes

Crowns are high and brims are wide, to go with full skirts and larger sleeves. The hat seen most in Paris at present has a medium high stiff crown, elongated from back to front and slightly sunken at the top. The tall, box-like crown—severe, uncompromising, yet regal—is also a favorite. The trimming is high in front.

A Hint of the Novelties

Trimmings of marabou feathers have taken London, Paris and America by storm.

Taffeta hats are in again, elaborated with every sort of shirring and pleating.

Hand-work plays a larger part in millinery than it has for years. Nodding plumes and softest chiffons with velvets make the richest and most beautiful headgear.

Most of These Hats by Our Own Milliners

Yet they have missed none of the new points brought by cables and letters and models from Paris. It will not be at all strange if you pick up one of them, expecting to see a Paris label inside. We are proud of them all.

Now Ready

I have returned from a week's stay in the Northern markets where I bought the largest and most complete line of up-to-date goods that has ever been brought to this section of the country, consisting of

Diamonds,
Watches,
Fine Jewelry,
Clocks,
Silverware,
HAND
Painted China
Cut Glass

and many other novelties.

These goods are now arriving daily and it will pay you to come and feast your eyes on the many beautiful things now being displayed.

We are headquarters for Wedding Presents.
