We Have

been so busy, even since the holiday rush, haven't had time to write up our appreciation of your very liberal appreciation of our best efforts to give you the largest return for your money; so lets get together.

We Thank You

and wish all patrons, and those who are not, many happy returns during 1905, and trust the delay will not detract any appreciation from our good intentions.

OUR POLICY

is rather inclined to strew flowers among the living, which we have striven to do all through the past year 1904, and are content to leave the verdict in the hands of all careful, considerate consumers who favor us with their patronage. By displaying a reliable attractive line of up-to-date merchandise we have demonstrated beyond question to a larger aggregation than ever before, our ability to sell them 15 to 20 per cent. less than can be had of city houses, and to those who think of the vast differences in expenses, being on an equal footing in purchasing, etc., this fact is plainly evident.

We Now Offer

you a chance at the Odds and Ends and if you get here early enough, there's a very good assortment. —But don't delay—as all winter merchandise, Men's Overcoats, Boys' and Children's Overcoats, Suits, Underwear, Gloves and all winter merchandise will now be cleaned up at our well known cut prices. That are cut prices. A few words to the wise on this score is sufficient.

Local Notes.

Accidents.—Mrs. Eben F. Perkins while going from the porch of L. W. Wickes, Esq., on Water st. Chestertown, fell and broke her arm near the wrist. Dr. W. F. Hines rendered medical assistance.

Announcements.—Mr. and Mrs. John B. Price, of Middletown, Del., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Laura Blackiston to Fred W. Stevens, of Crumpton, to take place at their home on Wed., Jan. 18, 1905. Mr. and Mrs. Price formerly lived near Locust Grove.

Rev. and Mrs. George Q. Bacchus have issued cards to the marriage of their daughter, Clara Greenwood, to George Vernon Earnshaw, in Broadway M. P. Church, Baltimore, on Tuesday, January 24th, at 3 o'clock.

Fine Celery.—Mr. George Z. Roland not only deals in good meat but aims to supply the public with the best of everything. He has contracted with Mr. Nourse, of Pomona, for over a thousand bunches of his extra fine celery and has it fresh every day. It can't be beat. Mr. Roland is now supplied with beef from Mr. J. W. Skirven's yard.

A Rare Shot.—A gentleman in Worton is entitled to the prize for expert shooting, his feat having just come to light. He shot twice and killed a rabbit, partridge and a hawk. He killed the partridge with one barrol and in shooting a rabbit found that a hawk had jumped up and both were killed!

Hot in Collar.—Commissioner Louis C. Ayres got hot in the collar a few days ago sure enough, but not over roads nor over politics. He had lighted a cigar and in some manner sparks ignited his necktie so that when he discovered it the tie was burning quite freely. Mr. Ayres quickly pulled tie and collar off!

New Free Delivery Route—A new free delivery route has been established at Millington. It is known as route No. 3, length of route, 26 miles; population served, 502; number of houses on route, 118. Robert E. Porter has been appointed carrier and Charles J. Porter substitute.

Electric Light.—The town commissioners on last Friday evening granted a franchise to Mr. D. S. Pindell and others for the privilege of erecting the necessary poles, wires, etc., for the installation of electric light service within the town limits. It is stated that Mr. Pindell, who is the owner of several electric light plants in various sections of the country is negotiating for the plant of the Chestertown Electric Light Company, and failing in this deal will erect a new plant of modern improvements and greater capacity.

Bank Officers Elected.—The Stockholders of the Second National Bank of Chestertown, Md., held their annual meeting Jan. 10th for the purpose of electing nine directors to serve for the ensuing year The old board was unanimously re elected composed of the following: Jas. A. Pearce, Hope H. Barroll, H. W. Vickers, W. W. Hubbard, Garrett Foxwell, T. B. Durding, D. T. Hurlock, Adam F. Huey and W B. Copper. The board organized on Wednesday by electing Jas A. Pearce president, Hope H. Barroll vice president, and re-appointing the following officers W. B. Copper Cashier, E F. Perkins teller, H. T. Deaver book-keeper and Miss Palmer Carroll assistant book-keeper.

The directors of this bank at their meeting Wednesday declared a dividend of 3 per cent. (clear of taxes) $1500.00 and carried $2343.00 to the undivided profit account. They then added $13000 to the surplus fund This Bank now has a surplus of $25000.00 (the largest surplus fund ever held by any Kent Co. Bank) and undivided profits of over $2200.00.

A RARE CHANCE.—On the last page of this paper will be found the ad. of Chas. S. Smith offering his stock and fixtures for sale. This gentleman started in the present location 14 years ago with a small room and small stock. In two years he was compelled to make more room; this was the case again in a year and today his store is 22x100 ft. He has accumulated in the short time by constant attention to business a snug little sum of money. He says that his business can be developed and doubled by a firm of young men who are willing to work and do a little branching out. Mr. Smith will sell his stock and fixtures at the right price and we hope some one will get Smith's Corner and make it hum. He authorizes us to say that he stands ready to instruct any purchaser.

Calendars.—G. E. Leary & Son's "Absolute Trust" calendar is a beauty and the Chestertown Bank has another in its autumnal scene. John P. Ahern, of Millington, is sending out a picture which shows a number of Millington boys stealing cider from a neighboring farmer and what happened to them.

Delinquents.—By notice elsewhere in the NEWS Treasurer Hadaway gives warning to all delinquent tax payers. The number of delinquents by districts are: 1st district, 350; 2nd. 196; 3rd, 145; 4th 194; 5th, 308; 6th, 140; 7th, 133.

To Raise More Corn.

Mr. C. Cosley Littig sends an interesting clipping from an Iowa paper, which shows that this country has not reached the end of its resources in the way of producing large crops of corn. The average crop of other countries is from 28 to 30 bushels to the acre, and it is pointed out that the possibilities of this country are even greater. The clipping says:

Iowa farmers laughed at the idea of a man trying to teach them, the best corn growers in the world, anything about the art of raising corn. But they do not laugh now. Instead they flock by the hundreds to hear Professor Holden talk, and they go away and do exactly as he tells them. As a result, in large part, of following his advice, they have raised about one hundred million bushels more corn this year than in any year of this century, and they expect to add another one hundred million bushels to their crop next year.

He told the farmers how to select their seed corn, how to plant and cultivate, and on what sort of ground to plant different sorts of corn and how to handle it under different conditions.

The results are read in the crop reports on Iowa's corn yield this year. The average crop of Iowa corn for 1904 is forty bushels to the acre. For nine years it has been 27½ bushels. This year's crop will aggregate 350,000,000 bushels, about 125,000,000 more than last year's yield. The crop is worth about $80,000,000 more than a year ago, and Professor Holden is universally credited with a third interest in the extra yield.

The counties in which he had made speeches did better than the others. Those in which he had the largest audiences did best of all. There are fields, worked under careful application of his methods, which have produced more than one hundred bushels to the acre. Those with eighty bushels are frequent, and sixty-five bushels is a common yield.

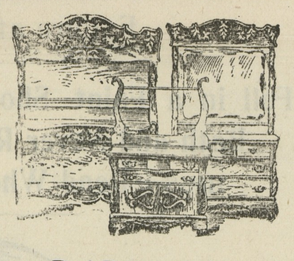

It is estimated that there will be a ten per cent. increase in the corn acreage next season, and the farmers propose to make it average fifty bushels to the acre.
