F. H. HARPER & SON,

ILL POND, MARYLAND

ROCK HALL ITEMS

One of the worst blizzards in many years swooped down on this section on Wednesday and Thursday of last week and struck us all a sola plexus blow sure. Highways and byways were blocked with immense banks of snow, necessitating the formation of shovel squads to open egress and ingress for the necessaries of life. Mail carrier Kelley was knocked out completely from discharging his duties for three days thus causing the suspension of the Rural carriers duties, consequently there was lots of ill humor displayed because of the non receipt of mail, and to make matters worse if possible the harbor and bay was jammed with ice, thus cutting off entire communication from the outside world. Most of our people seemed rather slow in turning out to fight the snow drifts, not until Friday was there much signs of beating down the banks. On Saturday night after a hard day's work, mail carrier Kelley arrived with the county mail and rural carrier Clayton served his route on Sunday morning. Quite a number of our people went to the city on Tuesday returning on Wednesday in the midst of the howling snow storm, most of them had to reach their homes the best they could. Mr. Chas. Brown secured a conveyance from Mr. Benjamin, but he got no further than Mr. Wagner's until the next day so we heard. Mr. S. J. Wickes put his foot in the path and wended his way homeward reaching his store about dark. Mrs. Frank Wilkins succeeded in reaching her sisters, (Mrs. R. S. Crew's) home where she was detained until Friday afternoon when she reached her own home. The Gratitude was compelled to lay here over night returning to the city on Thursday, and there has been no boat here since. Mr. Chas. Jones left here on Tuesday with a passenger for up the county, he was caught by the storm and did not get back home until the last of the week. Messrs. Bob Wickes, Johnny Brice and others were also caught away from home for several days. Mr. J. A. Cacy failed to serve his bakery route from Tuesday to Saturday. Mr. Lou Smith substituted his sister, Miss Agnes, in serving her butter route on time by slinging the basket of butter over his shoulder and surmounting the snow banks on foot and taking cross country cuts. Mr. Ben Coburn also faithfully served his milk route, declaring that "any man undertaking to do a thing and failing to succeed, ought to get down and out and let some one have the job that will prosecute it to a success." On Sunday everybody was getting back to first rate humor only to be struck with consternation on Monday morning when they beheld another big snow, and fearing a repetition of last week's blast, happily however, "He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb," ordered otherwise, and now that we are hearing from beyond our borders we are again looking on the bright side of life.

Services at the M. E. Church on Sunday were largely attended, morning, afternoon and night. Rev. Mr. Burr was at his best. His morning subject was christian holiness, from the text Phil. 3. 14, and the evening subject was human means, as instruments for accomplishing wonderful results from the passage, in John 6: 1-14. Both sermons were most favorably received by closely attentive hearers.

Elder O. O. Farnsworth, president of the Chesapeake conference of the S. D. A. Church, while on a short visit here has been delighting and edifying usually large congregations with his illustrated sermons on the books of Daniel and Revelation.

The young people's society of the S. D. A. Church, are holding a series of temperance services at their Sunday evening meetings with much enthusiasm and profitableness.

The 4th quarterly conference of the M. E. Church will be held in the church here this evening. Presiding elder W. G. Koons will preach tomorrow morning and probably address the Sunday school tomorrow afternoon.

On Tuesday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. George a popular "shut in" couple of South R. H. were tendered a most enjoyable surprise by their neighbors and friends. Music for the occasion was furnished by Capt. Keen and Mr. Wm. R. Larimore. A delightful recitation was given by Miss Tarbell, after which refreshments were served. Among the many present were: Mr and Mrs. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Larrimore, Mr. and Mrs Maslin, Mr. and Mrs. B. Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Leary, Misses Minnie Wickes, Mamie Leary, and the popular school mistress Miss Tarbell, Mrs. Martha Coleman, Mr. S. B. Colyer, and Capt. Keen, another bright spot in life's pathway.

Messrs. L. H. Crocket and Walter Hickey who have been quite ill, are convalescent. Mr. Parks after 8 weeks confinement to his bed is able to sit up but his shattered limbs are yet troublesome, he also suffered with pains in his breast.

Miss Mamie Leary, who has been a sufferer from tonsilitis, is much improved under the skillful attention of Dr. Beale.

Thos. R. Reiche has been caught here by the blizzard, much to his pecuniary disappointment. He is however as usual having a jolly good time.

Mr. H. C. Davis, of the Monumental Theatre Police force, is here on a prolonged visit looking remarkably well. It is said he contemplates retiring from his position at the monumental.

A number of our fishermen walked from Love Point to this place a few days ago and the next morning considerable water was seen along the route they had taken.

Mr. S. J. Wickes is supplying patrons along the F. D. R. with galvanized mail boxes, at a cost of $1.25 each.

Thanks Messrs. Editors for information requested on Tax notices, since then our worthy treasurer, Mr. Hadaway has more fully explained the matter to the satisfaction of the delinquents seen by him.

Another matter is now puzzling the tax payers, viz., what becomes of the fees collected by the magistrates? Some contend they have not been turned into the proper officials inasmuch as nothing is seen or heard of their transfer etc. Doubtless the officials in due time will make report to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Miss Violet Wheat met with quite a painful accident early in the week, by falling and dislocating a bone in her ankle.

The snow blockade gives us one consolation, the ground hog could not emerge from his den on Thursday, as a consequence every one is hopeful that the grip of winter is slacking and soon snow and ice will be things of the past.

At this writing sleighing parties are all the go, banks and turnovers are often met with, but what of that? The pleasure is none the less.

Quite an interesting series of races was witnessed here on Wednesday, culminating in a victory for Mr. John Moffett's splendid goer.

For full seven days our village has been isolated from the rest of world by snow drifts and ice. The last mail received here was Wednesday at 3 o'clock, since that time we have been snow bound and ice locked. All traffic has been suspended by rail and water and travel over the public roads almost impossible. The storm began Tuesday night the 24th with snow and continued during the day following with increasing intensity until general blizzard conditions prevailed. Seventeen inches of snow fell and was tossed hither and thither by a northeast wind and piled in mountainous ranges along every sheltering avenues of public road and railway bed. Men from our village have started out to meet the men from Betterton, so as to open the road from our village to Betterton. Men have been out on horse back trying to brake the track. A party from our village and other places were out to the railroad to see the snow plow. The sight witnessed when the steam plow driven by the impact and force of five locomotives into a bank of snow twenty feet deep, beggars description. The snow finally became packed so solid that on Monday the engines and plow were abandoned and a force of 300 strong put to digging the snow. We are glad to state that it was so on Wednesday we were able to hear the train whistle and see some mail.
