ROCK HALL NOTES.

Rev. G. S. Conway, of Piney Neck, filled the M. E. pulpit here on Sunday morning in the absence of the pastor, Mr. Burr, who occupied the M. P. pulpit for Rev. Mr. Parris, who was attending the Annual M. P. Conference at Salisbury. Mr. Conway's subject was "Spiritual and Heavenly Mindedness," his text being Col. 3: 1-5. The reverend gentleman said, "We asume spiritual and Heavenly mindedness, when we lose sight of earth as an attraction." He offered Paul as an example of a Heavenly minded man, in 2 Co. 12:2. and Phil. 1: 23. The sermon was a glowing one, and well received by a large audience.

A pleasing incident during the Sunday school service was the waiving of nearly 200 handkerchiefs while singing "Thou Kindest Lord of Me." The superintendent of the school has decided to have the lesson reviews conducted by various members of the school in the future. This is a very good move, but, we hope that our most efficient superintendent will not make his own interesting reviews "too few and far between." Capt. J. E. Apsley will conduct the review tomorrow afternoon. He is a close student and having a week's notice he will make his effort worth listening to.

Mr. Herman Jacobs is having a commodious cottage erected in west Rock Hall, and Mr. George Parks has completed his work shop in the same neighborhood, where he will soon be prepared to accommodate all comers in want of new boats and oyster rake shafts.

Mrs. Culley met with a painful accident last week while standing on a chair in reaching something. The chair toppled over, causing her to fall and receive a laceration of a limb. Several stitches was necessary to close the wounds, but she is now O. K.

Young Eisenwine, who was injured last week, we learn is getting along nicely. Amputation of the limb was not necessary. He wants to come home but the hospital authorities think it best for him not to leave just yet.

With an effort full of feebleness the price for oysters reached the 35 cent mark last week. Tongmen are disposed to criticise the buyers for low prices, but such should not be, when we consider the fact that, except in very few cases, our buyers are as fair and honest as can be found on the bay. As a matter of fact the buyers are entitled to the sympathy of the catchers. The buyers are the class of oystermen who ase really "Cassie Chadwicked." The schooner U. S. Grant, well known here, some years ago would land 1100 bushels at 10 cents a bushel. Today the same vessel with no alteration as to capacity cannot land more than 864 bushels and freight is still 10 cents a bushel. Our tongmen give as fair measure as can be had on the bay, but it is not an unusual thing for the buyers to fall short from 18 to 30 bushels each cargo with all the watchfulness they can possibly exercise.

It would seem that a patrol boat is much needed in our harbors, as there is much complaint of thieving from boats at night. Capt. Crochett had a brand new shad net stolen some nights ago and it is still missing.

The recent decision of the P. O. department has caused a number of patrons of the rural routes to procure the authorized mail boxes and the substitution of these makes a decided improvement over the old style and the carriers too are pleased.

April so far has been quite blustery, the oystermen and fishermen are frequently routed from their work. A sudden southerly squall, on Friday of last week made it hazardous for both. Some of our fishermen were caught off Sandy point with their nets in the water, and had great difficulty in securing their traps and reaching their homes, those of the men who were early warned and had everything secure heroically stood by those who were not so fortunate, to render aid if needed, all reached home O. K.

Those of our residents interested in the Prudential Insurance Company are sorry to note frequent changes in district agents. Their beloved Morrison, was transferred, and now friend Gale goes hence.

Not withstanding the serious loss to Sitting Bull Tribe, No. 130, in the person of the late A. W. Cannan, that body is progressing under its watchword, onward; an interesting and pleasing event occured at its last session, Mr. Harry C. Lake, of Leni Lenape Tribe No. 2, of Camden N. J., was presented with a handsome veterans jewell, of course it goes without saying that the presentation address, and reply thereto, was well worthy of both doners and recipient, Mr. Lake has been a member of the Camden body for 23 years.

Mrs. M. Kramer was taken quite ill on Monday evening but is now much improved.

Mr. Fred Williams, who has been very ill is also very much better.

Gus Harding and partner had a very close call on Monday evening during the storm on the bay. Their gilling skift was capsized and they had quite a struggle to right her and reach harbor. Our watermen are prone to take their lives in their hands while following their vocation.

With much sorrow we chronicle the death of Mrs. James Greet which occured on Monday, at her home on Greys Inn, she had been in feeble health for a long time, everything possible by medical experts had been done for her relief, but the grim monster had claimed her and there was no release. Mrs. Greet was 45 years of age, and besides a loving husband she leaves 5 children, to mourn their loss. She was an estimable lady, beloved by all who knew her. She was a constant member of S. D. A. Church. The family have no need to mourn without hope. "I am the resurection and the life, he that beleiveth in me though he were dead, yet shall he live," is a sufficient guarantee for the bereaved family to place their faith upon. The funeral services took place Wednesday afternoon in the S. D. A. Church, conducted by Elder Nicholas Dreer in the presence of a large congregation of relatives and friends. The bearers were, Wm. Greet, Geo. Greet and Urie Greet, R. J. Harrison, Wm. Carter and Edgar Judefind. Casey Bro's were the Undertakers. Interment in Wesleyan Cemetery.

Sudden Death.—George Mitchell, colored, fell dead just as he entered the door of his home on Calvert street, Chestertown, about 11.30 o'clock Monday night. Dr. H. G. Simpers promptly responded but upon his arrival found life extinct. He pronounced the cause heart disease, and Justice T. Waters Russell, acting coroner, decided an inquest unnecessary. George was a great wood cutter.

OBITUARY.

Died April 3rd at his home near Lynch's John W. Copper, 66 years old. The deceased has for many years been an honored member of Lynch M. P. Church and Superintendent of The Sunday School, and his as an exemplary life was acknowledged by all. He was truly a consistent professor, a genuine possessor of the religion of Christ. The death of such a man cannot but be felt a loss, not only to his own family and church but to the community in general. His sickness was borne with patient resignation, and when the end came, he was ready to obey the summons home. May he who doeth all things wisely and well give consolation and comfort to the bereaved family and with a gentle hand wipe away all tears, bind up the wounded hearts and guide them each and all safely to a brighter and better home beyond, where once united with departed loved ones, tears and sorrows can never more be known.

Dear father thou hast left us,
And our loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God that hast bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.

Silent the home and sad the hours
Since our dear father has gone,
But a brighter home than ours
In Heaven is now his own.

Though cast down, we're not forsaken,
Though afflicted, not alone,
Thou didst give, and thou hast taken,
Blessed Lord, "Thy will be done."
