Sheriff's Notice

—TO—

TRADERS and OTHERS

NOTICE is hereby given to all persons and bodies corporate or politic, doing business in Kent county, and requiring a State license, to obtain a license or renew the same on or before.

THE FIRST DAY OF MAY NEXT

A failure on the part of persons now engaged in business to renew their license by the first day of May next will subject them to a fine.

Clerk James T. Dixon will be ready to issue license on or before the first day of May next, at his office in the Court House.

Those interested are notified of the following requirements of license laws.

If applicants' stock in trade does not exceed		$1 000	$12 60
If over $1 000	not over	1 500	15 60
" 1 500	"	2 500	18 60
" 2 500	"	4 000	22 60

Rev. Dr. J. J. Murray.

The Methodist Protestant thus speaks of the late beloved John J. Murray whose death was noted in the KENT NEWS last week:

Heaven is calling the veterans of the Maryland Conference home in quick succession. These honored fathers, who went through experiences in the establishment and history of the church, that their successors can never feel—will soon all be numbered with those who are without fault before the throne of God. It is just now our sad duty to chronicle the death of John Jackson Murray, who died April 11, at his home in Belleveu, Pa., at the advanced age of eighty-one years. He united with the Maryland Annual Conference in 1842, and held many of the most important pastorates in the Conference; was president of the Conference for three years; served a pastorate eight years in the First Church, Pittsburg, and St. John's Independent Methodist Church for eight years more, covering an active itinerant relation of fifty six years. He gave two sons to the ministry, one of whom, Rev. A. D. Murray, died at the early age of twenty-eight years, and Rev. S. R. Murray, D. D., now the pastor of an M. E. Church in Washington, D. C. Another son died some twenty years ago, and the oldest of them all, died about two weeks ago. A wife, a son and two daughters survive him.

Dr. Murray belonged to a small group of men, who, in their day, were the most conspicuous ministers of the Conference, and he was one of the foremost of the group—in scholarship, in preaching ability, and in personal influence. A man of saintly appearance, of commanding presence in the pulpit, of scrupulous conscientiousness in his conduct and character, of chaste and forceful address in the delivery of his sermons, and of singular purity and consistency in his personal life, he well deserved the esteem in which he was held by the Conference and by the church.

He was well known in other communities and never failed to command the interest and respect of all classes among whom he labored in his divine work. His contributions to the church press were frequent, and always of a character to excite the most general interest. He was so well informed in church history, in the discipline and usages of our church and in the polity of other Methodisms, that what he wrote on such subjects came with the force of authority. He was a member of every General Conference from 1858 to 1884, and was president of the body in 1867, when an effort was made to unite with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. He was a conspicuous member of the Conference of 1877, when the Eastern and Western branches of our church were reunited. He was the first to move that the word "white" be stricken from the discipline as removing the long contention between the two branches of the church. He was given the title of Doctor of Divinity by Washington College in Maryland, and graduated as a Doctor of Medicine in Washington University in 1850. He was a fraternal messenger of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1872 and one of the preachers at the Round Lake Camp Meeting, about the same time. He was for many years one of our foremost representatives, in the pulpit, in the Annual and General Conferences, and in the relation of our church to other denominations.

His death put an end to the Murray name on the roll-call of the Conference, a name honored, esteemed, and worthy by the character, the culture and the consistency of four ministers who loved it. But that name will be recalled with affectionate interest every time the dead roll is read. To the surviving family, we tender our sincere Christian sympathy.

THE famous old Pimlico race track will be preserved as a course, much to the satisfaction and joy of hundreds of local lovers of the turf. The property was sold at public auction Tuesday to the Maryland Jockey Club for $70,000, and it is the purpose of the club to continue it as a racecourse and to improve it extensively.
