ROCK HALL NOTES.

Phew, aint it hot? Is it hot enough for you? are words that were nearly worn out in the early part of the week. "O'd Sol" and "General Humidity" had the mercury playing just a little below the hundred mark on Monday and Tuesday, and work for man or beast was a trying ordeal.

The storm of Wednesday of last week gave our fishermen some very unpleasant experiences. The Davis brotners had a close call in trying to reach their vessel after securing nets. G. T. Sewell was compelled to abandon boats and nets and scud for harbor in his pungy. Others took time by the fore lock and made harbor before the worst came on.

Labor-saving machinery and the push and pull of farmers to achieve all possible, with as little expense as possible doesn't always work satisfactorily. We notice a number of our farmers restacking their straw, owing to the bad condition in which it was piled up from the thresher.

Mr. C. H. Smith, we hear, has been released from his engagement in renting the old Miller farm for next year. Some say Charly lost his nerve when taking a prospective view of the days to come, but if he proposes trying city life and toil as we understand he will do, his nerve is O. K. in view of the fact that the majority of country folks after a brief stay in the city are glad to get back into dear old Kent again.

Mr. Samuel Rollison is quite ill with typhoid fever.

Mr. J. A. Smith has about recovered from his illness of last week.

Mr. F. E. Stevens and family had a pleasant trip to Love Point on Sunday in one of our fast gasoline canoes.

Mr. Horsey, the popular commercial traveler, up and down the Peninsula entertained the M. E. Sunday School last Sunday afternoon with an excellent address which was highly appreciated by all present.

Rev. Mr. Burr will occupy the M. E. pulpit in Smyrna tomorrow for Rev. Dr. Watt, who has been absent from his work on account of sickness.

Mr. Joseph Downey is visiting in Havre de Grace the past week.

Bull fighting in the old country was one of the pastimes of John McCloskey, a Russian, who is one of our sturdy watermen. His father, being a farmer, raised bulls for sporting purposes. For the first time, in that line of recreation, he met his match one day this week on the farm of Mr. Stevens, where a bull tackled him and kept him at bay for an hour or more. John's method of conquering bulls was by catching a tail hold and worrying the animal down and then dispatching him. This he failed to accomplish and had to give leg bail, finally succeeding in escaping. Half an hour more of the fight and John would have went down. He said it was a close shave.

There is more or less disappointment among farmers at the price they are receiving for their wheat. Alas! its the same old thing. When the farmers have no wheat prices are soaring, but when they have their crops in the bin prices are way down.

A rain and hail storm on Wednesday afternoon wound up the hot spell. Since then life has been worth living. The hail did no special damage.

MASSEY NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, of Baltimore, are visiting Mr. A. F. Huey.

Mr. R. E. C. Myer is in town with Mr. H. B. Massey & Co., representing the Le Roy plow Co., of N. Y. Mr. Myer says business is good.

Mr. C. S. Hurlock is quite sick at his home near Massey.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Malsberger and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Massey had a delightful sail Thursday from Georgetown to Betterton on their boat Josephine.

I visited the stock farm of S. B. Richardson, near Massey today and was surprised to know there was such "up-to-date" place of the kind so near me. He has 50 box stalls 12x12 and has them nearly all full of thoroughbred horses, arranging in age from 2 to 5 years, and has a half mile track on his farm where he has them in training. Mrs. Richardson is very much interested in the chicken business, she has a nice run of over five hundred fine Plymouth Rock chickens and a fierce looking dog taking care of them. There is a gasoline engine that furnishes the water in several fields for the stock, saws the wood, shells the corn. There is 354 acres in the farm, he has twenty-five acres of the best corn I have seen this season. The cost of running the engine is about 40c per week.

Miss Edith Maslin is visiting in Baltimore.

E. E. LEARY's barge and power boat arrived in Chestertown harbor Thursday with material to build a house for J. W. Boggs, Crumpton, and a barn for Mr. Shannon.

DIED.

WINFRED F. C., the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Drage Kendall, of Piney Neck, died on the 7th of July, age two weeks. Funeral at the home and interment at Cemetery of Wesley Chapel.

Miss Nannie Hoskinson, of Middleburg, Va., and Miss Daysie Felton, of Queen Anne's, are visiting Mrs. J. H. Kuhlman, Chesterville.

Matrimony is in the breezes around Chesterville. On July 4, 1905, Rev. J. H. Kuhlman united in marriage Mr. John W. Blackiston and Miss Annie Hessey, both of Kent county; and on the 12th of July Mr. Samuel Tilden Cooper and Miss Bertha Miller, both of Kent county, were married at the parsonage in Chesterville by Rev. J. H. Kuhlmann. Another couple visited the above parsonage July 19 with serious intentions, and after the arrival of Rev. J. H. Kuhlman from the district conference Mr. William G. Woodall and Miss Elva V. Smith, both of Crumpton, Queen Anne's county, were made one and went away rejoicing.

HORSE NOTES.

AT THE TOLCHESTER TRAINING STABLES ALL IS LIFE.

Schley Russell, Col. Albert Story's fast pacer, who is credited with a quarter in twenty-eight seconds over the Tolchester half-mile track, has been lame for the past week or ten days owing to the pressure of a shoe on a corn in his foot, but under the skillful treatment and shoeing of the well known horseshoer, Mr. Jos Noland, he is back at his speed and reeling off his fast miles as level as a clock.

Tolchester, a promising two year old in Mr. Johnson's string is showing some wonderful bursts of speed and like his ancestors bids fair to make a fast horse.

Easter Lillie another one of the thirteen of Johnson's stable is surprising her most ardent admirers.

Westmorall, the fast show horse of last winter bids fair to do himself greater credit at the Tolchester Fair.

Several others that are doing creditable work are, Walter B, Adlect, Homer and several green ones.

Mr. Pauling, of Philadelphia, the veteran owner and trainer was at Tolchester a few days ago arranging for stable room in the near future for his large string.

Messrs. Edgar Rice and John Moffett have two very promising colts that they are educating up for the fair.

Much interest is being manifested in the great Kent and Queen Anne's county Fair, which bids fair to be full in every department.

Much of the time of Col. S. Harry Todd is taken up sending out fair books.

A SHED was burned at Brice's mill last Thursday. The fire was discovered early by the Messrs. Hendrickson otherwise serious trouble would have followed.

RACE IN RAPIDS.

William J. Glover, Jr., of Baltimore; aged 31, beat Carlisle D. Graham, of Niagara Falls, aged 58 in the race through the lower rapids of the Niagara Gorge Monday afternoon.

The distance of four miles was covered by Glover in 26 minutes. Graham landed 4 minutes later.

The swim was the best event ever seen in the lower rapids and was witnessed by throngs of people, who crowded every vantage point on the cliff tops, who sought foothold at the various scenic stations along the gorge road and who filled many trolley cars and trailers which ran along the tracks of the gorge, keeping opposite the swimmers for the four miles of their battle with the wild waves and uncertain currents.

The day was the hottest Niagara Falls has experienced in years, but the rushing waters of the mysterious river beaten to breaker foam had a tendency to slightly cool the breeze which blew up the gorge.

Glover has a remarkable record of long swims, the most notable of which, perhaps, was his swim from Tolchester to River View on June 25, 1901, a distance of 23 miles. The tide and wind carried him on this occasion three miles out of his course, so that he really swam 26 miles.

Harbor Notes—Mr. Wilbur Eliason, Jr., arrived at Chestertown Thursday in his new launch "Cinderella" whice has been fitted with two gasoline engines and is now calculated to make 14 miles per hour. Capt. King has been placed in command of the natty vessel and will make headquarters at Betterton. A large party of ladies chaperoned by Mrs. Wilbur Eliason enjoyed a short cruise Thursday.

The "Lucy" C. S. Smith's yacht is being gotten ready to sail on a long trip next Thursday. She is being fitted out in fine shape.

The Bessica, of Baltimore, was in harbor this week with Mr. and Mrs. Coale and Miss Bessie Coale.

The Emma A. Ford, Capt. Clark, went to Baltimore Saturday night and was hauled out and cleaned. The steamer arrives here at 7.25 now, whereas before cleaning, she came in forty minutes later.
