WORTON ITEMS.

Death entered the peaceful home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Sheats on Sunday at ten o'clock and claimed for its own their dear little baby daughter, aged just six weeks. This dear little baby sent to earth for so short a time had grown doubly dear to those who watched so faithfully over her on account of the terrible affliction of spinal disease.

Death also claimed the little infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wheat the latter part of last week, aged 3 days.

We are sorry to state that Mr. Guy Turner is quite sick at this writing.

Mrs. G. N. Cooper has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Wm. Wood, of Still Pond, the past week.

Miss Sara E. Janney and Mrs. James Sheats spent Thursday at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Joseph Duyer, of Coleman.

Mrs. Minnie Newsome, of Chestertown, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Sallie Anderson, this week.

Capt. Eliason's Nerve.—Capt. Wm. C. Eliason, president of the Tolchester Steamboat Company, saved one life, some dollars' worth of property, and set an example to the men under him Monday morning on the company's wharf at Light street.

A drove of cattle for Kent county was being put on board the steamer Annapolis, and most of the 28 bovine passengers had safely traversed the gangboard when one tried to climb over the vessel's bulwark instead of traveling the beaten path. He fell between the steamer and the wharf, his head resting on the wide guard of the Annapolis and his hindquarters on the wharf. The animal squealed in right lively fashion and the deck hands began to mobilize for action. Capt. Eliason took command, and made a rush for the animal's tail, which was spread out on the wharf as if nature had intended it for just such a handle. One of the officers held the bull by the horns and the Captain held on by its tail, and after a few directions the deck hands got the animal back to the wharf again.

The College football team went to Westminster yesterday and will play the Western Maryland College team this morning.

The thermometer registered 40° yesterday morning.

Spark's window in red is one of the most attractive displays of new fall millinery in Chestertown. The decorator is quite an artist.

"Come, get your slice of the melon," is the title of Moody & Lusby's new ady. Read it.

A high tide was caused by the storm of Wednesday.

Mr. Jas. A. Russell's davton wagon was completely wrecked in a run-away accident on Monday. Mr. Russell had left his team temporarily unhitched in his stable yard when his horse attempted to enter the stable. The door closing caught the animal in the side and caused it to run-away. The vehicle was upset and dragged against the corner of the stable.

Sheriff Keyser brought his prisoner, Fred. C. Howell, from Harrisburg Wednesday and he will be tried next week on the charge of stealing Mr. Herbert Matthews' team.

Now is the time to feed green bone to your poultry so as to get advantage of high price eggs.

One of Dr. J. H. W. G. Weedon's fine driving horses, in some unknown way, broke his leg and had to be killed.

May Use Dover for Winter Quarters.—It is probable that the circuses of Frank A Robbin's, Welsh Brothers and Sig Sautelle, will make Dover, Del., their winter headquarters. An advance agent has been in that town recently to perfect plans to this effect. Citizens and merchants have expressed their belief that the plan will help the town financially.

Oysters on Crab.—Capt. Walter Elburn, while fishing at "Riverside" on Chester river, caught a crab upon which was growing two small oysters. The oysters were fast on the top shell of the crab and no doubt had been there a day or so. This seems to prove that the oyster with half a chance will increase.

Bedworth, Jr., came in fourth at Hagerstown. West Morrill came in 4, 1 and 2 at Belair.
