HELEN ADAIR'S PARIS LETTER

Luxurious Extravagance and Pretty Quaintness—Silk the Fabric Of the Season—The Woman Of Fashion At Her Best.

In summing up the budget of fashion news I have culled for you from the most bewildering display of exquisite garments Paris modistes have designed for milady's adornment, I have come to the conclusion that if there is any possible device left unemployed to vary the styles, it must figure among the new inventions, for every old time idea is in commission. The splendor of the time when France was at the height of her luxurious extravagance seems to have returned, and for her to whom the ornate and sumptuous styles are unsuited, Dame Fashion has provided ample choice. Pretty quaintness distinguishes many of the gowns, and picturesque old time effects and ball-like airiness suggest the old portraits after which many of these gowns are designed.

And running the gamut from the stately Louis XVI inspiration to the simple Quakerish little frock we find almost invariably employed that beautiful and perfect dress fabric—Silk! Never has it possessed one tithe of its present popularity, and it is a fashion come to stay! This should be a matter of congratulation to the woman of today, for fashion can prescribe no fabric that is so beautiful and at the same time so becoming.

In Lyons, being woven for a New York firm for their silk shop where nothing but silks is to be sold (the only shop in the world, I understand, where silks only are sold) I had a peep at the newest and most exclusive designs. I say new, for the silks of today differ from those worn in former days when the silk frock was in the height of its glory. Then the more it stood out the more elegant it was considered, and the "stand alone" quality of silk was the badge of respectability of its happy possessor.

The silks shown me for the exclusive "Nothing but silks" shop were not woven with a view to their "stand alone" quality, but soft richness and suppleness were the predominating features, while not in the least deficient in "body."

One of these exquisitely soft silks of lovely shimmering texture is shown in the dainty informal reception gown in my illustration, and in both the indoor and visiting frocks the pointed girdle-like effect, draped over a good model of corset, such as the C. P. a la Spirite, exemplifies the woman of fashion at her best—chic and smart. Corsets have assumed a position of paramount importance in miladi's wardrobe, for no woman can expect to present an up-to-date appearance in a carelessly fitted corset. Daintiness, refinement and harmonious colorings are the marked characteristics of the season's fashions.

HELEN ADAIR.

At the evening service at Baker Chapel, Western Maryland College, Hon. J. W. Herring addressed the students on the timely topic, "How Far May a Christian Participate in Party Politics?" He took the position that in a republican form of government parties are a necessity, and that the most imperative duty a man can perform for his country is to deposit his ballot at the annual elections for that party which best reflects his opinions. It is all idle talk, said the venerable Doctor, that a man cannot go into politics without losing his Christianity, and political corruption is due, not so much to bad men being in party politics as good men being out of it. He distinguished between a party man and a partisan, and emphatically declared that no Christian is compromised by being a party man as he defined it. There is no political party that has not a great deal in it that high-minded men would like to have out, but this does not justify a man in deserting his party and trying to defeat it.

Rev. D. L. Greenfield at Christ Church Sunday evening preached a sermon along the same line of thought, viz., that good men should take an active part in politics and elevate the franchise.

THE Commissioners of Easton have placed in the business section of the town a number of garbage receivers, into which all paper and garbage must be deposited, instead of throwing it promiscuously upon the streets. The Commissioners are determined to make Easton a cleaner and more healthy town, for which they deserve the commendation of all well-thinking people. Chestertown would act wisely to follow her example.

Thanksgiving Proclamation Issued.—President Roosevelt Thursday issued his proclamation naming Thursday November 30 next, as a day for Thanksgiving.

WATSON—RASIN.

A marriage of much interest in Kent County which took place on Wednesday evening was that of Miss Florence Price Rasin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gale Rasin, to Mr. Herbert James Watson, of Wilmington, Delaware. The ceremony was performed in the Still Pond Methodist Episcopal Church by the Rev. T. S. Holt pastor of the church. The bride was given away by her father. The church was decorated with chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. The bride was gowned in white messaline trimmed with rose point lace and wore a brooch of pearls and diamond a gift of the groom. The veil was of tulle caught in front with a spray of orange blossoms worn by her mother thirty years ago. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Mrs. George Frity, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She was dressed in chiffon over taffeta and carried lillies of the valley and white roses. The brides maids were Miss Lena Rasin, sister of the bride and Miss Marry Harper, of New York, they wore sun-burst pleated dresses of white lansdowne and carried white chrysanthemums. Mr. Cloyd Dilworth, of Wilmington, was best man. The ushers were Mr. William Anderson, of Wilmington, Mr. Jack Jones, of Philadelphia, Mr. Edward Hepbron and Dr. Lewis Atwell, of Still Pond, they were in full dress and wore white rose buds.

Music was rendered by Miss Anna Neal Dryden, of Baltimore, who sang "O Perfect Love" during the ceremony.

A supper for members of both families and a few intimate friends only followed at the residence of the bride. Here the color scenes of the wedding was carried out in the decorations. Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Fritsy, Mr. and Mrs. Dilworth, Mr. H. Cloyd Dilworth, Mrs. Anderson, Mr. William Anderson, Mrs. Mamie Philipps, of Wilmington, Miss Mary Harper, of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Halton, Mr. Jack Jones, Mrs. Brown, Dr. Wolfer, of Philadelphia, Miss Harper and Mr. Rodenhiser, from Baltimore.

While the guests were being entertained by friends, the bride and groom slipped off with the brides maids and two ushers and drove to Chestertown. The guests were much surprised and a little dissapointed for many tricks had been planned and all arrangements made to accompany the bride and groom to the boat.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson will be at home after December first, Holly Oak, Del.

Engagement Announced.—Dr. B. D. Evans, of Morris Plains, N. J., announces the engagement of his sister, Pauline to Mr. F. G. Collins, of Loon Lake, N. Y.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

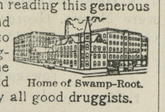

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.
