STILL POND, MARYLAND

ROCK HALL ITEMS.

Rev. G. S. Conoway occupied the M. E. pulpit Sunday morning and evening, preaching good sermons to appreciative congregations. To-morrow (Sunday) Dr. C. A. Grise will do the preaching morning and evening. There is more or less complaining about the new rules for opening the church. The bell rings 30 minutes before service begins, and the doors are not opened till then. As time pieces differ considerably, quite a number of persons are at the church before the doors are open and are compelled to wait outside the gate. Then our faithful sexton comes in for a tongue lashing. This should not be so, as the sexton is not responsible for the new rule.

Two boys with cigarettes, report says, were the cause of a fire in the woods north of this place on Sunday and causing much uneasiness among residents. Luckily, the fire made slow progress and no serious damage was done

The Daughters of America gave an anniversary entertainment in the K. of P. hall on Monday evening. An elegant supper was served, after which addresses, readings, recitations, song, music and dance were the features of the program. A large gathering enjoyed the affair, notwithstanding the failure of prominent members of the order to arrive from the city, owing to the breakdown of the steamer.

Saturday last was an unlucky day for some of the boys of the oyster fleet. One fell headlong into a vessel hold as he was passing oysters. No serious injury resulted, but his face was considerably lacerated. Another fell overboard and received quite a cold bath and scare.

Our oyster runners are still experiencing unprofitable results. Capt. Ben Coleman had a cargo at the head of the basin the other day, and upon request he handed up a sample of his stock, consisting of two lots, one of which consisted of 14 bushels of deep water oysters. He was informed that if the cargo was minus the 14 bushel lot he would be given 70 cents per bushel; as it was 70 cents was all that could be offered, and that he would have to wait several days before unloading. The captain could have sold immediately for 70 cents if he had not shown up the small lot, which were of extremely poor quality; but deeming "truth the imperial virtue," he could not act otherwise than truthful. Therefore, he comes out at the "little end of the horn" again.

Our oyster buyers have it in their power to stamp out the handling of deep water oysters. If the poor condition of these oysters are detrimental to the trade, why not come together and refuse to buy them? The tongmen will catch them, as long as they can sell them. Who can blame them?

In recalling the names of persons (most of whom are of sturdy young manhood) who have left here for other parts and vocations, we were surprised to learn that the number has reached aboye 50 for the past 12 months.

The much blustery weather conditions has made quite a number of our watermen blood-thirsty, as a consequence many porkers have been knifed. This means the shortening of the butcher man's route.

Rural Carrier, Wm. W. Clayton, we understand has purchased the shoe shop recently occupied by the late Thomas Warren and will moye the same to the rear of his meat store for convenience in his trade.

Ramsey's show failed to take place here on Wednesday night, owing to the non arrival of the show people. Great disappointment was manifest among the Odd Fellows and the public at large.

Mr. B. H. Coburn during the past week has been unfortunate in the loss of his fox hunting and driving horses.

Mrs. Coburn returned home on Friday much improved in health.

SASSAFRAS ITEMS.
