Justice Calder's Court.

Justice Calder has had a busy week. Last Friday he heard the suit of R. Groome Parks, Esq., against Mrs. Lydia C. Shaw, for fee for selling property. Mr. Parks was represented by H. W. Vickers, Jr., Esq., and defense by Herbert E. Perkins, Esq. The justice gave a verdict for about $27 for Mr. Parks, and the defendant took an appeal.

The Chestertown Council Jr. O. U. A. M. was defendant in a civil suit before Justice Calder on Monday afternoon. The Eastern Death Benefit Association, which went into the hands of receivers in October, 1904, sued the local council for the regular November assessment. Justice Calder gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff.

A large number of spectators crowded the Justice's room Wednesday night to hear the trial of the damage suit of Charles E. Kirby, through his attorney, R. Groome Parks, Esq., for $99 damages against the town commissioners for killing a dog. The dog had been shot while hunting, and Officer Getchell, finding him suffering and wandering about town, put an end to his misery. The justice gave judgment for the defendant, represented by Marion deK. Smith, Esq.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Thomas Craddock, a beloved citizen of Chestertown, died at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. James T. Dixon, Wednesday morning, aged 88 years. The deceased was born in Cecil county and lived there until about 1886, when he came to Kent county and made his home with his daughter, Mrs. James T. Dixon. He has been an ardent Catholic who loved his religion and church. It was never too early, nor too inclement to keep him at home. He was a lovable character, charitable to ward all and always ready to help the needy. None knew him but to admire him and we shall miss his kindly smile. He was conscious to the last. Fortified and strengthened by the last rites of his holy religion his last moments were as peaceful as the declining day. Funeral services were held yesterday morning at Sacred Heart Church, Rev. J. J. McKenna, pastor; J. N. Dodd, Undertaker. The bearers were Messrs. John Bell, Romie and John McCauley, Sam'l G. Maslin, Harry L. Boyd, Paul A. Massey.

DEATH OF DENNIS J. NOWLAND.

"Another good man gone." Dennis J. Nowland died at his handsome residence near Middletown about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, aged 63 years. Mr. Nowland was one of the best-known farmers in this county some years ago. He was a successful farmer, and leaves quite a valuable estate. He was a son of the late Augustus J. and Mary Sluyter Nowland, and was born on the Nowland homestead on Bohemia Manor. He was a widower, having married Miss Ida Warfield, of Baltimore, who only lived four months after their marriage. He was a gentleman of strong convictions, a model agriculturist and made friends of all whom he came in contact. He was a Democrat of the strongest kind. Mr. Nowland had been indisposed for some time, heart trouble being his ailment, and had decided to give up active farming and move into Middletown and only last Friday bought the house corner of Broad and Lake streets, with that intention.

The funeral services were held Thursday afternon at 2 o'clock, at his late residence near town. Many were present from Middletown and from Kent county, Md., where Mr. Noland lived until recently. The services were in charge of the Rev. Mr. Edson, pastor of Shrewsbury Episcopal Church. Mr. Nowland was one of the vestrymen at Shrewsbury when he lived in Maryland and he never severed his connection with the church. The pall bearers were William A. Comegys, Jefferson B. Ford and D. M. Cochran, of Middletown; Garrett Foxwell, of Kent county, Md.; J. Herman Ireland and Andrew Pennington, of Baltimore. The interment was made in St. Anne's cemetery.

Zebulon, son of Martha C. and the late Geo. Z. Greenwood, died in Baltimore Wednesday, aged 25. The funeral will take place to-day interment at St. Paul's.

McGUGAN WINS SUIT!

Court of Appeals Sustains Judgement of Kent County Circuit Court in Railroad Damage Case.

The appeal of damage suit of Mr. Bernard J. McGugan against the P. W. & B. R. R. Co., for $10,000 for injuries received in December while walking from the South-bound train to the Kent train was decided by the Court of Appeals on Tuesday. Mr. McG. stepped into a drain, fell and broke his leg. Messrs. W. W. Beck and R. D. Hynson represented the plaintiff and Marion deK. Smith the defendant. The jury after being out five hours returned with a verdict of $1200 for Mr. McGugan.

After reviewing the proceedings the Court of Appeals says that the law of the case was properly submitted to the jury by the court, and it was for the jury to determine as to the conflict of evidence that arose. The judgement of the lower court is sustained.

GEMMILL-MOORE

Mr. Joseph B. Gemmill, 514 East Twentieth St., a traveling salesman was married last Wednesday Nov. 29th to Miss Ruth Moore, daughter of Mr. Louis N. Moore, of Clarksville, Tennesee. The bride was attended by her matron of honor, Miss Sexton, of Clarksville, Tenn., and given away by her brother, Mr. Samuel Moore. The ceremony took place at Nashville, Mr. and Mrs. Gemmill took a trip south where they will reside. The groom is a son of Mr. F. B. Gemmill, formerly of Kent county.

N. C. Crow has on hand some Duffy's sweet apple cider. He also will be supplied with a fresh line of candies, nuts, fruits and toys.

Next week the Rock Hall and Still Pond letters together with other interesting items crowded out of this issue by auditor's report, &c., will be published.

CHURCH TIDINGS.

The Christian Workers Song Service was lead Sunday evening by Mr. J. Frank Wheatley. His theme was "The Triumphant Entry of Christ into Jerusalem." Papers were read by Messrs. J. Waters Russell, W. W. Hubbard and Miss Addie Hurlock.

Bishop Coleman, of Delaware, will lecture in Emmanuel Church Parish Building, Chestertown, on Wednesday, Dec. 13th, at 8 o'clock, on "Egypt and the Holy Land." The Bishop is well-known in Chestertown and his talk will be a rare treat.

Rev. S. S. Hepbron, well-known in Kent, and a native of this county, but for some years has been rector of the Church of St. James the Less at Ashland, Va., has resigned that charge to accept the rectorship of the Protestant Episcopal Churches at Church Hill and Sudlersville in Queen Anne's county, in the Diocese of Easton. Mr. Hepbron is a brother of Mr. Edward W. Hepbron, of this county.

Kennedyville M. P. Church, Rev. R. S. Rowe, pastor. Public worship with preaching Sunday, December 10th, at 10.30 a. m., and 7 p. m. Text for morning: "He thanked God and took courage." Text for evening: "Behold, God is mine helper."

A day of unusual interest is promised at Christ Methodist Protestant Church. The pastor will preach a special sermon on the "Uses of Prosperity" at 10 30 a. m. Sunday School at 2.30, and the Christian Workers' Song Service at 6.45. At the evening service an address will be made by Mrs. Badars, a native of Bethlehem, in Judea, and principal of a school and orphanage in Beyreuth, Syria. She will also speak in the Sabbath School,

Many residents of Chestertown will remember Harry H. Brooks who published "Tramp Texas Typho's Troubles," in this town during the blizzard of 1899. Mr. Brooks came to our office as a crippled trawp printer. He had not seen nor heard from his relatives for seven years, and it was largely through the efforts of the editors that he returned to his Texas home in 1899. Since which time he has been ordained a preacher of the gospel and has led a useful life. He is now editing the News, Burleson, Texas.

The Rev. John M. Arters, pastor of Madeley M. E. Church in South Wilmington, is coming into prominence as an able young minister. Though one of the youngest preachers in the city his church has come to the front with over 150 conversions in a short time and interest in the meetings continue.—Morning News.

Rev. James L. Nichols will be stationed at Hicory, S. C., with five appointments. Mr. Nichols was at one time the pastor of the M. P. Church, at Dover. He was compelled to go south for Mrs. Nichols' health, which is much improved by the climate.

Dr. H. L. Elderdice, of Westminster, will preach in Christ church on the morning of Dec. 17th, and by special invitation will address the student body of Washington College in the evening.

At a meeting of the officials of Christ Church Monday it was decided to improve the vestibule of the church, repaint the walls where stained by rain, and to make some other changes. A pleasant surprise gift is being arranged by a prominent member and will be presented Christmas.

Owing to the storm last Sunday, the re-opening services of Wesley Chapel will be held next Sunday, the 10 h. Preaching at 10 30 a. m.; Sunday school rally at 2.15 p. m.; preaching 7 p. m. Rev. J. M. Sheridan, of St. James, and Rev. L. F. Warner, of Westminster, will be present. The public invited.

There will be no preaching at St. James or Lynchs church on Sunday. The Pastor will be at Wesley Chapel assisting in the reopening of that church. The Sunday school and Christian Endeavor Services in both churches will be held as usual.

A NOTABLE OCCASION.

The banquet of the Baltimore Alumni Association of Washington College took place last night at the Hotel Rennert, Baltimore. It was an epoch in the history of the venerable institution and showed that the college is growing younger and more progressive every year. The banquet was a very elaborate affair and was served in the perfect style for which the Hotel Rennert is famed. Toasts were responded to by Governor Edwin Warfield, President Ira Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University, ex-Mayor F. C. Latrobe, Dr. James W. Cain, Hon. James A. Pearce, Rev. Dr. J Houston Eccleston and Charles F. Harley, Esq.

Among those present from Kent were Judge James A. Pearce, M. deK. Smith, R. D. Hynson, H. M. Smith, Lewin W. Wickes, Thos. W. Perkins, Geo. Brice, Thomas Massey, Dr. J. W. Cain, Dr. J. R. Barn Burned.—The barn on the McCabe farm, owned by William T. Roe, near Centreville, was destroyed by fire about 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The strong northwest wind, blowing in the opposite direction from the stables, saved that building. The barn contained 1,000 bushels of corn, all of which are fully covered by insurance. The building, which was a very old one, was insured for $100. This fire was plainly seen in Kent and caused much concern to our residents.

More Telephones in Kent.—The Diamond State Telephone Company is making arrangements to connect Worton Station by telephone with the outside world. This progressive telephone company have a plan by which every farm house in Kent county may have telephone service at a reasonable cost. Several farmers near Worton have already decided to adopt the new system and before long it is certain that other farmers will be in a position to talk to their doctor, etc., without leaving their homes.

Runaway.—Rev. W. L. White and Mr. John C. Davis attended revival services at Bond Church Wednesday night and while returning home their horse took fright and runaway. It was while crossing Radcliffe bridge that the big bay horse made the break, and in trying to check him the breeching broke and he was free to do as he pleased. The occupants were thrown out but not injured seriously, carriage badly damaged and harness broken. The horse was caught in Chestertown.

Accidents.—Mrs. Annie Hayes visited Asbury Park during the past summer and while in bathing broke a small bone in her arm. She did not learn this fact until last week. A few weeks after her return from the seashore she complained of a pain in her arm. She consulted two physicians and both treated her for rheumatism. A third one suggested that she try an X-ray which was done and a bone was found broken! Mrs. Hayes has her arm in splints and hopes soon to get over her injury.

Mr. Wm. S. Carroll, the well-known contractor and builder, of Chestertown, is confined to his home, from the effects of a fall last Friday. Mr. Carroll is erecting a large barn on Mr. Eliason's farm tenanted by Mr. Jester, near Lankford, and while at work on the second story of the building he made a mis-step and fell to the ground. When picked up by those who ran to his assistance he was unconscious. He was hurriedly brought to his home and Dr. H. Benge Simmons rendered medical attention. An examination revealed no serious injury other than painful bruises and general shock to the nervous system.
