HICK'S WEATHER FORECASTS FOR DECEMBER.

A reactionary storm period, the first of the month, is central on the 3rd, 4th and 5th. The moon at this period will pass first quarter on the 3rd, and cross the celestial equator on the 5th. The Mercury period, which was central November 26th reaches over into December and blends with the Venus influence during this first storm period.

By the 3rd, falling barometer and change to warmer will be noted in western extremes. Growing cloudiness will result in the same sections, and during the 4th to the 6th, first rain, then sleet and snow wil. visit wide areas of the country as storm conditions pass from west to east across the continent. The combined influences of Mercury and Venus will, in all reasonable probability, result in heavy, wide-spread sleet storms and very low barometer, followed by violent change to blizzards. The crisis of this period will fall on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the 3rd, 4th and 5th, followed by a severe cold wave which will be felt in most parts of the country, lasting until about the 8th.

A regular storm period is central on the 10th, extending from the 8th to the 13th. Every careful student of our forecasts and "Foundation Facts" will remember that our little globe passes a magnetic and metorological crisis annually, from about December 8th to 15th. This is not only on account of the winter solstice perturbation, which extends from the 10th to the 25th of December, but the angle of the Earth's north polar axis to the equator of the Sun is such as to provoke a maximum of electrical and magnetic antagonism at a decided change to warmer, with falling barometer, will be noted in western extremes. These conditions will bring increasing cloudiness, moving eastward, and from the 10th to the 13th severe and general winter storms will pass over the country. These storms will reach their culminating crisis within 48 hours of sunset on the 11th.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 15th, 16th and 17th. Throughout this part of the month there is constant tendency to unsettled and stormy weather. But decided storm conditions, with general rain and snow, will be most natural, on and touching Saturday and Sunday, the 16th and 17th. Correct statistics will show that one of the stormiest periods on the Atlantic Ocean, along the line of travel and traffic from the United States to Europe, lies from the 5th to the 25th of December.

A regular storm period covers the 20th to the 26th. The central day of the December Solstice falls within this period, on the 21st, and the regular Vulcan storm period is central on the 22nd. The moon is in perigee on the 23rd, at new moon on the 25th, and at extreme declination south on the 26th will bring a period of prolonged winter storms. The crisis of this period may be looked for on and touching Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the 23rd, 24th and 25th.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 27th, and 29th. The general cold leading into these days will partially break up, the high barometer will relax into lower pressure, and renewed squalls of rain, snow and wind will visit many sections of the country on the 27th, 28th and 29th. High barometer and much colder whether will close December in most parts of the country.

True Sweets of Happiness.

What is the salt which provides happiness in married life? Certainly it is unfailing courtesy between man and wife.

Marriage is life with the veneer rubbed off. It is the one relationship in the world in which men and women feel that they can dispense with all the amenities of civilization, and in which they have the courage of their rudeness. Human beings have no idea of how they look to others, until they hear the litany of their shortcomings chanted with relentless candor by their husbands or wives.

Other people laugh at your good story. Your wife feels called upon to remind you that she has heard it forty times before, and you are a failure as a raconteur, anyway. Your people praise your youthful vivacity. Your husband feels free to tell you not to make a fool of yourself by acting like a schoolgirl when you look like forty years old. It is on our husbands and wives we flash out all the ill-temper and nerves and irritability we have not dared vent on customers and servants. It is our husbands and wives who tell us the things about ourselves that we don't want to know—that we are trying to blind ourselves to. And yet there are people who speculate about the cause of domestic infelicity.

The freedom to say just what one pleases to husband or wife has broken up more homes than any other cause. Courtesy is the buffer which we interpose between ourselves and the unpleasant facts of life. Nowhere else is it so needed as in matrimony. Nowhere else is it so completely dispensed with, which accounts for the number and violence of the family jars we hear on every side.
