ROCK HALL NOTES.

Not many "I eat no meat" buttons are being worn in these parts.

Mr. John Warner, a prominent waterman, who has been in a precarious state of health for months, died at his home on the Haven on Saturday. He had always been an industrious man and good citizen, well beloved by all who came in contact with him. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Richardson. The P. O. S. of A. camp attended in a body and performed the last rites at the grave. Undertaker Casey was in charge. Interment in Wesleyan cemetery. The bearers were Messrs. Alec Taylor, A. A. Tolson, R. J. Sullivan, W. T. Downey, W. D. Downey and W. J. Davis.

Messrs. T. J. Rich and D. C. Kelley remain unimproved.

Mrs. S. J. Wickes has been ill at her home for the past three weeks with Dr. Selby in attendance.

Mr. E. E. Leary met with a painful accident on Saturday while working the jointing machine at the factory. Having occasion to run a board through the planning device before pointing the board turned and caused his left hand to be caught in the space where the pointing knives work, as a result the index finger was severed below the second knuckle joint, the middle finger was severed above the first knuckle joint and the end of the third finger was lacerated. Drs. Selby and Schwatka rendered surgical attention. Now he has a very unwelcome pet to nurse for some weeks to come.

Some of our icemen have taken advantage of the ice pack from the Susquehanna to harvest a splendid quality of ice. There is much good wood in the ice pack and watermen are endeavoring to secure as much as pssible for home use.

The fishing business so far has proven a failure. Many of the crew have come home from Kent Island and resumed oystering for the present.

The ground hog came, he saw, and scampered, and we are bucked up against six weeks more of winter? Nit. Candlemas Day was too fine for us to place faith in his hogship.

The M. E. Sunday school folks are making preparations for their annual missionary entertainment.

Mr. A. J. Andrews is on the sick list this week.

Rock Hall for the past week has been blocked in with Susquehanna ice. Our oystermen have been unable to follow their occupation. Some who have ice houses have harvested some pretty ice, solid blocks clear as a crystal.

There is quite a good deal of sickness prevailing in our town. Mr. Will Wagner, our blacksmith, has been very sick with pneumonia but is slowly improving.

Mr. Herbert Walmsley has been ill in a hospital in Baltimore since Dec. 14th where he underwent a critical operation but is slowly convalescing. He is unable to leave the hospital.

Miss Ida Willson is quite sick.

Little Frances Coburn is slowly convalescing.

Some of our citizens are talking of joining the union, eat no meat. How about eggs and butter at 40 cents?

Mr. Ben Ashley has bought a tract of land from Judge Sharp, of Baltimore, on Liberty street and is improving same. Ben is a hustler.

MILLINGTON ITEMS.

Last Thursday evening the members of the M. E. Church South were certainly the recipients of a fine treat in the shape of an illustated sermon by Dr. Rood. He has a fine magic lantern and many beautiful slides. He talked Thursday evening on "Japan, China and Missionaries.

GUY BROTHERS MINSTRELS.

This is the oldest minstrel organization before the public today, and Geo. R. Guy, the proprietor and manager, was blackening his face in minstrelsey years before the present managers or performers thought of it, and he isn't one of them has beens, but a comedian up to the minute. The show is as good as any of them and they are patronized by the elite everywhere. This is the 37th season—a record none of the others can show—and to tell the truth this is a minstrel show you take your family to see and not be offended with anything rough. The orchestra is fine, the singing elegant, the dancing great; the acrobats wonderful, the scenery suburb, the costumes pretty, the electrical effects beautiful. Go and see a first-class minstrel show at the Opera House, Chestertown, Tuesday night, Feb. 8th. Prices 75, 50 and 35 cents. Seats now on sale at Stam's Drug Store.

Misrepresentation And An Injusice.

MESSRS. EDITORS KENT NEWS:

There appeared in pubiic print over the name of Mr. Hope H. Barroll a list of bills against Kent county, and in which was that of mine. The manner and way the list was published was a misrepresentation and an injustice to every citizen whose name was mentioned. In justice to myself and Mr. Allie Loud, I think it my duty to give an itemized statement in brief of the bill presented by myself. The following statement will show that I got but very little out of the $999.10, as the most of it went for material, labor, &c. The items in brief are:

Chesapeake Iron Works, freight and interest	$ 91.00
150 barrels cement and interest	240.50
152 barrels cement, int. and hauling	240.50
This cement is in store for use of commissioners
Bert Rawleigh, towing, &c.	22.85
Joe Lewis, Olen Stafford, Julian Brown and Israel Clark, work	46.80
Self, 2½ days laying out wall, team, &c.	8 50
Labor	280.33
Self	168.00

Thus it will be seen that I received but very little from this job,, and when you take into account the fact that I bought cement for $1.60 per barrel, when the standard price, as every one knows, is $2.56. Thus it will be seen that Mr. Allie Loud, in the one item of cement, saved Kent county $253.80, enough to offset every dollar I got from erecting a wall 144 feet long, 9 feet high, 3 feet at its base and 20 feet at finished top, with the exception of $6.43, and part of our time was taken up getting lines and the layout of this road straight, with our county officer, Gilbert Taylor, and some repairs to the bridge below the road. We saw two parties for towing scow, Mr. Duyer and Mr. Rawleigh; Mr. Rawleigh was the cheaper party and we therefore let him tow the scow. I will state in defense of Mr. A. Loud, our fourth district commissioner, that he has tried to keep the road from washing out where the wall was put up by putting a board bulkhead and the putting of bricks along the bank to try to keep the road from washing out, but these cheap make-ups would not answer the purpose, for by the persistent selling of sand by the different owners of the farm where this wall was erected it undermined the road and the tides would wash out the sand under the road bed and the road kept continually caving in, and it was caved in 4 or 5 feet past the wood bulkhead before Mr. A. Loud had this wall erected. There was nothing left for him to do but to either leave a trap to kill somebody or to place a substantial wall to protect the road bed. Now I would like to state in justice to myself that the county commissioners, and especially Mr. A. Loud, that all the business I did with them was on the square, and they were trying to make a good bargain for the people as much so as any individual I ever transacted business with. All of the work I done for them was in competition with other bidders and no favors shown, with the exception of one or two jobs; and in these competitions I saved the county in round numbers in bidding on four bridges over six hundred dollars. These bridges were built of concrete brick and slate and will last a lifetime, with the exception of replacing the board floors. Heretofore most of our bridges have been wooden structures, lasting 5 or 6 years, and having to be replaced again. This work I have done will not have to be done again in 40 or 50 years, and probably longer than that. Now that I have been honest enough to show the people how the money was spent that was accredited to me, will these people who are publishing and showing these accounts please follow suit and let the people know what they make out of the work they do for the county. Let us hear what the work on sinking pipes near the water works cost and what they have to show for it.

Respectfully yours,
WALTER T. PIPPIN.
