FEED FAIRFIELD'S BLOOD TONICS POWDERED OR LIQUID

A SEPARATE PREPARATION FOR HORSE, COW, HOG AND POULTRY

GREATEST KNOWN BLOOD PURIFIERS

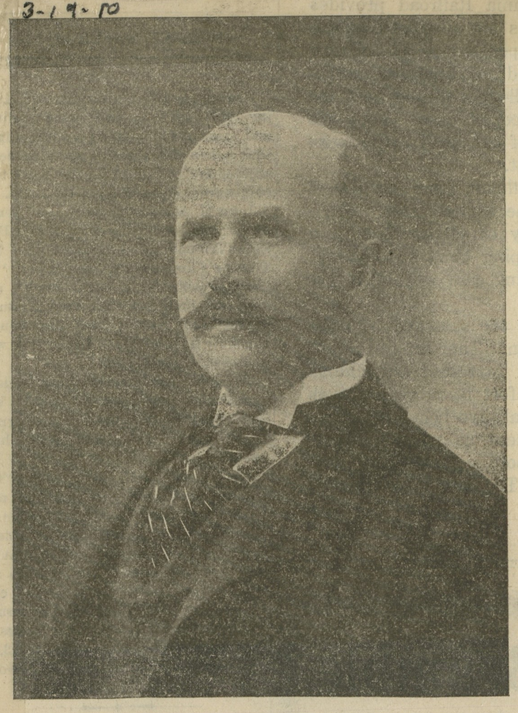

The working capacity of any horse can be practically doubled by feeding FAIRFIELD'S BLOOD TONIC for HORSES regularly. It exterminates worms, builds up the health and saves feed.

The farmer that sowed wheat all over his farm and expected to reap a crop of wheat, oats and corn from same, would be more foolish than the man who feeds his horse, cow, hog and poultry from the same package of Condition Powder and expects to get results. The intelligent farmer feeds FAIRFIELD'S, because there is a separate preparation for each kind of animal.

THE FAIRFIELD PREPARATIONS ARE SOLD UNDER WRITTEN GUARANTEE BY

Marion deKalb Smith

Like a bolt of lightning out of a clear sky came the death of Hon. Marion deKalb Smith at his beautiful home on Washington avenue at midnight Sunday. The deceased attended the funeral of Capt. Daniel Hadaway Sunday afternoon, called on a friend in the evening and came home about 10 o'clock. He and his wife and daughter retired as usual, there being no indication of sickness nor complaint of any kind. Shortly after 12 o'clock he awoke and complained of a pain in his side. Dr. H. B. Simmons was summoned and applied restoratives, but with the exclamation, "Oh, I'm so tired," he passed over the river to the other side. No man touched the community in as many ways, and in every position he was invaluable. A list of his important positions is indeed surprising: Attorney to Pennsylvania Railroad, attorney to Electric Light and Power Co., vice-president and attorney Chestertown Bank of Maryland, member of Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College and secretary to same, trustee of the Chestertown M. E. Church, attorney to Millington Building and Loan Association, attorney to Commissioners of Chestertown, etc.

Hon. Marion deKalb Smith made an enviable reputation in the legal profession and as a public officer and a leading citizen of Chestertown. His chief endeavor has always been to promote the best interests of his constituents, and to faithfully discharge the full measure of his duty toward them. Such purity of motive, devoid of self-aggrandizement, won the approval of the best element of society and few men holding positions of trust and honor was more respected.

The father of the above, James Smith by name, was born in Dorchester county, Md., in 1809 and was a farmer during his active life. He came to Kent county in 1840 and died here in March, 1862. He was a Democrat and made it his boast that he never held office, though various positions were tendered him. A slave-holder and sympathizer with the south, he took no part in the war on either side. He was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church and was a gentleman of the "old school." His only brother, John A., was a civil engineer, and was brought up in the family of his uncle, Judge John A. Smith, of North Carolina. When he had reached man's estate he went to Louisiana from his home in North Carolina, and was engaged in the construction of railroads there during the remainder of his life. In 1845 he died, leaving a family. The only sister, Julia, married a Mr. Carter, a farmer. She died in Caroline county, Md., at the age of eight-four years. The mother of our subject was Anne B., a daugher of Jesse Knock. Before her marriage with James Smith she was the widow of Isaac Hines. She died in 1892 leaving seven children: Jesse K. and John W. Hines, born of the first marriage; and Thomas J., James J., Julia Lucinda, now the wife of John N. Dodd, of Chestertown; Sallie M., wife of Rev. Walter R. Graham, D. D., of Salisbury, Md., and the subject of this sketch.

Marion deKalb Smith was born upon a farm near Kennedyville, Kent County, Md., October 16, 1850, and was but twelve years of age when he lost his father. The family had removed to Chastertown four years before that event and the boy received good school advantages. He graduated from Washington college in 1870, and then took up the study of law with Richard Hynson. At the same time he was deputy clerk of the Circuit Court for Kent County under his half brother, Jesse K. Hines. He was admitted to the bar in April, 1873, and at once started in his professional work in Chestertown. In 1883 he was elected States Attorney, serving for four years very acceptably to all. Again, in 1887, he was elected to this responsible position, and upon the expiration of his second term of four years was honored by being elected Comptroller of the Treasury of Maryland. Again in 1993, he was chosen by the people of this State to fill this important office. In 1895 he was for the third time nominated by acclamation to the Comptrollership of the State by the Democratic State Convention. Though he was defeated in the ensuing election he ran ahead of his ticket by about 2,400 votes.

He has always been an ardent supporter of the Democracy, and besides often having represented his county in state and congressional conventions, was elected delegate-at-large from Maryland to the National Democratic Convention held in Chicago in 1896. From 1879 to 1883 he was a member of the Democratic State Central Committee.

June 5, 1878, Mr. Smith married Miss Addie Burchinal, and two children have been born to them, Marion deKalb, Jr., and Anne Burton. Mrs. Smith is a daughter of the late John H. Burchinal, is a native of Maryland, and was reared to womanhood in Kent county, receiving a fine education. She presides over her happy home with grace and dignity, making sincere friends of all with whom she comes in contact. Both she and her husband are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and are active in every good work.

The grandfather of our subject was an Englishman by birth, and fought in the Revolution in the "Maryland Line." He was killed in the battle at Camden, S. C., the same engagement in which deKalb met his death. His grandfather commanded a company of Maryland militia and was killed at the battle at Bladensburg, near Washington, D. C., in 1814.

The Funeral

The funeral took place Wednesday at the house, Dr. L. E. Barrett, officiating. The home was crowded with a large company who came to pay their respects. Representatives were present from the college, bank, bar and other institutions and walks of life. The government steamer from Annapolis, Commander Howard, brought His Excellency, Gov. Austin L. Crothers, Comptroller Joshua W. Hering, Clerk to Court of Appeals C. C. Magruder, Hon. Harry J. Hopkins, Hon. Thomas A. Smith, Mr. Bryan, of Anne Arundel, Messrs. James S. Harris and Harry C. Willis. Beautiful floral designs covered the casket, among them being offerings from Chestertown Bank, KENT NEWS, Washington College Faculty, Chestertown Bar Association, Chestertown Commissioners and others. The interment took place in Chester Cemetery, Undertaker C. L. Dodd in charge. The bearers were, Alday Clements, Samuel Vannort, Dr. W. Frank Hines, Dr. J. W. Cain, Lewin W. Wickes and Fred. G. Usilton.

T. ROMIE STRONG.

T. Romie Strong died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. O. Selby, near Rock Hall, Wednesday evening, after a long period of ill health. He removed from his fine farm in Piney Neck to Baltimore last year but never became reconciled to city life. When he was taken sick he was removed to the home of his daughter where every attention and comfort was provided.

In one position or another of responsibility and trust Mr. Strong has been a faithful servant. In the fall of 1875 he was elected county commissioner, and officiated in that capacity four terms or eight years. After he had had but two years' rest he was once more brought to the front, this time to serve as register of wills for a period of six years. In 1891 he was honored by being elected to the State Legislature, and when his term had expired was re-elected. He has been more fortunate than most public men in that he has never been defeated, eitheir in nomination or election, which speaks well for his popularity.

T. R. Strong was born July 10, 1841, in the Fifth district and remained under his father's roof until he was about fifteen years of age, when he began clerking in a general store in Chestertown. He was thus occupied during the earlier years of the war, but in 1863 went to Baltimore and obtained employment in a dry-goods house as a clerk. Two years later he engaged in merchandising on his own account, at Edesville, and made quite a success of this venture, selling out to good advantage some four years afterwards. Desiring a permanent home he moved to his beautiful residence and farm, idherited by his wife, to which he has added twenty-four acres, and has made it his dwelling place.

In 1867 Mr. Strong married Charlotte A. Wickes, and they have seven children, viz.: Mrs. W. G. Painter, of Virginia; Dr. J. Page Strong and Mrs. Merritt Brice, of Baltimore; Elwood S., of Queen Anne's; Mrs. W. O. Selby, Edna Earle Strong and William Strong, of Kent county.

The funeral took place yesterday, interment at St. Paul's Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Litsinger officiating. The bearers were: Dr. J. Page, Elwood S. and Wm. R. Strong, Dr. M. Brice, Dr. W. O. Selby and Lewin W. Wickes. Chas. L. Dodd undertaker.
