For Lame Back

An aching back is instantly relieved by an application of Sloan's Liniment.

This liniment takes the place of massage and is better than sticky plasters. It penetrates —without rubbing—through the skin and muscular tissue right to the bone, quickens the blood, relieves congestion, and gives permanent as well as temporary relief.

Here's the Proof.

Mr. JAMES C. LEE, of 1100 9th St., S. E., Washington, D.C., writes: "Thirty years ago I fell from a scaffold and seriously injured my back. I suffered terribly at times; from the small of my back all around my stomach was just as if I had been beaten with a club. I used every plaster I could get with no relief. Sloan's Liniment took the pain right out, and I can now do as much ladder work as any man in the shop, thanks to

Sloan's Liniment

Mr. J. P. EVANS, of Mt. Airy, Ga., says: "After being afflicted for three years with rheumatism, I used Sloan's Liniment, and was cured sound and well, and am glad to say I haven't been troubled with rheumatism since. My leg was badly swollen from my hip to my knee. One-half a bottle took the pain and swelling out."

Sloan's Liniment has no equal as a remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia or any pain or stiffness in the muscles or joints.

CATHOLICS AN EXAMPLE

Dr. Peters On What Protestanis May Learn From Them.

Rev. Dr. Madison C. Peters, of Immanuel Baptist Tabernacle, North avenue and St. Paul street, Baltimore, speaking last week on "What Protestants Should Learn from Catholics," said in substance:

"Catholics teach us the lesson of regular and constant attendance upon public worship. Protestants go when the weather is just to their liking. It is high time that an umbrella was invented that would protect Protestants from the rain on Sunday. Who has not heard early on Sunday mornings the tramp, tramp, tramp of persons, with a hard week's work behind them, and often a hard day's work before them, while we are yet asleep, hastening to the Catholic church with prayer-book in hand? Would to God Protestants were as faithful to their church as Catholics are! If we were we could take America for Christ. The Catholic puts his church first. Seek to employ a Catholic, his first inquiry is whether there is a church handy. There may be Protestants with whom that is the first question, but they are not numerous enough to count for much.

Irreverence In The Church.

"Catholics go to church to worship; Protestants to hear an eloquent preacher. At the appointed hour for service the congregation, instead of being in the seats to join in the devotional part of the service, begins to gather, and by sermon time the supposed worshipers are in their pews. The devotional element in too many of our churches is lost sight of. The sermon is everything. If that is not great, eloquent, magnificent, the pews are empty. The Protestant pulpit has become largely a lecture platform. The irreverence in the average Protestant church is simply shocking. It is often the gathering place of giggling nonentities.

"Catholics seldom ever in their prosperity turn against their church. Would to God our rich Protestants were as faithful! The rich Catholic hesitates not to kneel by the side of the poorest. The only real democracy in the world is a Catholic church in prayer before God. When the doors of our Protestant churches are not only open, but the world outside feels that the rich and poor can meet together without invidious comparisons, the great masses now outside of the church will pour in like the tides of the sea. God never calls an intelligent man to associate with ignorance, or a gentleman to associate with boorishness, or a virtuous man to associate with vice, but if there is one place this side of heaven where men ought to meet on a common level it ought to be in the house of God in common brotherhood prostrated in prayer befor a common Father.

How To Give.

"Protestants should learn from Catholics how to give. Catholics are generally poor. But behold their churches! behold the earnings they lay upon the altar of the church! Too many Protestants never give anything unless they are squeezed so hard they cannot help themselves. When hard times comes they begin retrenchment at the Lord's end of their income.

"Every Catholic is identified with some parish. There are thousands of Protestants in this city whose church membership is in their trunk or in the place where they used to live. When they go to church they go around. They remind me of those matches that strike on their box; when you have a match you haven't the box, and when you have the box you haven't the match. These Protestants who live within the bounds of one church and insist on holding their membership elsewhere, where they can rarely or never attend, and consequently avoid supporting any church—what shall we say of them? One church has the box, the other the match and therefore they won't strike.

Training The Young.

In caring for their children Catholics teach us a lesson. Statistics show that Protestants do not hold their own children to the church. There are 14,000 communicants in the Baptist churches of Maryland and only 9,000 children in the Sunday-schools. The Protestant laity need to be awakened to a deep sense of the magnitude of their duty toward the children. Here is the source of strength in the Catholic Church. The seed of divine truth is planted in the hearts of the children, and if this is faithfully done we have the Divine promise that the seed shall grow up into a godly tree whose branches shall cover the earth and its boughs shelter the fallen race.

"The Catholic Church has been charged with putting too much stress upon good works and not enough upon faith. Protestantism has swung to the other extreme and not put enough stress upon good works. Good works won't save, but faith without works is dead. I have no patience with those higher-life Christians who have not time to do practical good. Our religion is too much talk. We have too many women's meetings and not enough Sisters of Charity. Kindly, generous, loving acts, people believe in that kind of religion. The Catholic charities, covering every conceivable case of need and suffering, put Protestants to shame."

Prices at Retail 10 Years Ago And Now.

Washington, April 10—Frank Tilford, of New York, before the Senate investigating committee, gave these comparative retail prices:

| | 1900. | 1910. |
|---|---|---|
| Eggs | 18c. | 30c. |
| Butter | 10c. | 40c. |
| Lard | 11c. | 23c. |
| Bacon | 15c. | 28c. |
| Rice | 8c. | 10c. |

Mr. Tilford insisted that the tariff caused perceptible increase in prices. Since the tariff was increased on champagne, he said, his firm had been making 50 cents a case, in comparison with $3 or $4 a case ten years ago.
