FASHIONS FOR FUTURE BRIDES

A Stylish Wedding Gown Not Necessarily Expensive—Roses and Lilies—Foulard Coats and Skirts—The Four Ribbed Parasol.

New York, May:—

The bride of moderate means can be quite as prettily dressed as her richer sister if she only understands just what to buy and the sort of styles to choose that will look really smart when copied in comparatively inexpensive materials. Richness of effect but simplicity in design invariably marks the best type of bridal costume. Very charming are the partially made lace robes shown in the shops and many of these are not costly.

Messaline or other soft white clinging silks, lightly trimmed on the bodice with lace or maline, make up prettily in princess or tunic models. Chiffon, draped over an inexpensive silk lining is delightful and so is Brussels net. while for very youthful brides there are frocks of the sheerest swiss or lawn billowy with lace.

THE BRIDAL BOQUET.

The bridal boquet is this year a hugh bunch of white roses, lilies-of-the-valley and ferns tied with a broad white satin ribbon with long streamers.

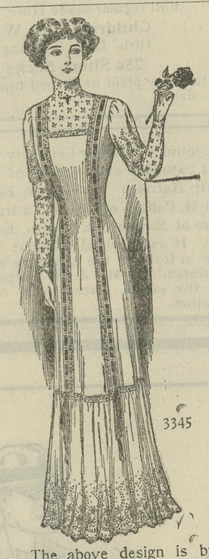

If the wedding gown is made with elbow sleeves as many of them are, the bride always wears long white kid gloves and she may either wear white satin or kid shoes or slippers.

"THE GOING AWAY GOWN."

The backbone of the trousseau is without doubt the tailormade gown. The modern woman could more easily get along without a hat than she could without a frock, or at least, a skirt with coat to match. Some sort of a tailor-made is always chosen for the travelling costume or what most people call "the going away gown." Serge is the favorite material for this purpose. The fashionable tailors are making these suits rather plain, oftenest finished merely by stitching but occasionally there is a touch of braid on the shawl collar, cuffs and pockets.

COAT SUITS OF FOULARD.

Charming tailored trousseau frocks are also made of tussah or pongee or even foulard. A novel costume is of Nattier blue and white foulard, made with a semi-fitted coat and a pleated skirt and peasant waist of the material partially veiled with chiffon. These foulard coat suits are great novelties and though at first glance the material does not seem suited to the purpose when one becomes used to them they are very smart.

The above design is by The McCall Company, New York, Designers and Makers of McCall Patterns.

A YELLOW AND WHITE WEDDING.

Dame Fashion is very kind to the bridesmaids this year for nothing could be more appropriate and becoming for her than the chiffon veiled frocks and big feather or flower trimmed hats now in vogue.

At a recent smart wedding the color scheme was yellow and white and the bridesmaids wore frocks of shining yellow satin almost covered with long draped tunics of white chiffon. The sashes were of the palest shade of primrose yellow and the hats worn were huge Leghorns, faced with black velvet and trimmed in wreath effect with big yellow roses and foliage.

ATTACHABLE MARKINGS.

For the dainty embroidered marking of bridal lingerie and linen one can now obtain at any good embroidery store or the Reis "Stitchon" letters and monograms that are simply stitched on to the garment and look as if embroidered by hand, while for the household linen that most brides collect the Reis "Foundation" letters are especially nice. They come in many forms and sizes, retain their shape in washing, and insure a handsome appearance in the finished work besides saving much time.

BULGARIAN EMBROIDERY.

An entirely new touch is given to some of the new line frocks by trimmings of gay Bulgarian embroidery. For instance a Nattier blue linen was embroidered about the Dutch neck, at the belt and on the cuffs with this coarse looking embroidery in shades of pastel pink, dull yellow and blue. A white frock had touches of bright red, black, blue and green. The smartest of these new linens come in several effects copying the weaves of the woolens—stripe, chevron, basket and mixed effect.

CASTORIA

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

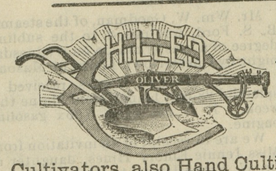

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs.

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.
