FOUND $32,000 IN VAULT.

Poor Maryland Farmer Suddenly Becomes Rich—Money Lay in Bags at The Head and Feet of a Skeleton—None of it of Later Date Than 1821.

Laurel, Del., July 2.—Asbury Hammond, a farmer living near Mount Hermon Methodist Protestant Church, in Wicomico county, Maryland, about 16 miles from here, has suddenly become a rich man and his good fortune has started this entire section to talking and most of Hammond's neighbors to digging.

A few days ago Hammond deposited in a local bank about $17,000 mostly in gold and silver coins. The money looked as bright as if it had just been dropped from a stamping machine in a mint. Some of it was spanish, but the greater portion, it is said, is American money. The latest date stamped on any of the pieces was 1821.

Two days later Hammond astonished the bank officials by depositing another bag with $15,000 of the same kind of money. The nature of the deposit was so unusual that Mr. Hammond was questioned as to how he became the possessor of so much money. His only reply was that it was a secret and that he did not consider that it was anybody's business.

Since then, however, after his best friends had made it plain to him that his reputation was at stake and that some rumors were floating around that he had not obtained the money honestly, Mr. Hammond has consented to talk. About 10 days ago, he says, he was plowing in a sandy hill on his little farm when the plow point struck a hard substance. An examination showed it to be a brick vault.

Mr. Hammond took his horse and plow to the house and returned with an axe and spade. The top of the vault was soon demolished and Mr. Hammond was horrified to find a human skeleton. On recovering his nerve he further examined the tomb, for such it was, and in one corner, at the skeleton's head, he found a musty bag. Another bag lay in the corner at the feet of the skeleton. It was these bags that contained the $32,000.

The Hammond farm has been visited by hundreds of people who have seen the grave, but no one can throw light on the vault and its treasurer.

NEW RULES FOR MOTOR BOATS.

All Classes Of Boats Now Come Under Government Regulations—Small As Well As Large Boats.

At this session of Congress a very stringent Bill was passed regulating the running of motorboats. This law is effective July 9th and all owners of boats must keep the requirements, some of which are as follows:

That motor boats subject to the provisions of this Act shall be divided into classes as follows:

Class one. Less than twenty-six feet in length.

Class two. Twenty-six feet or over and less than forty feet in length.

Class three. Forty feet or over and not more than sixty-five feet in length.

That every motor boat in all weathers from sunset to sunrise shall carry the following lights, and during such time no other lights which may be mistaken for those prescribed shall be exhibited.

Every motor boat of class one shall carry the following lights:

First. A white light aft to show all around the horizon.

Second. A combined lantern in the fore part of the vessel and lower than the white light aft showing the green to starboard and red to port, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on their respective sides.

Every motor boat of classes two and three shall carry the following lights:

First. A bright white light in the fore part of the vessell as near the stem as practicable, so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of twenty points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light ten points on each side of the vessel, namely, from the right ahead to two points abaft the beam on either side.

Every motor boat under the provisions of this Act shall be provided with a whistle or other sound-producing mechanical appliance capable of producing a blast of two seconds or more in duration, and in the case of such boats provided a blast of at least two seconds shall be deemed a prolonged blast within the meaning of the law.

Every motor boat of class two or three shall carry an efficient fog horn.

Every motor boat of class two or three shall be provided with an efficient bell, which shall be not less than eight inches across the mouth on board of vessels of class three.

That every motor boat subject to any or the provisions of this Act, and also all vessels propelled by machinery other than by steam more than sixty-five feet in length shall carry life-preservers, or life belts, or buoyant cushions, or ring buoys or other device, to be prescribed by the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, sufficient to sustain afloat every person on board and so placed as to be readily accessible. All motor boats carrying passengers for hire shall carry one life-preserver of the sort prescribed by the regulations of the board of supervising inspectors for every passenger carried, and no such boat while so carrying passengers for hire shall be operated or navigated except in charge of a person duly licensed for such service by the local board of inspectors.
