Personal * * * * and Social

Dr. Henry B. Martin, who has been quite sick at his home here, is improved at this writing.

The Water Gap Sanitarium had a gala day on August 11th when the 37th birthday of the house was celebrated. The Mountain Echo in speaking of program says: "Then Mrs. L. M. Corey, an aged lady who is now paying her twenty-seventh visit here, arose. She claimed for herself the distinction of being the oldest patient present, and as such advocated the method of gaining and preserving health as advised by Dr. Hurd. As an example of its efficacy she cited her own case—forty years before an almost helpless invalid, now, at an advanced age reasonably hale and strong. Mrs. Corey then gave a bright and amusing account of the life at a sanitarium many years ago and delighted all with the assertion that she had in those days many times danced with Dr. Hurd."

A GREAT INSTITUTE

The Kent County Teacher's Institute held in the High School here this week has been the best yet. The program as published in the News was carried out to the letter. Dr. M. Bates Stephens' address on "Moral Education" was a striking feature of the week while Messrs. Wilcox, Carroll, Little, Rohrer and Melvin were skilled in their particular branches and gave the teachers valuable and wholesome food for thought. Misses Mabel Price, of Sassafras; Clara Bryan, of Millington, and Miriam Leaverton, of Chestertown, had "model" classes of little folks and gave interesting lessons on methods of teaching.

The musical features included solos by Mr. Robert Bramble and Miss Fannie Stuart, instrumental music by Miss Lillian Matthews and Prof. Fred. C. Numbers.

To Prof. Milton is due the credit for the success of the institute and the News joins in congratulations.

GOOD NEWS.

The American Strawboard mill at Chestertown will resume work next Monday, Sept. 12th, after being idle since March 18th. The outlook is said to be favorable to a long run. This mill under Supt. Clay and Sec'y. S. R. Matthews turns out fine paper and is of great benefit to the town. It employs about 60 men all from Chestertown besides mules and wagons.

Thieving.—When the Louise, of the Tolchester Steamboat Company, was ready to leave for Baltimore last Friday James E. Woodall, of Crumpton, asked Joshua Thompson, colored, of Queen Anne's, to hold his team. Woodall then took out his pocketbook to extract some notes, and Thompson, it is said, grabbed a $10 bill and ran aboard the Louise. Detectives Lancaster and Porter, of Baltimore headquarters, were on the boat and got a description of the man. Shortly afterward they saw Thompson leaning over the rail and pointed him out to Mr. Woodall who identified the negro as the note snatcher. Thompson was turned over to the county authorities. He was given a hearing before Justice Crawford and held for court.

James Stanley was sentenced to the House of Correction for six months for carrying concealed weapons and was held for next April term of court on the charge of stealing money from Mr. Wm. McKee at Tolchester.

Henry Brown was arrested for vagrancy and stealing from J. H. Shuster and E. J. Clarke. He was found sleeping in W. A. Bell's straw stacks.

The hotel near Tolchester owned by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Jester was robbed one night last week of $30 in money and a gold bracelet.

College News.—Washington College will open its Fall session next Wednesday, Sept. 14th. The outlook is good for a large attendance. Scholarships to Washington College have been awarded in town to Albert Duyer and Colin Stam.

Mr. Thomas W. Eliason resigned as one of the Board of Visitors and Governors greatly to the regret of patrons. He has given the affairs of the College much careful thought and attention.

The trustees of Bethel A. M. E. Church have purchased a lot from Mr. H. S. Barnett, on College avenue, opposite their parsonage, on which to build their new church.
