Temporary Heat Quickly

Did you ever stop to think of the many ways in which a perfect oil heater is of value? If you want to sleep with your window open in winter, you can get sufficient heat from an oil heater while you undress at night, and then turn it off. Apply a match in the morning, when you get out of bed, and you have heat while you dress.

Those who have to eat an early breakfast before the stove is radiating heat can get immediate warmth from an oil heater, and then turn it off.

The girl who practices on the piano in a cold room in the morning can have warmth from an oil heater while she plays, and then turn it off.

The member of the family who has to walk the floor on a cold winter's night with a restless baby can get temporary heat with an oil heater, and then turn it off. The

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

is invaluable in its capacity of quickly giving heat. Apply a match and it is immediately at work. It will burn for nine hours without refilling. It is safe, smokeless and odorless. It has a damper top and a cool handle. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font.

It has an automatic-locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be cleaned in an instant.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be quickly unscrewed for rewicking. Finished in japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

AS AN ADVERTISER THE "NEWS" WINS

"IN REMEMBRANCE OF ME."

If we would but cross "God's Acre,"
And tarry a brief time there,
Amid the white marble that marks the graves
Of loved ones, now free from care.
We would find that each stone, though different
In splendor and radiance, agree
In the one, brief, thought (though greatest of all)
"In remembrance of me."

"Gone but not forgotten,"
We also frequently see.
How can we forget our loved ones?
No matter where they be.
Perhaps they are resting yonder,
Beyond life's restless sea,
But their foot-prints are here and they seem to say,
"In remembrance of me."

We all aspire to things good and great
But fall in the heat of the day.
The load is so heavy the way rough and steep,
So we stop and forget to pray.
If we only would carry the vision of love
In Christ upon the tree,
We could not faint but do as He wished.
"In remembrance of me."

Let us then fullfill his one request
And as each day presents its care,
May we do each deed our very best
For we have not one moment to spare.
The moments are silver, the hours gold,
And if children of God we would be,
Each act must be good (if His love we would hold)
"In remembrance of me."

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of our dear sister, LILLIE MAY FRANCIS, who departed this life on September 11th, 1909.

Rest dear daughter, thy work is o'er,
Thy willing hands will toil no more,
A faithful daughter, kind and true,
We shall meet but we shall miss her;
We miss thee from thy place;
We miss thee more than heart can tell,
We will ever grieve for thee.
By Mother and Father.

Death has robbed us of our sister,
Who we loved and cherished dear,
It was sister, yes, dear sister,
Can we help but shed a tear?
Yes we miss her, oh we miss her,
When we see her vacant chair,
But how sad the home without her,
For there is no sister there.
Sister Nettie.

Nobly at her post she well,
Our sister so kind and true,
Beloved by all her friends so well,
And kind to all she knew.
A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in her home
That never can be filled.
Sister Isabelle.

When a year ago we gathered,
Joy was in her mild brown eyes;
But the golden chord is broken
And our hope in ruin lies.
The golden gates were open,
A gentle voice said "come,"
And with "goodbyes" spoken
She calmly entered home.
Sister Pansy.

In loving remembrance of J. THOS. KENDALL, who departed this life August 30, 1910. His death brought to an early close a life full of promise and full of worthy aspirations. His youth was spent at school and in his twentieth year, 1906, he was graduated from Washington College, Chestertown, Md. He was a bright and interesting student and won the admiration of the College faculty and of his fellow students. Among the honors he won at school was a medal for excellence in elocution.

After his graduation, being equipped with testimonials of character and ability from the faculty of his Alma Mater and from other prominent educators who knew him, he was at once appointed principal of the public school at Queenstown, Md., in which were enrolled more than one hundred pupils, requiring two assistant teachers. Although he had not attained his twenty first year and had no practical experience as a teacher and disciplinarian he managed the school with marked success and at the close of the first year he was appointed to a better salaried position as principal of the school at Church Hill, Md.

After a year and a half of successful work at Church Hill he was given the principalship of Rock Hall High school in his native county of Kent, but at the close of the school year he resigned on account of declining health.

By doing "what conscience says is right, and what reason says is best" he enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the communities in which he lived.

While courteous and kind to all, he had but few bosom friends, and these he "grappled to his soul with hoops of steel." He was sympathetic and was one of those "Who always cheer the worthy and help them onward to the goal."

He was admired for his mental attainments and capabilities and his innate modesty withal. He possessed an inborn faculty for close observation and analysis and, for one of his years, his mind was well stored with knowledge in detail.

He enjoyed the company of the young but preferred the companionship of those of maturer thought and experience.

After resigning his position as teacher his health rapidly grew worse and soon reached a stage that baffled the skill of his physicians, among whom were some of the most prominent specialists of the State.

When compelled to abandon all hopes of recovery, he submitted with the calmest resignation, and with the patience and fortitude of the Christian, he bore his sufferings to the end.

A FRIEND.

TO SAVE LIFE.

In order to avoid accidents, especially those the result of persons walking along its lines, the P. B. and W. railroad company has placed notices of warning near stations and near crossing along its lines.

These warnings are printed upon linen and are not easily destroyed. The work of putting them out is under the supervision of the publicity office of the company and they are worded as follows:

WARNING.

Do not walk on railroad track.

You invite death when you walk on the railroad. Many persons walk on or across the railroad tracks in a thoughtless manner, giving little heed to the danger they incur of sudden death or serious injury.

Walking on the railroad is dangerous at all times. In emergencies trains are run in reverse directions on double track railroads. In stepping from one track to avoid a train, there is great risk of stepping in front of a train on the other track.

Railroads are not public highways. Bear in mind that railroads are not public highways and should not be used as such. It is unlawful and also cannot be done without serious risk.

Townsend Fire,—On Sunday evening about 5 o'clock the people of Townsend were alarmed by cry of fire and in a few moments teams, automobiles and people afoot were rushing to the scene of the conflagration which was Howard Townsend's barn, straw stacks and outbuildings about a half mile from the town. Water was hauled and carried from the mill pond which is about 100 yards distant and by good work the dwelling house was saved and that was about all. Mr. Townsend had put his horses in the stable and in about five minutes returned with corn for their feed, when he saw fire dropping from the hay loft. He quickly turned out the stock and with help that promptly arrived drove the hogs and chickens to a place of safety. One shoat, however, returned and rushed into the fire and was soon roasted. The loss is estimated about $1500 with about one-half covered by insurance. No person had, to Mr. Townsend's knowledge, been in the barn since morning and no smoking of pipes or cigars was allowed in or near the barn yard and the barn was at least 200 yards from the railroad. Mr. Townsend was in boyhood days a frequent visitor to his uncle John D. Carter, at the Cliffs.
