THE SAD REAPER.

Dr. W. Frank Hines, Emory S. Wroth, Henry S. Barnett and Mrs. James T. DeCorse Among the Dead.

DR. W. FRAEK HINES.

Dr. W. Frank Hines died at his home in Baltimore Monday night of Cirrhosis of the liver. He was taken sick Thursday but nothing serious was noted until Sunday night when he lapsed into unconsciousness. His family were summoned and reached his bedside before the death angel arrived.

The deceased was the second son of the late Jesse K. Hines and was born in Chestertown September 19, 1856. He was educated at Washington College and the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Baltimore. When only 17 he entered the office of Dr. Thomas R. Brown, professor of surgery in the College of Physicians and Surgeons. Dr. Hines graduated in February, 1877, and practised his profession in Chestertown to a successful degree. He established a large clientage and paid special attention to surgery, being well and favorably known by the members of the medical profession throughout the State.

He was a faithful member of the Protestant Episcopal Church and a vestryman of the local Church for many years. He was a member of the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College and before his removal from Chestertown, was a director of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland. He was active in county and State politics and closely associated with the late Messrs. M. deK. Smith and Wm. B. Usilton as leaders of the Democratic party in this county. He was a member of Chester Lodge A. F. & A. M.

Dr. Hines was appointed Superintendent of the Bureau of Immigration, and after serving in that capacity for about a year, was appointed Superintendent of Vital Statistics for the State Board of Health, which office he held at the time of his death.

In 1880 Dr. Hines married Miss Mary, daughter of William Emory, of Queen Anne's who survives with three sons, Dr. Frank B., of Chestertown; Charles G., of St. Louis, Mo.; Massey, of Baltimore; and two daughters, Misses Mary and Jennie Hines, of Baltimore. He is also survived by two brothers (Messrs. Thomas and Isaac M. Hines) and three sisters (Mrs. W. S. Walker, of Aztec, New Mexico; Mrs. Horace M. Beck, of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Richard F. Gundry, of Catonsville).

The funeral took place on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock from the home of Dr. Hines' son, on Queen street; interment in Chester cemetery. A large concourse of persons were present, including representatives of the differeut institutions and offices of wnich he was a part in former years. Rev. S. S. Hepbron officiated. Special music was furnished by Mrs. A. A. Harris, Misses Isabel Beck and Mabel Toulson, Thos. W. Perkins, A. L. Sparks. The active bearers were Dr. W. H. Gundry, Thomas L. Hines, J. Herman Ireland, Dr. C. P. Gilpin, Lewin W. Wickes, W. W. Beck. Services were conducted in Baltimore by Rev. Charles Fiske, of St. Michaels and All Angels' Protestant Episcopal Church. The honorary pall-bearers were Drs. John W. Chambers, Nathan R. Gorter, Wm. H. Welch, W. S. Thayer, Geo. W. Dobbin, Frank D. Sanger, Harvey G. Beck, Thomas S. Cullen, Marshall L. Price, W. W. Requardt, C. Hampton Jones. The floral tributes to the deceased were both numerous and beautiful.

Out of respect for the death of Dr. Hines, Dr. Marshall L. Price, secretary of the State Department of Health, closed the offices of that department on Tuesday. The board will hold a meeting on November 3, when it will appoint a successor to Dr. Hines. The Bureau of Immigration was also closed in respect to his memory.

Chas. L. Dodd, undertaker, had charge of arrangements.

EMORY SUDLER WROTH.

Mr. Emory Sudler Wroth died at his home in Chestertown last Friday, aged 48 years. He had been in failing health for several months and his death was not unexpected. The deceased was for more than thirty years head prescription clerk in the Stam drug store, and by his affable disposition and unfailing courtesy had endeared himself to a wide circle of friends. He was the son of the late Benj. B. Wroth. He leaves a widow, who was before marriage Miss Carrie Caleb, also two brothers and one sister, viz: Thomas G. and Clinton W. Wroth, of Chestertown, and Mrs. Wm. T. Wright, of Baltimore. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America, and about 30 members of the order attended the funeral in a body.

Mr. Wroth was one of the most faithful and conscientious men we have ever known—gentle, courteous and kind and he will be sorely missed in many spheres of life.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon conducted by Rev. F. T. Little and Rev. S. S. Hepbron. The interment was in Chester cemetery. The pall-bearers were Wm. H. Lambert, Jacob F. Thompson, Wm. R. Aldrige, J. D. Bacchus, M. W. Thomas and Donald Stam. Undertaker, C. L. Dodd. Music was furnished by a quartette composed of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. G. Usilton, Miss Eva Hurlock and Webster Hague.

HENRY S. BARNETT.

Mr. Henry S. Barnett, one of Chestertown's most highly esteemed citizens, died at his home on Kent Circle Sunday morning, of Bright's disease, aged 68 years. The deceased moved to Chestertown from Magnolia, Del., in 1882, and engaged in the manufacture of brick, which business he continued successfully until the time of his death devoting his means to improving the town and by erecting pleasant tenement homes. He was a gentleman of splendid character, amiable in disposition and faithful to his family, friends and the community. He is survived by a widow and four children: Vernon, engaged in the brick business; Ralph W.; Harry, of Philadelphia; and Miss Ada, at home. He leaves also a brother, Mr. John G. Barnett, and a sister, Mrs. Sarah Lodge, of Magnolia, Del. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. F. T. Little, D. D., interment in Chester cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. M. A. Toulson, Chas. D. McClary, Wm. A. Wheatley, Wm. Vansant, J. William Kirby and Frank D. Leary. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson.

MRS. GRACE DECORSE.

Leaves have their time to fall,
And flowers to wither at the North wind's breath,
But thou hast all seasons for thine own, Oh Death.

On Friday evening, the fourteenth of October, God took unto Himself the soul of Grace Elliott DeCorse. A shadow of sadness hangs over the community in which she lived, a wide circle of friends mourn her loss and sorrows in sympathy with her bereaved family. Mrs. Decorse was born on the fourteenth of April, 1870, the second daughter of Bradford Camp and Gulielma, his wife. On the fifteenth of April, 1890, she married James Thomas DeCorse, to whom she was a devoted wife to the day of her death.

The deceased was a beautiful christian character from her infancy to the time of passing o'er the dark river; an obedient and tenderly affectionate daughter, a trusted and revered wife and mother, she has left a grief-stricken household, where she will be always missed and her memory always deeply cherished. She was a shining example to those about her, enshrined in their hearts will ever be the purity and goodness of her daily life. A husband and four children, a mother, father and two sisters are left behind.

The funeral services were held on the eighteenth, in Old St. Paul's Church which she so dearly loved, conducted by Rev. R. S. Litsinger in a most impressive and soothing manner. Rev. H. A. Covey offered prayer at the grave. In the shade of beautiful spreading trees, she was laid to rest—

Father, in Thy gracious keeping
Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

The pall bearers were: Walter B. Strong, George Beck, Rev. A. H. Covey, Tylden Brice, Dr. H. L. Dodd and J. Walter Skirven. Undertaker, J. E. Ferguson.

RICHARD S. USILTON

Richard S. Usilton died at his home in Baltimore on Thursday last, aged 73 years. The deceased was a native of Kent and spent his early life here in the butcher business. He leaves two children, one son and a daughter. The body will be brought to Chestertown and funeral today at 12 o'clock. Interment in Chester Cemetery.

Paul Ashton, the 11-months-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Fawcett, near St. Paul's Church, died Sunday October 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Ashley, Rock Hall.
