HOMESICK NAG.

Samuel J. Tilden, Ancient Steed, Returned To Chestertown.

Samuel J. Tilden has gone back home. Pawing and neighing, with a vigorous attempt to look and act like a 2 year-old, the ancient steed, whose winters number 42, left on the steamer B. S. Ford today for Chestertown. Around his neck was a card bearing the address of Joseph Guest, his old master, whom he has served so long and so faithfully.

Around the little space on the boat which had been reserved for the home sick "Sam" a crowd of onlookers paused. Some were residents of his native town. One man said that he couldn't remember the day when old Mr. Guest did not drive Samuel J. around the town.

"Know "Sam"? Well, I guess I do," said the mate of the vessel just before she pulled out. "And I'm mighty glad to carry him back home."

With so many friends it is no wonder Sam expended his failing energies in a rather pathetic attempt to look young and handsome and worthy of the attention he has been receiving.

When Mr. Guest found that it would be necessary to break up his home he made an appeal to the Animal Refuge Association to find a home for his horse As a result the horse was shipped to Mrs. Frank Kinnier who volunteered to keep him for the winter at her stable on Central avenue. Yesterday, however, Mrs. Kinnier received a letter from Mr. Guest in which he said that a friend in his home town had offered to keep Sam for the winter, and that if he was homesick, would she please send him back, Mrs. Kinnier complied, and some time tonight Sam will be warmly enconced in a stall in the stable of one of his old friends, there to spend the rest of the winter. If the fates are kind he may yet end his days on the soil on which he cavorted as a colt.—Evening Sun.
