A HARMONY DINNER!

Here's The List For The Banquet For 1,000 to be Held in Fifth Regiment Armory, January 17th as Furnished by James O'Conor.

Col. William A. Boykin, chairman of the committee, has figured out what he needs for the dinner as follows:

Seven thousand oysters. While six oysters are served to each guest the committee has wisely counted on one oyster in each seven being either too small or otherwise disqualified.

One thousand gallons of soup. This would mean a gallon to each person, but soup shrinks and spills and does other things which diminish its quantity.

Seventy-five gallons of terrapin. This will come from the Chesapeake Bay, the kind cooks regard as works of art.

One thousand five hundred pounds of capon. That means a pound and a half to each man, but capon also shrinks when being prepared and the residue will make an ample portion.

Five hundred canvas back ducks. These are the kind that Maryland "grows," and the cooks will be able to fill them with all the frills.

Forty-five Smithfield hams.

One hundred and fifty dollars' worth of celery.

Seventy-five dollars' worth of lettuce.

Five hundred bottles of champagne.

Three hundred dollars' worth of fancy ices.

Three thousand cigars.

To serve the food properly 60,000 pieces of ware will be used. This will include dishes, knives, forks and spoons, napkins and tablecloths.

It will require $1,000 to fix a kitchen at the armory so that the food can be cooked quite as well as if there were only two guests and a black "mamy" doing the honors over the kitchen range. Steam ovens, gas ranges and other appliances will be installed and there will be plenty to do the work.

Including the "culinary artists," there will be 375 persons employed. These include waiters, oyster shuckers and cooks' assistants.

80 YEARS AGO.

Mrs. Levena L. Smith, of Georgetown, has kindly sent to the NEWS a copy of the Chestertown Telegraph, dated Friday June 25, 1830, and edited by Nathaniel Mitchell. The terms were $2 50 per annum. This paper afterwards became the NEWS. Among the items are:

The Chester Independent Company will parade on the Court House green on Saturday, the 3rd of July, at 8 30 in full uniform, march to the "Associated Methodist Church" where prayer will be offered by Rev. Mr. Handy, and the Declaration of Independence read.

They will again form in afternoon and repair to the Market House for the purpose of drinking toasts, etc. The officers of the Twenty-First Regiment and citizens of Kent are invited.

The National Republican Ticket was: For Sheriff, James Frisby Brown; legislature, Wm. W. Brown, Hugh Wallis, Joseph Moffitt, Bartus Piner.

COCOONS.—We see it stated in an advertisement of Mr. Garache, No. 38, Chestnut street, Philadelphia, that "a fair price will be given for good Cocoons, ot which the moth has been destroyed."

The above intelligence will be interesting to the lady of this county of whom we made mention a few weeks ago as having a large number of cocoons nearly ready for market; and who carried the 450 shown to us to Baltimore, but failed to find a purchaser. Since this failure she determined to reel the silk from the cocoons herself and has, with very little difficulty, succeeded to some extent, on the common reel. She sent us a skein a few days since, prepared by herself, which convinced us that it would indeed be a waste of the public money for Congress to appropriate $40,000 to aid in the acquisition of an art so easily attained, and the principles of which are already understood by every American matron.

The camp meetings advertised for Kent circuit are as follows:

The first Camp Meeting, to be held by the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will be in the woods belonging to Capt. Thomas B. Hynson, near the road leading from Chestertown to Rock Hall, about six miles from the latter place and one mile from the navigable waters of Langford's Bay, to commence on Friday, the 23 of July next.

The second, (which will also be a (Quarterly Meeting) will be held at Georgetown Cross Roads, to commence on the 20th of August next.

The Camp Meeting of the Associated Methodists will take place near Centreville, Queen Anne's county, E. S., Md., to commence on Thursday, July 22nd.

Interesting Case.—A number of farmers and cattle raisers in this county were involved in the case of Klair & Hollingsworth vs. the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which has been tried before the Superior Court in Wilmington. The case has grown out of the condition of certain car loads of cattle shipped by Klair & Hollingsworth from the West to points on the Centreville-Townsend branch of the P. B. & W. Railroad, as it is claimed by the parties to whom the stock was assigned that the cattle were in bad condition upon their arrival at their respective designations, which fact being due to the abuse received during transit.

Franklin L. Smith, agent at Millington, Md., Andrew W. Vansant, Adolphus Davis, William T. Jones and William R. Willson were among the witnesses. The jury on Tuesday returned a verdict of $1,250 for the plaintiff, this to which was added interest for four years at six per cent. amounting to $300, thereby making the total amount awarded the plaintiff, $1,550.

This case, the longest on record in Wilmington court for years, was an action brought to recover $2,079.70 as damages alleged to have been done to four carloads of cattle by the defendant company, while, as a common carrier, in transporting the cattle from Chicago to different points on the Eastern Shore of Maryland in the latter part of 1906.
