Local Notes.

To Rebuild.—Mr. Jacob Allen has plans for a new home to be erected on site of his burned house on High street. Several contractors will submit estimates and work will be commenced as soon as possible.

Lost and Found.—Mr. Joshua Hendrix, of near Chestertown, while in town last week lost $150. His loss gave him considerable worry until a few days afterwards he learned that an honest man had found it. It was returned to him to the cent. Another farmer dropped his pocket book a few months ago containing $100, but afterwards found it. With banks able and willing to care for money there is no need for anyone carrying much money with them. Put your money in bank and use a check book.

Wins $150.00 Scholarship.—Julian Coleman of Chestertown has just received notification that he has won the free scholarship for the state of Maryland for $150 00. This free Scholarship was offered by Rice & Hutchins, makers of the famous Educator shoe, under the name of the Educator Free Scholarship for every state in the Union. Under the terms of the contract it is to be used for any purpose that will advance the education of the winner. Julian is jubilant over his good fortune in winning the big prize, and his father has been named to act as trustee in the expenditure of the money. Julian also won the county prize offered by C. C. Jones "The Shoe Man" for the child getting the most votes in his store. It is naturally a source of gratification that one of our town's young people should have succeeded in winning the Educator Shoe Scholarship for the whole state, we are only too glad to praise the enterprise of Rice & Hutchins in selecting such a fine method of spreading information about the Educator shoe.

Wedding Anniversary.—Mr. and Mrs. William Clark of near Fairlee, celebrated their 16th wedding anniversary at their hospitable home last Friday evening. A characteristic Worton supper was elegantly served consisting of turkey, duck, goose, salads, oysters, roast pig, celery, lemon butter, biscuit, jellies, rolls, etc. The table was decorated in pink and green. The presents included silver, cut glass, table cloths and napkins, bed blankets and robe, wine sets, chinaware, etc. Among those present were the following;

Mr. and Mrs.—
William Keyser, John T. Warfield,
P. V. Hendrickson, Harry Clark,
Lewis C. Ayres, George Faulkner,
Lewin U. Skirven, Samuel P. Gears,
Laurence I. Whaland, Herbert Stokes,
Chas H. Davis, E. T. Gram,

Mesdames—
Amanda Clark, Josephine Dixon,
Walter Stokes,

Misses—
Rosa B. Ayres, Ruth Whaland,
Annie Stokes, Nina Clark,
Alice Warfield, Gladys Gibson,
Edna Gears, Irene Faulkner,
Pearl Gears, Julia Stokes,

Messrs.—
Samuel Elburn, Michel Speck,
William Elburn, Chas B. Lamb,
Samuel Elburn, Jr. Walter Clark,
Wm Stokes, Owen Clark,
Sam Stokes, Granville Davis,
Peter Stokes, George Hudson,
Elwood Gibson, Charles Clark,
James Foreman, Albert Hubbard,
Richard Dicker, Raymond Foreman,
Sam Gears,

A Fine Show.—Stam's Hall was filled Wednesday evening at the White Rose Minstrels and a first-class minstrel program was presented. The performers were all home boys and each one was a star with here and there a brighter one. The circle consisted of John Barnes, Jr., interlocutor; John Nelson, Miller Maslin, Leslie Duyer and Duncan Derringer, end men; Merritt Brown, Julian Carter, Dan Hall, Robert Hendrix, Jewel Armstrong, Laurie Hackett. The soloists were good and the choruses were extra fine. Mr. James L. Bacchus accompanied the singers in his usual skilful manner.

Mr. Joseph N. Wheatley as monologuist, is a second Hugh Dougherty, and kept the audience amused for a half hour. The following little "take-off" on some of Chestertown's citizens was well said in reference to a new fire engine: "I thought it all Wright, so I Rote to a friend, who said the commissioners ought to let the Town-send somebody who New-some thing about French fire engines, and if we only Hadaway of Rasin money or could get somebody to Bacchus, besides France, we could buy an engine with a Copper boiler, shaped like a Barroll and with Carmine colored Sides, and have a fire in it that Elburn and make a Loud noise and throw Sparks and shoot water enough to make tiny Brown Brooks in the streets. We might place it in the Parks on exhibition and wouldn't the fire Crew Crow and Crane their necks at the Little Nichol beauty. Now don't Titter at what I am telling you but think of it seriously."

Mr. Philip G. Wilmer was the able manager of this troupe.

The Kent County Land Co. has paid the holders of preferred stock, the regular semi-annual dividend. This Company is offering an excellent 5 per cent. investment for those having idle funds in hand.

New Firm.—The butchering firm of Hadaway & son, Chestertown, has been dissolved and Messrs. John Hadaway and Ray Startt will continue the business. They are both young men of integrity and industry and should succeed.

Gunning Notes.—The champion hunters of Kent are said to be Messrs. C. H. Shriver and Hynson Beck, of the Sixth district. They have each killed over 40 birds, besides rabbits.

There were eight gunners arrested in Delaware this week for gunning while there was snow on the ground.

Mr. J. B. Hossinger accompanied two of his Chestertown friends on a hunt recently, and killed twice as many rabbits with a stick as they did with fine guns.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

ALEXANDER GRAY.

Mr. Alexander Gray, a well-known citizen of Kent county, dropped dead Friday evening at 5 o'clock while unloading grain from a wagon at the Chestown depot. Mr. James T. Decorse, with whom he lived was with him and held him in his arms as he breathed his last. The deceased was 62 years of age, and was the son of the late John R. Gray. For a number of years he was overseer for Mr H. W. Vickers at Lauretum homestead, but recently he has been making his home with Mr. James T. DeCorse. He taught school at Flatland for 3 years, removed to near Middletown, and then came to Kent and made his home for 17 years with the Lusby boys. He was a member of the M. E. Church and faithful to its teachings. He leaves an estate worth about $4,000.

The remains were taken to the home of Undertaker J. E. Ferguson, from whence funeral services were held Sunday afternoon conducted by Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett. During the services Misses Hallie and Mabel Toulson sang "Abide With Me" and "Nearer My God to Thee," favorite hymns of the deceased during his lifetime. The interment was in Chester cemetery, the pall bearers were James T. DeCorse, Henry S. DeFord, Charles L. Dodd, Raymond and Morris Wilkins and H. W. Vickers, Jr. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson.

His remaining relatives are Mr. Andrew Gray, Mrs. Benj. Wilkins and Mrs. Frank Wilkins.

MRS. MARY E. GILPIN.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Gilpin, 73 years old, who died Friday in the Church Home and Infirmary, took place from the hospital Sunday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. Carroll Harding, chaplain of the institution. The body was brought to Kent county and interred in Galena cemetery.

Mrs. Gilpin had been a patient of the Church Home and Infirmary for several years. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Sutton, of Kent county, and a nephew, Rev. J. Wilson Sutton, assistant rector of Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, New York, and formerly of St. Paul's, of Baltimore. The deceased was the widow of the late William H. Gilpin, and daughter of the late Dr. James and Susie Hieighe.

MR. GEORGE GLEDHILL.

Mr. George Gledhill, formerly of near Chestertown, died last Sunday in Baltimore at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Heidrick, aged about 76. The funeral took place on Wednesday conducted by Rev. Christopher Sparling, pastor of the Chapel of the Advent, interment in Cedar Hill Cemetery. The deceased was a man who lead the simple life—honest, upright and kind. With his gentle wife, Eliza, they lived near Chester bridge and furnished the people of Chestertown with poultry and vegetables of the finest. He was called the "Queen Anne's market." We shall miss his kindly smile and the sweet English tongue.

THOMAS N. FRASIER.

Mr. Thomas N. Frasier, formerly of Kent county, died Tuesday, Dec. 13th, in Berlin, N. J., aged 82 years. The deceased was an architect, Stam's Building being designed by him. He lived near Chestertown some 30 years ago.

JOHN JOHNSTON.

Mr. John Johnston, a well-known and highly respected resident of Sassafras, Md., died at his home on Friday, Dec. 2nd, aged 76 years. He had been in failing health for some years. Services were held on Monday, Dec. 5th, in Rehoboth M. P. Church; interment in adjoining cemetery. Mr. Johnston is survived by a widow, who is 73, and eight children: Mrs. Geo. T. Murray, Sharon Hill, Pa.; Mrs. Thos. L. Stevens, Clayton, Del.; Mrs. Rachel Stradley, Sassafras, Md.; John and Robert, of the Sassafras section; George C., of Galena, Md.; Mrs. Archer W. Biggs, Town Point, Md.; Mrs. Louis P. Atwell, of the Sassafras section; twenty-eight grandchildren and one great-grandson, most of whom followed him to his last resting place.

REV. ALBERT PHETT WALKER.

Rev. Albert Phett Walker, aged 71, died on Sunday, Dec. 4, 1910, at Trinity P. E. Church rectory, Long Green. Interment was in Greenmount Cemetery.

Miss Maggie Blackiston died near town last Friday, aged 38 years.

ROCK HALL NOTES.

The Odd Fellows of Rock Hall will give a mask ball next Wednesday evening in their hall.

Sleighing here continues fine, and the bright moonlight affords much pleasure to many sleighing parties.

Squire F. C. Wilkins is plastering and painting the interior of his new property, on North Main street.

Miller's and Alexander's Christmas openings this week was considered the best ever. The display and prices were exceedingly tempting and caused a number of heads of families to lay aside extra hard cash to meet Xmas purchases.

Mr. J. A. Casey's chief baker has been promoted to proprietor of Mr. Casey's bread business through purchasing the stock. He will bake and sell bread at the old stand Mr. Casey retains control of the store.

The cold weather has severely punished the watermen of this place, but they keep butting into it and work as they have never done before. Nothing but an overpowering wind and ice pack prevents them going to and from the oyster bars or fishing grounds.

Among the splendid young men of Eastern Neck and the Island is one fellow who seems to be looking for trouble—and is likely to find it—unless he becomes more circumspect in his conduct. He is in the habit of using vile epithets to pedestrians as he meets them on the public highway.

Mr. Frank Wilkins was the possessor of a ewe 13 years old that returned for her keep twins for 9 years and triplets for 3 years. Alas, poor old sheep! After all her faithfulness Frank sold her the other day for the paltry sum of $1. If that sheep's ghost ever comes back Frank better be on guard, sure.

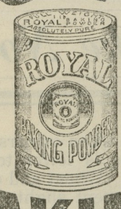

Mr. Wm. T. Harrison had both of his hands frost-bitten on Saturday while oystering. On Wednesday, while his hands were bandaged in turpentine, he attempted to light his pipe, and the bandage of one hand caught fire and in the effort to smother it the other hand followed suit. He and his wife made frantic efforts to smother the flames, and only succeeded by Mr. H. rushing from the house and plunging both arms into a snow bank up to his shoulders. Both hands were badly burned. Dr. Selby was summoned and rendered aid.

The State Secretary of Sunday-school Work was here on Sunday and addressed the Sunday-school workers for the purpose of establishing a District Institute at this place. It was expected that representatives from neighboring Sunday-schools would be present, but they failed to put in an appearance in the afternoon. A small assembly of the M. E. School gave earnest attention to the Secretary's remarks, but no action was taken. At night the State Secretary again gave a concise outline of the proposed work before a large gathering with better results, the particulars of which we cannot vouch for.

Mr. R. A. Shallcross has moved from the Satterfield property to the residence of Mr. R. S. Crew, where he will occupy a portion of the same. Mr. F. A. Greenhawk has moved to the place vacated by Mr. Shallcross. Among other removals in this section will be Mrs. J. H. Kelley from Rock Hall farm to Hill Top. Mr. Simon Moffett from the old V. Burgess farm, down in Eastern Neck, to the Rock Hall farm. Squire F. C. Wilkins from the Wilkins homestead to Denby, where he will conduct a mercantile business. A son of Mr. Carroll Willson will move to the farm vacated by the Squire. Mr. Edwin Boulter moves to the old Quaker Maslin farm vacated by Mr. T. W. Wilkins, who moves to this town. Dr. Schwatka, we understand, will move to the Greenwood property vacated by Mr. Greenhawk, and Mr. Wm. DeFord will occupy Dr. Schwatka's home, adjoining the postoffice. Mr. Damon Rollison has moved to New Jersey, where he will engage in farming.

Grange Meeting.—The Kennedyville Grange held its regular meeting in Weer's Hall, Wednesday, December 14. After the usual business came the election of officers: Mr. Geo. R. Rasin, Master; Mr. Tom Bramble, Overseer; Mr. John Medders, Lecturer; Miss Blanche Redmile, asst. Lecturer; Mrs. G. I. Barwick, Steward; Mr. J. W. Kendall, asst. Steward; Mr. D. T. Nickerson, chaplain; Mrs. Lula Dukes, Treasurer; Mr. W. T. Jones, Gatekeeper; Mrs. George R. Rasin, Ceres; Reading Miss Fannie Bramble. In the near future the Kennedyville Grange purposes having a minstrel show. At the next meeting there will be a feast of good things and a large attendance is expected.

GALENA NOTES.

We had quite a heavy snow here the first of the week and those with fast horses are making good use of it, as many as a dozen sleighs raced through the streets on Tuesday night last. They kept at it for two hours and more. The sleighing through the streets was fine and a beautiful moonlight night, too.

The steamer Susquehanna of the Tolchester line came up to Fredericktown Tuesday eve and went right back to Baltimore again. They were afraid to let her lay over during the night for she might be frozen up for the winter.

Mrs. Mary E. Gilpin, widow of the late Wm. M. Gilpin, was buried here in the M. E. Church yard on Monday, 12 inst. She died in the church home in Baltimore on Friday the 9th inst, aged about 73 years.

We have got a new Mayor, lamp lighter and bailiff for our town in the person of Mr. Frank Lockerman.

They have been fixing up the lock-up making it more comfortable in case they might want to keep prisoners in it this winter.

Mr. Parr is expecting quite a lot of chairs for the hall in the near future.

The ice is about 5 inches thick on the mill pond. Mr. A. W. Woodall and others are filling their ice houses.

Mr. Wm. Steel is spoken of as a candidate for the sheriff's office.

Mr. Jas. Cochran will move on the Spencer farm January 1st, 1911, he with Mr. H. C. Powell will tenant the whole farm; Mr. Merchant on the Hurtt farm intends moving to Millington; Mr. Blanchfield on the Woodall farm intends moving to Cecil county; Mr. George Simpler is going where Mr. Blanchfield is moving from.

BETTERTON NEWS.

Mrs. Hughes has returned to her home in Wilmington after a visit to her sister, Mrs. A. P. Emerson.

Mrs. John Green has returned home after spending several days in Baltimore.

Miss Myrtle Mann has been visiting Chestertown friends during the week.

Miss Carrie Hopkins, of Havre de Grace, is visiting Mrs. E. L. Wilmer, on Bayside.

Mrs. J. H. Gooding entertained the Ladies' Embroidery Club last week.

Little Anna Elizabeth is the name of the new visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Crew.

We are sorry to report the illness of Mr. Wm. H. Crew. Hope he may soon be out again.

Miss Bessie Campbell and Mr. Charles Conwell were quietly married Wednesday and left on a trip to Wilmington and Philadelphia. On their return they will occupy a cottage on Ericsson ave.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Mann made a flying visit to Baltimore this week.

Mr. Floyd Crownhart and Clarence Nichols left Wednesday for Lake Como, Fla., where they will engage in fishing during the winter months.

Coasting on the hills here has been much enjoyed during the week.

Boat service to and from Betterton has been very uncertain this week, there being some ice in the bay.

CHESTERVILLE NOTES.

Sunday School at 10, preaching at 11 o'clock, Epworth League at 7. Trinity Millington, Sunday School at 2, preaching at 3, and at 7.30.

Emmanuel, Chesterville, will have its Xmas entertainment and treat Tuesday December 27th, at 11 a. m.

The ladies of Trinity served lunch and had a Xmas sale in Grange Hall last Friday and Saturday nights. The attendance was good The receipts amounted to over $50. The lunch was equal in quality and quantity to a fine supper.

Rev. T. C. Jones, of Oklahoma City, Okla., will begin a revival meeting in Trinity Sunday afternoon, January 1st.

This part of Kent is having the finest sort of sleighing. Some one said, "The girls and the horses must be getting tired." What about the boys who have been so gallant all these moonlight nights?

Miss Daysie Kelton spent two days at the parsonage last week. Mr. Jonathan Jones and Miss Lydia, were callers Wednesday night.

Mrs. D. S. Davis will spend some of the winter with her daughter in Smyrna.

Forced a Sale.—A part of a carload consisting of 32 Navajo horses were sold at public sale here Saturday and brought from $5 to $44 apiece. These horses were a part of a load offered for sale here a month ago and of which Showman Robbins, of Philadelphia, purchased 12 to be used in his Wild West show. The balance of the load were taken in charge by Andrew Vansant, auctioneer of Chesterville, who, according to instructions from the owners, turned the animals out and expected them to get along on straw and pickings. The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals heard of the incident, sent an official from Baltimore to Mr. Vansant, and ordered a change. This hastened the sale and the little horses brought low prices, as stated.

A similar load of horses were sold here a few years ago. One farmer bought a pair, and in breaking them to a harrow they ran away. One reared and caught its head in the crotch of a tree and died, while the other plunged over an embankment and broke its neck. Since this occurrence these bronchos bring but very little in Kent.

STILL POND ITEMS.

Miss Laura Norris has returned to her home after spending several weeks in Wilmington and Philadelphia.

Mr. Howard Dodd of Chestertown spent Sunday in our town.

Miss Ella Fowler of Worton visited Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thompson on Monday.

Misses Marion and Hope Hackett and little sister, Edna, have returned home after a pleasant visit with their sister, Mrs. S. L. Coleman, Baltimore.

Mr. Claude Hackett of U. S. Army stationed at Fort Warren, Boston, is spending several days at the home of his father Mr. Willis K. Hackett.

Mrs. Harry Watkins of Rock Hall visited her father Mr. Wm. Capps the past week.

Mrs. John Parrott and Mrs. Lavina Harper spent Tuesday in Baltimore.

Mrs. Budd Potts, of Queen Anne's, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Harding near here during the week.

A valuable driving horse belonging to Mr. John Jarvis suddenly dropped dead while racing here on Tuesday.

Miss Cora Harding and little niece Mary Schofield are spending sometime in Baltimore.

Mrs. George Bacon and Mr. Arthur Bacon visited Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wood the past week.

The Epworth League will be led Sunday evening by Mrs. J. B. Parrott. Subject, From the Watch Tower. All welcome.

THE talk of the the town are the mendless hose of Vansant & Newsome, six pairs for $1 and guaranteed for six months.
