EXPLOSION AT RIDGELY.

Ridgely Md., Feb. 6.—Two trustees of the Church of the Brethren started out with a lantern last night to find out why gas lamps did not burn. The explosion shook the town and was felt six miles away or so, reports from Hillsboro and Denton declare.

The trustees were H. R. Holsinger and O. P. McPherson. Gas is supplied the church from an acetylene plant about 30 feet away. The lights did not burn properly and the pair went to investigate. As the door of the building was opened the explosion came, the lantern having caused it. Mr. Holsinger was blown in the air and the fall made him unconscious for a time. His hair is nearly all gone and he is suffering from severe bruises. Mr. McPherson, who is 70 years old, lost his chin whiskers and his hair, but otherwise he is all right.

Every building in Ridgely was shaken and a large number of windows broken. Large congregations were attending the church and they poured into the streets to find out the trouble. For some time it was a mystery to many and there was a lot of excitement.

"EXPERIENCE" OR SOPHISTRY —WHICH?

EXPERIENCE in banking, like experience in every other branch of human activity, is a most valuable asset, to be sure. And no acquirement is so varied, nor more delusive. One man's experience differeth from that of another even as the temperament, habits, environs, capabilities and other attributes of men differ.

AND again, one of the chief values of experience lies in its adaptability and in the manner of its application. To always blindly follow the beaten paths would effectually estop progress, close every avenue to discovery and attainment, and end in corrosion.

THEN too, "experience" is ofttimes made the cloak under which sophists and demagogues operate. It enables the demagogue, whether he be in politics or banking, to hoodwink and deceive the inexperienced and unsuspecting; but to the more thoughtful and discerning, the sham and hypocrisy of the pretender is generally made manifest in the voluble though ambiguous sophistry in which he clothes his public utterances.

FOR instance: In banking, the experienced sophist or demagogue would be prompted to exploit in a most misleading manner the short-comings or misfortunes of one or two concerns, and, by insidious implications endeavor to discredit another institution which in his vaunting greediness he looks upon as an opposing candidate for public favor, or business rival. And, while vociferously proclaiming the "lamp of experience" to be his only guide, he would, in the same breath, arrogantly boast that for five years he had blazed the way without the aid of that same magic lamp of experience, along untried paths of progress where others dared not tread. Apparently blind to his own brazen inconsistencies.

VERILY, experience does teach. And nothing more forcibly than the hypocrisy and untrustworthiness of the sophist and demagogue.

THE history of banking does not show a single instance where any legitimate bank has failed because it paid its depositors too high rate of interest on their deposits. The failures have been invariably attributable to mismanagement in other directions. It is a well known fact that the Galena Bank, referred to in another advertisement as of "mournful memory" did not fail because of the rate of interest paid, but was forced to suspend because the affairs of the parent institution in Baltimore was mismanaged and absorbed the funds of the Galena branch. On the other hand some of the most successful and flourishing banking institutions have been those that have paid and are still paying the highest rates of interest.

IN adopting the policy of paying FOUR PER CENT. on Time Deposits, THE PEOPLES BANK has been guided by the experience of others. Not by the pretended experience of the sophist and demagogue, however, but by the actual experience of wise, careful, conservative and successful bankers. We name a few of the many flourishing banks in this section that are today paying four per cent. on deposits.

THE Easton National Bank, the oldest, largest and most prosperous bank on the Eastern Shore, with assets exceeding $1,600,000, nearly equal to the combined assets of all of the Chestertown banks, pays Four per cent. on Time Deposits and compounds the interest four times a year.

And in striking contrast to the Easton National, is one of the smaller banks, The Bank of Ridgely, which is doing a safe business, adding yearly to its surplus account and paying FOUR and ONE-HALF per cent. on Time deposits compounded quarterly.

Then there are others, all safe, sound, prosperous, such as: The Talbot Bank, The Farmers and Merchants, The Peoples of Denton, The Denton National, The Eastern Shore Trust and Banking, and numerous others that could be named—all paying Four per cent.

WHILE, primarily, of course, The Peoples Bank was organzed for the purpose of making money for its stockholders, yet its promoters and directors have ever been imbued with a more liberal consideration of its depositors than that contemplated and imposed by a combination of banking interests working under an agreement the sole purpose of which is to keep down the rate of interest paid to depositors in order to accumulate vast profits, thus inflating $100 stock to $300 value and paying large dividends to the holders of these high valued stocks, but returning as little as possible to the depositors the use of whose money has made the enhanced value of stock and large profits possble.

THE PEOPLES BANK has declined to be a party to any such combination, hence the venomous onslaught of the banking sophist and demagogue.

WHETHER the stockholders can make money or not upon a Four per cent. basis, what the depositors want to know is this: Is their money safe in its keeping? And here is the answer:

THE PEOPLES BANK, has ACTUAL CASH CAPITAL, far greater in proportion to its deposits, than that of any other bank in Chestertown. This means that it has more money of its own in proportion to its liability to its depositors, and hence, is LITERALLY and IN FACT the STRONGEST bank in town.

Furthermore it is subject to all safe-guarding provisions of Maryland's most stringent Banking Law, and under the constant and jealous scrutiny of those who would be quick to detect and glad to proclaim the first indication of weakness or impending disaster.

INVESTIGATE and be CONVINCED and SATISFIED before giving us your deposits. But in any event INVESTIGATE.

IT MEANS ONE-THIRD MORE INCOME FROM YOUR SAVINGS.

LOCAL NOTES

A DELIGHTFUL dance was given at Firemen's Hall, Chestertown, on Thursday evening last by the younger set. Prof. Sadtler, of Baltimore, furnished the music.

A CLASS of Sunday schools boys made over $6 40 for missionary purposes last Monday night by cleaning certain streets of snow in Chesrertown. It was a commendable act.

THE Chestertown Commissioners had before them Monday night Mr. Henry Thomas Shelley of the Federal Engineering and Construction Company, of Philadelphia, asking for a franchise to introduce gas here. It is hoped he will make better progress than others heretofore.

L. K. STAM expects to fly soon having a contract with a Wilmington firm to demonstrate a new type of machine. Capt. Stam is in Virginia this week looking at an engine for flying machines.

H. P. SKIPPER killed ten black head ducks at one shot Monday off his shore! He was so excited at the luck he forgot to fire the other barrel. He bagged seven and the other three drifted over to Capt. Edward Emory's shore where Capt. E. found them!

AN interesting case was heard before Justice Crawford Monday in which Morris Nickerson sued Fred Jarrell for the loss of a cow. It seems that Mr. Jarrell was driving the cow to Betterton and when she became vicious he in order to protect himself, hit her, and she afterwards died. The Justice gave a verdict in favor of the owner of the cow and Mr. Jarrell paid for same.

THE appropriations from Congress include $33,000 for improving harbors at Rock Hall, Queenstown, Claiborne and Cambridge, the Chester, Choptank, Wicomico, Warwick, Pocomoke, Trappe and Manokin rivers, and Tyaskin creek, Maryland.

THE keeper of Crumpton bridge for 1911 will be Mr. Wiltbank, he having been named by the commissioners on Tuesday last.

THE railroad track from Worton running toward Nicholson's Station, instead of being relaid, is likely to be removed. The trolley or automobile is the only hope for fast travel via Fairlee to Tolchester.

CHAP, the son of Mr. Harry C. Willis, of near Fairlee, met with a painful accident Monday while attending to his lambs. While holding a good-size lamb the animal struck him under the chin, causing him to cut his tongue so badly that Dr. Smith had to take several stitches in it.

GEORGE H. MULLIKIN announces the marriage of his daughter, Miss Nettie Hale, to Mr. Preston Jones Shallcross, of Kent county, to take place Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 15th, at 2 o'clock, at Calvary Methodist Protestant Church, Hayden. No cards.

WILLIAM WALRAVEN, while tearing out some English sparrow nests in his barn the other day, found good matches in them. He tore out five nests and found matches in four of them. This may be the cause of many serious blazes which go down in history as "origin unknown" or "believed to have been of incendiary origin."

IN our advertising columns will be found the spring potato announcement of John Kienzle, of Philadelphia. Mr. Kienzle's seed potatoes are well known in this county for their productiveness and quality. His house is thoroughly reliable.

THE Queen Anne's county commissioners have decided to purchase fifty-six mules to be used in public road work this year.

ON Saturday morning an old-fashioned thunder storm visited this section, and on Monday six inches of snow fell!

THE late Samuel Hurlock left no will, his estate therefore being inherited by Mr. Clarence S. Hurlock. The deceased leaves two fine farms of about 400 acres each in Cecil, seven in Kent and one in Queen Anne's, making in all about 3500 acres.

A PRACTICAL ILLUSTRATION of the benefits derived from a well-managed mutual insurance company came under our eye this week. After the sale of the wharf property at Chestertown, the owners, Bacchus & Usilton, applied to the Kent Mutual Fire Insurance Company for the balance due their policy and were surprised to find $43.35 due them and which was promptly paid. Here is how the policy stood :

|---|---|
| 7 years insurance on $1 000 at $7.50..... | $52.50 |
| 5 years insurance on $600 at $6.75..... | 33.75 |
| Totel paid in..... | $86 25 |

Miss Hallie Kelley lead the song service in Christ Church Sunday evening. Miss Hope Sappington's sweet solo was a feature.

Chestertown M. E. Church, Rev. L. E. Barrett, D. D., pastor. All invited.

Shrewsbury Church—Last Sunday, in spite of the bad roads, quite a large congregation was in attendance to hear an address from Rev W. M. M. Thomas, of the Mission in Southern Brazil. For nearly an hour the preacher held the attention of his audience as he related the churches' work in that distant country, describing the customs and manners of the people and telling of the success attending the establishing of a native Brazilian church.

The regular monthly meeting of the Huntley Standard Bearers was held at the home of Miss Lizzie Davis Friday afternoon.

The prospective removal from Denton of Rev. E. P. Roberts, pastor of the M. E. Church, will be generally regretted by the people of the plaee. He is an earnest and able preacher and a most exemplary pastor and citizen. Mrs. Roberts, too, will be greatly missed in church and social circles.—Denton Journal.

ROCK HALL NOTES.

Mrs. Harry Wagner and daughter are spending a few days with friends in Baltimore.

The medicine showmen have been here for a week and are doing a rushing business.

There seems to be considerable complaints of colds, sore throats, etc. among our residents.

Mrs. A. Alexander is under the care of the doctor threatened with pneumonia. She is somewhat better at this writing.

Mrs. Alice Johnson and children, of Baltimore, spent last week with her parents, Postmaster and Mrs. J. W. Downey, at the Chesapeake House.

Mr. W. J. Davis and family have moved from here to near Galena, where Mr. Davis and son Arland will do farm work while the madame will be housekeeper for the employer.

"Uncle Lem" Stevens, the "Grand Old Man," one of our best beloved citizens has gone to that "bourne from whence no traveler ever return," he having died early Monday morning after a long illness.

Lo! the wail of the Shellfish Commission is heard over the lea, crying the natural bars are annually becoming depleted. Bah, that fellow must line up in the forest. He ought to see Capt. Tom Howard before he squeals.

The ground hog? Well, we don't care to say much about him except to say that when "we uns" looked around on Monday morning and found old mother earth wearing a blanket of snow, we voted his hogship a humbug of the deepest dye.

Mr. W. H. Davis, of Baltimore, has been spending a short vacation here among relatives and friends. Henry is not in as good health as he would like to be but he looks the picture of the best of health. The ozone of R. H. will bring him around alright if he stays here a week.

Politics here has got beyond the budding state and is now taking on bloom. "When two or three are gathered together" there will be discussion of the coming campaign. The uppermost subjects of all factions in both parties is the Legislative candidates. Those candidates when they come out will find themselves bucked up against some very pertinent questions and he who answers best will have a walkover.

An enjoyable party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wagner, of Edesville, in honor of their daughter, Miss Helen, on last Friday evening. Music and games were indulged in during the evening. Refreshments were served at 9 o'clock. Among those present were: Misses Jennie Hadaway, Margaret Burgess, Isabel Jacquette, Hannah Jacquette, Julia Atkinson, Irene Fithian, Olive Walbert, Jane Mac. Slagle, Lillian Wheatley, Annie Kerr, Gladys Boyer, Olivia Clayton, Mrs. Pansy Kilbourn, Mrs. Wm. Wagner; Messrs. Wm. Mench, Samuel Wilson, Tylden Wilson, Mills Kilbourne, Martin Wagner, Charles Jones, Burke Wheatley, Wm. Fithian, Marvel Walbert, Chas. Hadaway, Edward Schwatka, Maurice Kerr, Herdman Schwatka.

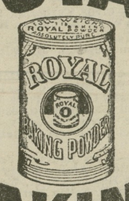

Mr. A. Casey went over to the hospital on Wednesday 1st inst. for further treatment. His case was diagnosed as a strain of the muscle of the stomach, which gave the patient great relief. It was thought by local physicians that the trouble was gastritis or indigestion. This gave Mr. Casey considerable worry owing to his time of life, hence his relief when informed that his trouble was a strain or bruise of the muscle of the stomach. He feels now that by strickly adhering to the advice of the city physicians (four of whom had charge of him) to be cautious of his diet and avoiding heavy lifting for a month or so he will soon be as robust as he was when Dr. Selby a few years ago gave him a clean bill of health in order to "ride the horny goat" of one of the secret orders of this place. Abe says he don't know how many "degrees" he was rushed through while in the hands of the four physicians at the Md. Gen. Hospital but he is extremely glad it is all over with and that he is on the road to "Wellville." He is very grateful to Dr. Long, late of this place who made it possible for him to go through the ordeal so successfully and refused to accept pay for his services.

Grange Notes.—The regular meeting of the Still Pond Grange was held on Thursday at 2 30 p. m. in the Grange room Harpers Hall A. L. Harris and L. W. Ford discussed the question. Is it profitable to continue planting fruit orchards? As Mr. Harris is a fruit farmer he was in favor of orchards. While the risks are very much greater the profits are corresponding large. He has 25,000 fruit trees and will increase his orchard. Mr. Ford thought the trouble and expense of fighting scale, yellow, blight and other pests too great to continue planting orchards but that Keifers were the safest to plant.

Mrs. Price and Moore discussed beautifying the home. Both thought it should be made as attractive as possible. Mrs. Kelley read "Billy" after which the ladies served a collation. If you are interested in the "new woman" keep your eye on Still Pond Grange.
