PLAIN TALK TO PARENTS

"Don't fail to make allowance for slight exaggerations when hearing of pranks in school.

"Do not accuse the teacher of undue favoritism. If she is kinder to one child than to another it's because that one does not take advantage of the liberty allowed him. This is simple justice.

"Do not tell the teacher that Willie will not lie. She may know better.

"Do not condemn the teacher without a fair hearing. This is accorded to even the worst criminal. There are usually two sides to the story.

"Do not send a scathing note to the teacher by Nellie, the contents of which she knows. Her aggressive look of triumph is not soothing and the teacher is only human.

"Do not make unfavorable comment upon the methods of the teacher in the presence of your child. Send him to carry in wood while you are doing so for it must be done

"Do not expect the teacher to understand Jimmie's disposition the first day. You have studied it for six years and there are still kinds in it which you have failed to straighten out.

"Do not plead lack of time to visit the school. There is no excuse for shirking a duty.

"Do not reproach the teacher that Tommy has not learned a single thing the whole year. She is not responsible for his lack of brains.

"Do not forget that the teacher's interest in the child is personal. She will do more to help him than any one except yourself.

"Do not expect the teacher to manage without friction a child whom you yourself have never been able to control.

"Do not insist that the teacher is keeping the child back through spite. She will hardly risk her reputation as instructor to gratify a personal grudge.

"Do not forget that the parents owe a duty to the teacher as surely as the teacher does to the child."

PRIZE WINNERS

The following receipts will be interesting to our lady readers:

First Prize, $5—Stuffed Potatoes.

Select fine potatoes of uniform size. Wash, wipe and bake until they yield to the pressure to thumb and finger. When done cut off the tops with a sharp knife and scoop out the insides with a small spoon. Set aside the skins for future use. With the back of a spoon mash the potatoes smooth: rub into them 2 tablespoonfuls of finely minced onion, a teaspoonful of minced parsley, salt and pepper to taste. When you have worked these ingredients to a smooth mass beat in the stiffened whites of 2 eggs. Fill the empty potato skins with this creamy mixture, heaping in high. Put a dot of butter upon each. Stand the potato cases on end side by side in a baking pan, and set in the oven until the potato protruding from the tops is a delicate brown.

MRS. F. I. MUMFORD,
West River, Md.

Third Prize, $1—Potato Salad.

6 large potatoes.
1 stalk of celery.
1 large head of lettuce.
2 tablespoonfuls chopped parsley.
1 bunch red beets.
1 teaspoonful of salt.
½ teaspoonful white pepper.
Pinch cayenne pepper.
Onion juice.

It is important that the salad be mixed while the potatoes are steaming hot. Salads made from cold left-over potatoes in acidulated water, using 1 tablespoonful of vinegar to 6 potatoes. While they are boiling chop the parsley, wash celery and cut into dice; grate the onion, and wash, drain and look over the lettuce. Measure the salt and pepper. Cut the potatoes into thin slices and mix with the parsley, celery, salt pepper, onion juice. Marinate with French dressing made of equal parts of pure olive oil and wine vinegar. A few minutes before dinner arrange the salad on individual plates, serving a portion on a lettuce leaf. The cold, sliced beets are cut into fancy shapes as a garnish, giving a pretty touch of contrasting color. A spoonful of boiled or mayonnaise dressing on each plate will add additional richness to the salad.

MRS. S. P. SPEERS, JR.,
Earleigh Heights, Md.

Fourth Prize, $1—Mashed Potatoes.

Take ¼ peck of fine quality potatoes, wash and pare very thinly (for the sweetest part of a potato is next the skin). Wash again, put them in the boiling pot and cover with boiling water—20 to 30 minutes will cook them. Take off as soon as they are done, for they will ward put in a colander until the water all runs off. Then put back into the pot or some other warm vessel and mash thoroughly. Add a lump of butter the size of a walnut, salt to taste and enough cream or milk to thin to the proper consistency. Take a spoon and beat them until they are white and foamy-looking. Place in covered vegetable dish. Make a hole in the top of potatoes and put a lump of butter in it. Serve immediately.

MRS. M. K. BORCHERS,
644 Pitcher St., Baltimore, Md.

Saratoga Chips.

Peel and slice very thin 6 large potatoes, lay them in cold water 2 hours, then thoroughly dry them with a clean towel. Drop each slice separately in a kettle of boiling lard; fry until crisp and brown. Take out with wire spoon, drain and sprinkle with salt while hot.

MRS. MARY B. MANN,

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad and loving remembrance of my dear ausband, and our father, DANIEL W. HADAWAY, who died one year ago, March 11, 1910.

Oh, the memory of that morning,
As I stood with aching heart,
Seeing the one I loved so dearly
Pierced by death's most evil dart.

I miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is sad and lonely,
I miss thee everywhere.

WIFE.

He has gone from his dear ones, his children his wife,
Whom he willingly toiled for, and loved as his life,
Oh, God! how mysterious and how strange are Thy ways.
To take from us this loved one in the best of his days.
