LOCAL NOTES

Two weddings of Chestertown parties take place to-day at noon.

MR. L. S. FOWLER, a well-known citizen of Chestertown, lost his pocketbook Wednesday containing over $100 while going to his home from Davis & Satterfield's.

THERE were a few straw hats worn by ladies in Chestertown Sunday. But look out for them to-morrow!

THE Md., Del. & Va. R. R. Co. operate 78 miles of railroad and its steamboat routes aggregate 979 miles. The total income for the year was $862,233, and expenses $777,760.

THE little daughter of Dr. H. C. Breckweidel had a narrow escape in a runaway Tuesday morning. An automobile scared the horse attached to her carriage while in front of Hadaway's store, and breaking away from the Doctor's hold dashed toward the river. Fortunately the team was stopped at the wharf by Architect Penniman.

THE restless son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McMenamin, Waters Russell, interviewed the little son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Ford on Monday, and after repeated futile attempts to get the two-months-old baby to talk, he was told that the baby had no teeth. Waters quickly advised, "Why don't you take him to Dr. Twilley's and he'll give him some teeth!"

JERVIS MAXWELL JEWELL, alias Dr. T. B. Scott, who was rearrested by the Government as he stepped from the penitentiary Sunday after serving a three-vear term for obtaining money by false representations, will be sent to Trenton, N. J., to answer an indictment found against him by the grand jury there on October 1, 1903! The Trenton indictment charges Jewell with obtaining money from a number of persons by representing himself to be a pension officer of the Government.

THE Senior orations at Washington College were heard by a large audience Tuesday morning. The orators were J. L. Madden, R. H. Crew, C. T. Ryan and B. A. Johnson.

THIS neighborhood feels a great loss by the death of Mrs. Joseph Smith, whose funeral was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Robinson, Sunday afternoon, April 2nd. Very many friends and relatives attended the funeral. Interment in Crumpton cemetery. Mrs. Smith lived all of her life in Queen Anne's where she was honored for her Christian example. About nine years ago her only son, Edwin, died of typhoid fever in his early manhood. The mother never quite recovered from the shock and grief of his death. Shortly afterward her health began to fail and she became a sufferer of locomotor ataxia, which trouble caused her death. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, a daughter, Mrs. Robinson; two sisters, Mrs. Keyser, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Edward Coleman, of Millington; two brothers, Messrs. Robert Logan, of Kent county, and Samuel Logan, of Millington.

Statement of "The Observer" in Reference To Its Editorial of October 8th, 1910, Under the Caption of "Where Ignorance Was Not Bliss."

THE CENTREVILLE OBSERVER desires to call attention to an editorial published in its issue of October 8th, 1910, under the caption of "Where Ignorance Was Not Bliss," which editorial referred to a statement made by S. Charles Walls, junior editor of THE OBSERVER, by L. Wethered Barroll, with reference to the removal of a strip of wood from the center of Chester River bridge at Chestertown.

In view of the fact that Mr. Barroll feels that this editorial was an unjust attack upon him and contained language which he believes was a a reflection upon his character for veracity, we desire to state in entire candor that it was not the most remote intention of THE OBSERVER to question Mr. Barroll's veracity in any particular whatsoever, and, if such a construction has been placed upon the language used in this editorial, it is due to an unfortunate use of words, which may have created an impression not intended to be conveyed.

And, we desire further to state, that we regret the publication, in the editorial refered to, of the statement or statements to which Mr. Barroll has objected, and that if Mr. Barroll or his friends feel that he has been injured or unjustly attacked by this editorial, we withdraw the language used therein which may be construed or understood as reflecting upon Mr. Barroll's veracity.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Fine Brick Structures To Be Erected In Chestertown, On High Street By T. S. Bordley and M. A. Toulson.

Mr. M. A. Toulson on Wednesday awarded the contract for his two stores and dwelling to be erected on High St., Chestertown, to Alwyn M. Culp. The bids were Mr. Culp, $9,041; Walter T. Pippin, $9,376.00. The architect, Mr. Leach, of Baltimore, estimated that the building would cost $9,358. A few slight changes will be made in the building so as to reduce the cost a thousand dollars or more.

The building will be of brick, two-story, two stores and dwelling. One store to be occupied by Vansant & Newsome will be 22x30 and the drug store to be 20x60, all glass front and finished up-to-date.

THE contract for building the fine store-house of Mr. Thomas S. Bordley, on the corner of High and Cross streets, has been awarded to Mr. Walter T. Pippin, architect and builder. The building will be of brick, two-story, with a store-room on first floor 20.4x67 feet; three offices on second floor, two of which will be 20.6x19 feet, with entrance from Cross street, and may be rented at once. A unique corner entrance will adorn the building, with 11-foot plate glass on either side. When completed the building will cost about $6500.

Other contracts will be let in a few days.

Mr. Wm. R. Pippin has contracted with Mr. Wm. S. Collins for the erection of eight houses for colored tenants in Santiago, Chestertown.

Lettter of L. Wethered Barroll in Reference to His Published and Circularized Letter of October 11th, 1910, Addressed to W. J. Price, Jr.

William J. Price, Jr.,
Centreville, Maryland.

Dear Sir:

Feeling that I had been unjustly attacked in an editorial which appeared in the columns of THE CENTREVILLE OBSERVER in its isssue of October 8th, 1910, in which I felt that my veracity had been questioned, and while under the influence of that feeling, I wrote a letter in reply to that editorial in which I commented unfavorably upon your character and reputation, which letter was published in the Centreville Record, the Kent News and the Chestertown Transcript, in their issues of October 15th, 1910, and was further circularized by mail throughout several portions of the State of Maryland.

From the statement of the OBSERVER, published in a parallell column with this letter, I feel that I was in error in my interpretation of the language used in the editorial above referred to, and believe that I did you an injustice when I wrote you the letter above mentioned, I now withdraw the several statements contained in my published and circularized letter, and say to you in entire candor that if that letter or any statement therein has in any way affected your character or standing, it is a matter of sincere regret to me.

Short Crop of Cow Peas

PRICES GOING UP

The enormous demand for Cow Peas last year carried the price very high, and as the crop is very short and the acreage is rapidly extending there are many indications which point to much higher prices as the sowing season approaches.

Whip-Poor-Will Cow Peas.

The Whip-Poor-Wills are generally prepared in the Central and Southern States. They are bush form, early maturing and especially desirable for Peas.

New Era Cow Peas.

New Era's are a little earlier and make more vine than the Whip-Poor Wills.

Wonderfuls, Clay and Mixed Cow Peas.

For hay. The Wonderfuls or the Mixed Cow Peas are more productive, they should always be planted with an occasional grain of corn, sorgum Seed, Kaffir Corn, etc., which will prevent the vines from getting damaged by coming in contact with the ground.

Black Cow Peas

Black Cow Peas are a little later in maturing than Clays, they make a good growth of vine, are exceptionally good for medium or poor land and will stand almost any amount of wet weather without injury. We can supply Shinny Peas, Red Rippers, Blackeye Peas and Soja Beans.

Remember Bolgiano's Cow Peas are best—If your local merchant will not supply you with Bolgiano's Cow Peas—Write us direct and we will tell you where you can get them.

FREE—Send us 5c in stamps to pay postage, and mention the name of this paper, and we will send you free a 25¢ package of "My Maryland Tomato Seed, also our 1911 Catalogue of Seeds and our 1911 Poultry Supply Catalogue.

Seed Corn in Demand.—Mr. Josiah Massey, one of the prize corn growers of Queen Anne's, has just received an order from the United States Department of Agriculture for eleven bushels of his prize seed corn. The department pays him $2.50 per bushel. Mr. Massey has sold about one hundred bushels of this corn which is certainly fine looking and should grow a great crop.
