MONDAY'S GAMES

Chestertown at Centreville

Millington at Church Hill

For the second time this season Chestertown High School met defeat at the hands of Church Hill on the latter's grounds last Saturday afternoon by the close score of 10 to 8. Although rain threatened to stop the game in the fourth inning it was played to a finish. Every player seemed to be at his best, but if we should give credit to whom it is due "Hoxsey" Beaumont, Robinson and Wilmer would get their share. In the third inning C. H. S. had a "winning streak" and earned for themselves three runs, Wallis' arm began to weaken in the eighth and the Chestertown lads began hitting the leather sphere hard, not being satisfied until two men had crossed the rubber. Bowers, at second for C. H. A., made several startling plays at that bag. About 200 spectators witnessed the game, quite a crowd being present from Chestertown. The score:

The game scheduled to be played between Barclay and Centreville was postponed on account of wet grounds.

Two hundred thousand churches in this country will observe "Tuberculosis Day," April 30, in a manner similar to that of 1910, when forty thousand sermons were preached from American pulpits on how to prevent tuberculosis. The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis hopes to enlist every one of the 33,000,000 church members of the United States in this work.

WEDDING JUBILEE TURNED TO SORROW.

Mr. William H. Bush, chief engineer of the steamer B. S. Ford, and well-known by patrons from Chestertown, Rock Hall and other points, accompanied by his wife, were to have left Saturday morning for New York to celebrate the golden anniversary of their wedding. They were the recipients of many tokens of esteem and letters of congratulation, and a large party of friends assembled at their home, 214 East Montgomery street, to see them off.

Chief Engineer Bush is 72 years old. He has been a mariner since he was 18 years of age. During the Civil War he saw active service on the Union gunboat Morse off the Virginia coast. He was in nine engagements and experienced having men killed on all sides by shot and shell, but never received a scratch during his three years of service.

After the war he entered the coffee trade and was engineer on a steamer which ran from this port to the West Indies and South America. He continued in this service several years and then went with the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company. He is a member of the Marine Engineers' Association.

Mrs. Bush was six years younger than her husband. They have eight children. Their four sons have followed the example of their father and taken to the sea. John Bush is a machinist on the battleship North Dakota; William is an electrician on the battleship West Virginia; Clarence is second mate on the steamer St. Katardin, of the American Lumber Company, and Cornelius is a marine carpenter in Baltimore. The daughters are Mrs. Anna Tulley, Mrs. Edith Smith, Mrs. Margaret Bono and Miss Mary E. Bush.

LATER—Since writing the above the following occurred: "Surrounded by her children and grandchildren and receiving their messages of love and good cheer as she was about to leave on her second honeymoon, after 30 years of married life, Mrs. Mary C. Busch, 68 years old, wife of Chief Engineer Wm. H. Busch, of the steamer B. S. Ford, was attacked Monday morning by acute indigestion and died an hour later.

"The aged husband is grief-stricken. In that hour his home, 514 East Montgomery street, was turned from one of happiness to gloom. A few minutes before a taxicab, ordered to convey them to Union Station, from which they were to take a train for New York, called at the door. The baggage was packed and all in readiness when the wife was stricken. She was standing in the parlor pinning on her hat and talking with her children. Suddenly she sank into a chair semi-conscious. Her husband was in the kitchen and hastened to the parlor. His wife faintly answered that she was very ill, but that she would be well enough to start on their trip in a few minutes."

ROCK HALL NOTES.

Palm Sunday was observed at St. John's R. C. Church Sunday morning with solemn ceremonies, such as high mass, blessing and distribution of palms, with a large attendance, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather.

Easter Sunday (to-morrow) will be appropriately observed at the M. E. Church by the Sunday-school with a special programme.

So many frosts this week is making some of our fruit growers apprehensive regarding the safety of fruit.

At Mrs. Alexander's, Mrs. Blanstein's, Mrs. Ashley's, Mrs. Reynolds' and Mrs. Joiner's Easter millinery has been in handsome display during the week. Hubby's and papa's have been shy of those emporiums of feminine fancies, but they have been touched all the same, and if the weatherman will make to-morrow an ideal spring day new and natty costumes will be the rage among the dear ones.

Commander Howard's explanation of the recent violation of the oyster law on Hodges' Bar doesn't change the sentiment of the oystering fraternity of Kent county. They look upon the so-called experiment to transplant oysters of the upper bay to Calvert waters, to ascertain if they would thrive in new homes, as a "rake off" for some interested private parties. However, if it is proper for the constituted protectors of the law to violate the law, perhaps oystermen of Chester river will get in the game after the 25th of April.

Mr. Alex. Taylor is sporting an oyster shell in which grew two perfectly formed oysters. It is a curiosity. The oysters grew side by side, with separate hearts.

Rock Hallites were thrown into a stampede at about 1.30 o'clock Saturday morning by Messrs. Epsley, Jones, Colyer and one or two others yelling fire and the bell ringing a fire alarm. The cause of the yelling was the discovery of the Jr. Hall being in a blazer. Residents were on the job instantly and with less than half a dozen buckets of water the fire was drowned out. The fire started on the lower floor on the west side of the building and burned a space of about eight feet wide, reaching to the upper floor, destroying or considerably damaging stage furniture and piano, amounting in a damage of near $1,000. The loss to the building was fully covered by insurance but the furniture was uninsured. The origin of the fire is a mystery but it is the concensus of opinion that a "fire bug" did the work. It seems that Mr. Epsley the baker, who was engaged in preparations for the day's work was the first to discover the blaze. He was closely followed by Mr. S. B. Colyer who was in town getting medicine from druggist Durding for a sick member of his family. These discoverers were most fortunate in being on the move as a few minutes later the fire would have been beyond control. It is marvelous how easily and quickly the fire was subdued. Mr. Edw. Jones said "it was not intended for the hall to be destroyed, an overruling Providence intervened." Guess he was about right and the intervention was for the sake of some saint or saints in this part of God's moral vineyard whom He delighted to honor, as in the case of Elisha in the matter between King Jehoram and King Benhadad.

Owing to the fact that the M. E. Parsonage was still occupied by Rev. Mr. Northrup when the new pastor, Rev. Mr. Corkran arrived here, the Ladies Aid Society could not tender the new pastor and his wife such a reception as their hearts prompted, therefore other arrangements were made to carry out their plans the early part of last week, but weather conditions interfered, till finally the reception was held in the lecture room of the church on Friday evening. A cordial invitation had been extended to the members and friends of the church to be present and quite a large number responded with their presence and a "happy time" ensued to the great delight of pastor and people. Ice cream and cake were served during the evening. Mr. Corkron is rapidly winning his way into the hearts of the people. He is a splendid mixer and is determined to be one of us during his pastorate here. This is all the more pleasing to the people of this section and it means smoother sailing for the church officials, prompt and cheerful payments on pastor's salary, and the outlook for the year presages a revivification of spiritual interest in church work, etc. "So mote it be."

Hon. H. C. Willis was among us this week but not hunting for votes, for himself at least. He was in the hay business.

Society Vaudeville.—The Town Improvement Society, under the aggressive management of Mrs. H. H. Barroll, are arranging to hold a "Society Vaueville" in Stam's Hall on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 5 and 6. A different entertainment will be given each evening, consisting of laughable comedies, bright music, new illustrated songs, and a program as a whole suitable to a highly delectable evening. Judging from past efforts of the Society, the public are assured of something attractive.

WATCH for Graham & Clements' weekly change of adv. for special bargains.

E. burrying ground at Galena. Undertaker W. H. Krusen had charge of the funeral.

Great Egg Laying.—Mrs. John W. Latham of Queen Anne's county, tells the NEWS man that seeing the record of Mr. W. H. Lambert, in last week's NEWS she wishes to say that during January, February and March she got 652 eggs from 16 pullets. In regard to Mr. Lambert's record in the NEWS last week, Master Henry says we were wrong in our figures at it should have been 2088 instead of 1088. Well, that is laying some eggs.
