HOW I WAS CURED OF SCROFULA

"I was in a very bad condition with scrofulous swellings round my neck. It started with a bunch on the side of my neck and it kept growing until the whole side of my face was swollen.

"I had tried everything in the shape of medicines for five years. I had gone under an operation in one of the hospitals in Boston and had them cut out. I had thirty little tubular glands taken from back of my ear down my shoulder. After the cuts healed over they started to come again and worse than before.

"After suffering so much I thought I would try Pinkham's Blood Purifier and before I had taken two bottles there was a great change in the swellings. I continued its use and to-day I am a well woman Every word of this is true.

"I cannot speak too highly in praise of Pinkham's Blood Purifier." —Mrs. W. H. Haynes, 38 Adams Avenue, Everett, Mass.

The tendency to Scrofula seems to be hereditary and it is hard to overcome. It may lie dormant for years, and then break out anew from time to time.

The only known remedy for Scrofula is to keep the blood pure and rich by the use of a good blood purifier. It may require long treatment, but Mrs. Haynes found that Pinkham's Blood Purifier cured her of this dreadful disease, after all other means had failed.

Pinkham's Blood Purifier is equally as good for all diseases emanating from impure, impoverished blood, and is the best Spring medicine known. People will find the Blood Purifier just as reliable a remedy as the women of the world have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Unequalled — satisfying and dependable.

FORMER KENT COUNTIAN DEAD

Dr. Samuel Ringgold Was a Celebrated Divine and Lived to be 86 Years of Age.

Rev. Samuel Ringgold, D. D., rector emeritus of St. John's Episcopal Church, Knoxville, Tenn., died last Sunday at the Knoxville General Hospital. He was an uncle of Messrs. Chas. H. Price and William R. Price, of Kent, and well known in this county. He was born in Kent county 86 years ago. The Knoxville Sentinel says:

"The death of Dr. Ringgold comes as a shock that only time will heal. His illness, although considered serious, was not thought to be fatal. In the death of Dr. Ringgold, the second oldest minister of the city has been removed, Dr. James Park, rector emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church, being the oldest.

"Dr. Ringgold came to this city in 1887, and became rector of the St. John's parish, then a struggling young church. Under his guidance the church has grown to the flourishing parish which it now is. The beautiful edifice that stands at the corner of Cumberland avenue and Walnut street is a memorial to the devotion with which Dr. Ringgold has cared for his parish. His life during his pastorate was centered in St. John's Church.

"Dr. Ringgold served as rector of the St. John's Church from 1887 until 1907, when he was forced to resign active work on account of ill health. Dr. Ringgold succeeded Dr. H. M. Morrell as pastor of the church, and was succeeded by Rev. W. C. Whittaker, D. D., who is at the present time rector in charge of the parish work. The deceased was the son of Charles Ringgold, He was born in Kent county, Maryland. in 1825. At the age of twenty-one years, Dr. Ringgold became a sailor. He continued his seafaring life several years when he removed to Louisville, Ky., and started life anew as a dealer in books.

"On April 1 last Dr. Ringgold completed an even half hundred years in the ministry. While studying for the ministry Dr. Ringgold was married to Miss Emily Comley. To this marriage were born two sons and two daughters. The daughters were Mrs. John C. Mallory, deceased, and Mrs. Jas. F. Huber, of Louisville. The sons are J. H. Ringgold, of Russellville, Ky., and Chas. D. Ringgold, of Chicago, Ill.

"The first wife of Dr. Ringgold died in 1872, and in January, 1874, he was united in marriage to Miss Florida Richardson, of Union City. To this union three daughters were born. The surviving daughters by the second wife are Misses Florida and Mary Blake Ringgold, of this city.

"Besides his children, the deceased is survived by a widow, one sister, Mrs. Rachel Taggart, of New Castle, Del., nine grand-children and one great grand-child.

"Although Dr. Ringgold had practically withdrawn from active life, he was continually doing some act or deed for the uplift of humanity.

"In April, 1861, Dr. Ringgold was ordained as priest by Dr. Craik, under whom he had studied at the Christ's Church. Dr. Ringgold was always ready and willing to do anything for the uplift of the coming generation. He was loved by all who knew him. He was a man who invited confidence and many sad incidents concerning difficulties were confided to him. The deceased was a member of the Coeur De Lion Commandery No. 9, Knights Templar. The members of the lodge will attend the funeral in a body."

BRYAN AS PIONEER AGAIN WORKS FARM

One of the most attractive new homes in the lower Rio Grande Valley is that of Col. W. J. Bryan on his farm near Mission, Texas. The residence is of the bungalow type of architecture and it is handsomely fitted up throughout with furniture manufactured from the native mesquite and ebony woods, cut from the land. In establishing a winter home in this southernmost part of the United States Col. Bryan is imbued with the pioneer spirit that characterized the hardy men who penetrated the wilderness in the early days.

Until about six years ago this lower valley region, that embraces about 500,000 acres of land of primitive richness, was unknown to the outside world. The land was covered with an almost impenetrable growth of chaparral, in which the giant prickly pear predominated. The only use to which the land was put was for the grazing of scattered flocks of goats, which were looked after by Mexican herders. For centuries this antiquated civilization had existed in the border region. The people were content in their isolation. Their wants were few and easily supplied.

The awakening came about six years ago, when a railroad penetrated the undeveloped valley empire and opened up the whole territory to human enterprise. The transformation of the former wilderness was astounding. Within a period of five years more than $25,000,000 as shown by the increase in taxable values in the different counties, has been invested in the development and the industrial upbuilding of the valley on the American side of the international boundary stream. Much of this money went for the construction of great irrigation canal systems. It is here that the largest private irrigation enterprises in the United States have been established. Practically all crops in the valley are grown by means of irrigation. The producing season has no interruption during the entire yeer. It is here that the temperate and tropic zones seem to meet, creating an equable climate that is delightful winter and summer.

During his stay upon his farm near Mission this winter Colonel Bryan frequently labored in the fields. He planted a variety of products and the different crops promise large yields.

A VERY AGED Englishman many years ago gave this advice to his daughter in a letter as to what a lady's dressing table should contain: "the best beautifier a young lady can use is good humor. The best renovator is temperance; the best lip salve is truth; the best rouge is modesty; the best eyewater is the tear of sympathy; the best gargle for the voice is cheerfulness; the best wash for soothing wrinkles is contentment; the best cure for deafness is attention; the best mirror is reflection, and the whitest powder is innocence.
