The Chestertown Grange showed renewed life Wednesday evening when a large crowd attendedthe elegant supper and interesting meeting in Fraternal Hall.

Still Pond Grange held their regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon at 2 30 p. m. Kennedyville is working hard to beat us in that debate, and they will have to "keep it up," for we have talkers who can talk too, when they get started. The topic is, "Resolved that invention has done more for humanity than reform."

Kennedyville—Messrs. John Medders Wm. Hague and Miss Solloway.

DEATH OF MR. CHARLES H. HURLOCK

Mr. Charles H. Hurlock, the well-known auctioneer, died at the Hospital near Baltimore Wednesday, about 6 o'clock, in his 61st year. The deceased began failing in health about a year ago, since which time his decline has been quite rapid. Everything possible was done for him at home and early in February he was taken for special treatment to several other places near Baltimore where he had every possible attention. His end came after twelve hours of peaceful unconsciousness until he fell asleep in the arms of death. The body was brought to his late home on Queen street Thursday, where funeral services will be held this Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, interment in Chester Cemetery, Dr. F. T. Little officiating; J. E. Ferguson, undertaker. The bearers will be Samuel Vannort, John P. Nicholson, Walter T. Morris, Edward P. Beck. Jos. R. Usilton and James T. Dixon.

The deceased was born on the Dodson farm on May 22, 1850, and has lived successively on the Drayton - Janvier farm, Lusby farm, Stevens farm, Buck Neck farm and for nine years at Bacchus' mill. When not farming he was engaged in buying cattle, etc. He was a great lover of fine horses and even to the end showed his appreciation of animals. Since the Tolchester Fair was started he acted as marshall and performed his duties in a most faithful and striking manner. During the late years of his life he was a successful auctioneer and had a large share of the business. He was also bailiff to the Court, in which position he made many friends and proved invaluable. He was a great lover of music and gave a great part of his time in singing in St. James Church and elsewhere, assisting in arranging Children's Day music, etc. He was well-known all over Kent county and was one of the most popular men in this section. He married Miss S. A. Jones, an intelligent young school teacher of Worton, in May, 1872, who survives together with the following children: Arthur and Frank, of Cambridge; Mrs. Charles Colladay, and Dr. Harry Hurlock, of Baltimore; Mrs. Fred. G. Usilton, Miss Eva and Warren Hurlock, of Chestertown, and Gaylord Hurlock, of San Francisco.

THE contract for erection of a residence on Washington avenue for Prof. J. S. W. Jones has been awarded Mr. G. Harry Cannan and work was commenced there last week. The lot adjoins Mr. D. B. McMenamin's.

LAST Saturday night while walking along Cross street, near Firemen's Hall, Mr. Noah Perry was struck on the head by a stone or other missile thrown from among a crowd of colored men, and sustained injuries that rendered him unconscious for several hours.

THE recital given in Firemen's Hall Tuesday evening by Miss Gay MacLaren under the auspices of the Chestertown Literary Club was a splendid affair. "The Man From Home," a comedy in four acts was given to the delight of a large audience. Music was given between the acts by Messrs. James L. Bacchus, Warren Hurlock, Thomas Dixon Myers and Krantz. The ushers were, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Clara Perkins, Misses Bessie Stuart, Belle Emory, Hallie Toulson, Jennie Wilkins.

POLITICS has begun to simmer on the border line of the Third and Sixth districts. A man's hat was found near the "Grove" Sunday morning and a fellow overcome with the "stuff" was put up into the loft to spend the night. Boys, the day has passed when liquor is King in Kent county. Let it alone.

ONE of the prize receipts for making blackberry pudding is given by Mrs. H. L. Physick, of Chestertown, as follows: Two cupfuls flour, 1 large cupful sugar, 1 of milk, 1 egg, 1 tablespoonful butter, 1 teaspoonful baking powder, ½ teaspoonful salt, 2 cupfuls blackberries. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; cream, butter and sugar, add egg and milk and add to other ingredients. Lastly put in blackberries, thoroughly washed and sugared. Bake in a buttered pan about halt an hour. Serve with butter and sugar or liquid sauce.

DR. HERBERT SANBORN, of Washington College, delivered two lectures during the Easter holidays before the students Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn. This was certainly a high honor to Dr. Sanborn and to Washington College.

MR. HERMAN KLEIN, of Fairlee, has taken great pains in selecting a fine large grinding wheel for the purpose of grinding hard chilled plow shares and points, or any part of castings used by the farmer that may need sharpening or trimming down. I think it would be safe to say he has one of the finest and largest wheels in the county. This is quite a saving to the farmer in dry seasons. His work has been very satisfactory to all who have patronized him.

A STRANGER walked into the home of Mr. Page Hickman, on the Jarrell farm, near town, Monday evening and scared everyone about the place. He carried an old valise, a pistol and a belt full of cartridges. He stated that he was a detective, that the Jarrell farm house was to be robbed that night and that he was to watch for the robbers! Upon sight of the pistol and appearance of the man the three men were badly frightened and they had a reason for so being. A man was dispatched on horseback for the sheriff who came immediately. Sheriff Medders knew him at once and soon proved to Mr. Hickman that the fellow was harmless. In his valise were papers, boxes, old arctics and trash while the pistol was a 10-cent toy article. The man proved to be a resident of Queen Anne's and unfortunate.

JAMES D. LUCAS, of Massey, has purchased of Postmaster M. Wilbur Thomas the latter's brood mare, Daisy, and her yearling, Picknell, 2.15½.

THE first farmer to plant corn in Kent is Mr. Wm. Lee on the Skinner farm near town.

THE will of the late Mrs. Hannah Herting was probated in the Orphans' Court for Kent county Tuesday. Her farm in Delaware is left to Archibald, Warren, Roy, Olga and Clayton Simonds, children of Maggie Simonds, of Kent county, Md. Mrs. Simonds is left $500 and the balance is to be divided among children, Annie Crowden, Wm. F. Herting, Maggie Simonds and Isabella M. Melchor.

THE parsonage of Christ M. P. Church was visited Monday evening by a hundred or more persons who went to welcome Dr. F. T. Little and family to Chestertown and to Christ church. A wagon load of provisions was also brought. Col. Wm. J. Vannort in his characteristic manner welcomed the Doctor and family on behalf of the congregation and also presented a purse of $20 to Mrs. Little. Dr. Little in his inimitable style, replied to Col. Vannort and made everyone feel welcome. Refreshments were served, music rendered and a social evening enjoyed.

A SINGULAR DEATH occurred on Capt. Andrew Woodall's Rich Neck farm a few days ago. It was the son of Mr. Charles Hines, 12-years-old, and yet had never spoken nor eaten anything excepting milk from the bottle since he was born. The child was taken with measles and died on Monday. During all these years the parents of the invalid have watched carefully over him and nursed him faithfully.

THE power schooner William T. Willing, of Baltimore, caught fire in Chester river Tuesday morning and was destroyed. She was bound from Chester for Baltimore with a cargo of baled packing grass which was ignited by a spark from the exhaust. She was owned and commanded by Capt. J. Fred. Robinson. The Willing was built at St. Peter's Md., in 1888. She was 56 feet long and 13 tons gross register.
