Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Home of Swamp-Root.

CRAB OF THE EAS'N SHO'.

Life in Those Blessed Regions has its Irresistible Charm—Entrance to Paradise.

There are times when it seems that nature fails for a moment in her kindly ministrations. But it is not so. Each season brings its joys, and unto every season is alloted an epicurean delicacy, says the Washington Post. Common consent has alloted to each month containing in its name the letter "r" the rightful reign of the royal oyster. But as April advances, this treasured throat tickler becomes "sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought," nor will the Worcestshire prepared from the recipe of a nobleman in the county, nor any other condiment, restore its right palatable virtues. What then? Have the waters that cover the earth nothing to offer instead? "Softly, my children," murmur the blues waves of the Chesapeake; "the little crablets are feeding by the moonlight, and the soft shell and the hard shell will soon be ready!"

Thus doth one pleasure tread upon the heels of another. A new king, but no interregnum. The knife makes way for the hammer, the pan roast for the "deviled," and all is well. No need for the prospective banqueter to cry, "How happy could I be with either, were t'other dear charmer away!" The oyster abdicates; the crab comes into his own. Even for the foreign born, life in these blessed regions has its irresistible charms. But the native alone is able to sound to the full its pelluced and delectable depths. He alone can distinguish the imperceptible flavors of the bivalves dredged from Patuxent's mouth and Middle Point. To him only is to gaze critically upon the captive crab and read his pedigree to the fourth generation, locate his habitat to a mile, and dilate convincingly upon his personal eccentricities and predilections. It is like learning to speak French without an accent; one must either be born in the country or acquire the art in youth.

Take the fresh male hardshell, steam it until it reaches the deep red color, lay it on a try, and begin. First, lift back the upper shell, holding the meaty part in the left hand and using the right thumb as an Archimedean lever. There! Now remove the "dead men," but don't mistake the bits of yellow in the corner for waste material. They are the fat, being to the crab as the liver to a fowl. Next crack the claw joints, those muscular, tentacled arms that got the beauty into trouble. Not that way! Where did you come from—Denver? Remember, you are now being introduced at court, and act accordingly! No harshness is intended but it does grate on the finer sensibilities to see a worthy crab handled in such fashion. Try this one. Suck it out, man! Good, eh? Thought so! More? Why, you've had eleven already, and that's enough for a stranger. After a while, maybe, you can go your two dozen. So long as the shellfish spawn and the sea bring forth after its kind, just so long will Washington be a city of delights, the outpost city of the Eas'n Sho', which fringes the entrance to paradise.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE IN FIGHT FOR GOVERNOR

The Anti-Saloon League announces that it intends, if necessary, to take a hand in the campaign for Governor. In a statement just issued the League says:

"It will do no good to elect a legislature which will pass the local option bill if we permit the liquor interests to elect a Governor who will veto it. The legislature can be changed in two years, but if the liquor traffic gets the Governor it means four years delay.

"The League does not ask either party to declare against the saloons, but earnestly appeals to the leaders of both parties to co-operate with it in preventing a bitter and wholly unnecessary fight on the local option question this fall by nominating men who will declare in favor of handing the liquor question back to the people for decision.

"The League has no candidate in either party and is not trying to dictate either nomination, and if the Democratic party nominates a good man who is satisfactory on this question the League will not oppose him. But of those candidates already mentioned it will especially oppose Col. Buchanan Schley, because in the recent Washington County campaign he stood for the saloons when the question was voted upon, and by standing for the repeal of the Washington County law took away from the people of his home county the right to vote at all. It will also oppose Gen. Murray Vandiver, the Democratic State Chairman, who for two sessions has used his personal and official influence to defeat the local option bill.

"The League has spent four years and $75,000 building an organization in preparation for this year's fight, and the contest will become increasingly bitter until the local option bill is passed."

Facts About Motherhood

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at the time of child-birth, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when the strain is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

LYDIA E PINKHAM

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence.
