How I Removed Pimples and Blackheads from My Face

"I have been bothered for a number of years with blackheads and pimples on my face. I have tried a number of remedies from physicians, with little or no improvement. More than a year ago I thought I would try Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and after taking it for a period of two months, I found a decided improvement. My face is now free from pimples and blackheads, and I cannot thank you enough for your wonderful remedy. I would be glad to let everybody know the benefit I derived from its use."—MRS. CHARLES B. ANDERSON, Box 52, Creston, Wash.

The most common indications of impure, impoverished blood are humors and eruptions, and they are usually the fore-runner of more serious consequences which come from an unhealthy state of the blood.

All that is necessary is a good, home treatment, frequent bathing, fresh air, wholesome, nutritious, easily digested food, and the regular use of Pinkham's Blood Purifier. In this way the blood is purified and enriched. Pimples, eruptions, and blackheads disappear and the complexion will become clear and healthy.

You may be perfectly sure that Pinkham's Blood Purifier is just as reliable as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its makers could not risk their unequalled reputation among their vast army of friends by recommending a remedy that was not honest.

VISITING DAY AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Governor Crothers Sees Remedy—Tells Washington College Guests Counties Must Co-Operate — To Unite State Education.

Many of her sons in Baltimore came to Washington College, Chestertown, Saturday, when the venerable old institution kept open house for her board of governors and a number of visitors headed by Governor Crothers. So successful was it that henceforth May 13 will be the annual visiting day for the college.

It has been for some time a project of President James W. Cain to have a number of men interested in higher education visit the college and gain an idea of the breadth of the work there.

New Building Inspected.

The delegation from the city arrived a few minutes after 2 o'clock and was met by President Cain and others. Luncheon had been served on the steamer Governor Thomas, and the party reported a pleasant trip. The visitors were shown through the new William Smith Hall, a memorial to the founder of the college, and the other buildings. The campus received the compliments of all, as well as the grouping of the buildings, nestled far back in a group of ancient elms at the rear of the grounds In the president's office the visitors were shown a copy of the degree of doctor of laws which the college conferred on George Washington.

Dr. Cain's Welcome.

In an address at the dinner to the guests, Dr. Cain said:

"We appreciate your visit to this, the oldest college in your State. For 127 years we have been educating the young men of Maryland. Our doors have never closed. We have no foolish ambitions, but wish to be a good college and no more.

"While not strictly a State institution, we receive help from the Government of Maryland and our alumni have done much for the State.

Governor Is Pleased.

Governor Crothers' reply followed:

"This has been one of the most delightful days of my life," he said. "But this is no mere outing. As visitors we feel an interest in the school and wish to know more. The time is fast coming when the State must take up the question of education in the colleges and do more for our institutions.

"Washington College's men have done much for Maryland. The boys who graduate here will show in after life the splendid influence of their alma mater.

"Educational System Wrong."

Mr. Stanley Gary, of Baltimore, said: "Dr. Cain is an able man and is doing his work well. I wish him and his school the best of prosperity. The educational system of Maryland is absolutely wrong. Each county now works for itself alone. The counties should work as one. The State Board of Education will have some good day, control of the whole system of such institutions as this. I learned to know this school—to love it—when on the State Board of Education. It is doing great work and deserves the support of us all."

Dr. Ira Remsen, president of Johns Hopkins University, said:

"I will call attention, gentlemen, to the importance of small colleges. Avoid this personality to education and allow for the needs of the different people of different lands. The small college brings education to the poor boy. We need more small colleges."

"I was educated in a small college and believe in them," said Judge Henry Harlan. "Through acquaintance with universities my admiration for small schools has never lessened. They are the character builders of their nation, the standard of truth. The promotion of all greatness is taught in the small colleges where great and good men who teach come in personal contact with the students."

Judge Pearce's Appeal.

Judge Pearce, of the Maryland Court of Appeals, president of the board of visitors, said:

"We are a small part of the educational system, but we deserve the consideration of the State. We appreciate their help. We hope to expand and have young men from all the corners of Maryland who can gain education for themselves and State. We ask you men of Maryland to send to us worthy boys, rich or poor, who we can help."

A feature of the entertainment of the visitors was a baseball game between the local college team and the team of the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute, in which the Baltimore team was outclassed, 10 to 2.

Among those who attended were the following:

Governor Crothers,	Lloyd L. Wilkinson,
Dr. Ira Remsen,	Lewin W. Wickes,
Sen. C. W. Perkins,	Philip G. Wilmer,
Dr. Hugh H. Young,	Dr. Charles P. Gilpin,
Harry J. Hopkins,	George Westcott,
Judge H. D Harlan,	W. B. Usilton, Jr.,
Blanchard Randall,	Samuel Vannort,
E. Stanley Gary,	S. Scott Beck,
Morris Whitridge,	Dr. Frank B. Hines,
J. Abner Betts	Dr. John Mac,
William McCrae,	Dr. W. Bullock Clark,
James W. Chapman,	Samuel M. Shoemaker,
Judge J. A. Pearce,	W. W. Crosby.
