ROCK HALL NOTES.

Yes, that rain of Monday and Tuesday was glorious. It was badly needed and since it came everybody and every living thing has taken on renewed vigor. It makes us indeed feel that life is worth living.

Resonant with fervent prayer, glowing testimonies and songs of zion, will be the early Sunday morning atmosphere in this town in the future because of the changing of the Class under the leadership of Mr. George Davis from 3 p. m. to 9 a. m. This has been done for betterment along several lines. And it ought to be conducive to a better interest in Sunday School work by making the session one hour and a half instead of one hour. 20 minutes for class exercise especially the Bible classes are too short a time to do best results. As a rule right in the midst of an interesting discussion on the lesson application class exercise is rung down and frequent disappointment is experienced by the membership. Yes, let's have a longer session.

The crabbing crews of this section are much disappointed because of the scarcity of crabs. Thus far nothing is doing in their line except "possesing their souls in patience."

"Aunt Melia" Davis is making an extended visit among her relatives in this section. She is rapidly recuperating from a recent injury by reason of a fall.

The High School Commencement exercises in Jr. Hall on Wednesday night was an inspiring scene. Youth and beauty never appeared finer nor happier on past occasions of the kind. Almost everybody but "us" was there, and Prof. Melvin's address was keenly enjoyed, as was also each and every part of the grogram.

A few farmers are harvesting their wheat crops. Oats are heading out and are not more than 18 inches high on some farms. The rains came a little too late for them.
