Mrs. Alphonsa Beck, relict of the late Reese Beck, died at her home in Chestertown early Wednesday morning after an illness of three weeks. The deceased celebrated her 78th birthday only a few days before her illness and seemed to be as cheerful and bright as ever. The most of her life was spent in Worton, where her home was the centre of many happy gatherings. She was well informed and never tired in recalling the incidents of former days. For many years until her removal here she was a regular attendant upon the services at St. James Church, to which she was closely associated.

She leaves two sons, Edw. P. and Jas. G. Beck; two sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Walraven and Rachel Gale, and one brother, Harrison 1. Parsons. The funeral took place yesterday morning from the home of Mr. James G. Beck, interment in Chester cemetery, Rev. G. A. Morris officiating. The bearers were John P. and R. G. Nicholson, Joseph R Usilton, Samuel Vannort, Romie Skirven, W. B. Willis; undertaker, C. L. Dodd.

Judge George Matthews Sharp, widely known member of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore city, died at 5 o'clock Friday morning at his residence, 2105 St. Paul street, after an illness of about four months, due to a complication of diseases. George Matthews Sharp was born in Baltimore November 17, 1851, and was the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Sharp. His father, Dr. Sharp, was one of the founders of Sharp & Dohme, the manufacturing chemists, and was well known in Kent county. He owned valuable property at Rock Hall, where he maintained a summer residence for a number of years prior to his death. His mother before her marriage was Miss Annie H. Matthews, of Harford county, Md. An uncle, aunt and several first cousins are his nearest relatives. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon; interment in Friends cemetery.

Thomas L. Dawson died in Baltimore last Sunday, aged 57 years. He le[ft] widow, who was before marri[age] Adelaide Staylor, and two so[ns] L. and W. H. Dawson. IMPORTANT MEETING

The Public Utilities Commission, comprising Messrs. Laird, Ambler and Dr. Herring, held a session in the parlors of the Voshell House, Chestertown, Thursday, to hear reasons why the Pennsylvania Railroad should be compelled to restore the road from Worton to Nicholson's Station and place thereon a regular freight train. Mr. Harry C. Willis was spokesman for about thirty farmers and gave some able and enthusiastic arguments in favor of the project. He showed the large amount of grain, phosphate, coal, lime, &c., that would be shipped via Nicholson's and the great injustice being done by the discontinuance of the service. Bernard Carter, Esq., appeared for the railroad, and showed that it would cost $41,900 to rehabilitate the road, while the amount of freight would not justify same. The Commission decided against the farmers and left on a special train for Baltimore.

DR. S. W. THOMAS DIES

The Rev. Dr. Samuel W. Thomas, for 60 years a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died on Wednesday night at his home, 1513 North Gratz street, Philadelphia. He was in his 82d year. He was not only one of the oldest but one of the best known members of the Philadelphia Conference. In his position as pastor and district superintendent he served in one capacity or another almost every church in the conference.

He possessed a personality that won friends everywhere, and his death will be regarded as a personal loss by a large number of persons.

He was well known in Kent county, having owned, with his wife, much property in Chestertown and near Fairlee.

He is survived by a widow and three sons—Harry, who is engaged in a manufacturing business; Wylie, who is employed by the city in the gas department, and George, also a city employe in the Bureau of Water.

MILLINGTON ITEMS

Unicorn Mills Struck By Lightning —Live Personal Items— Other Notes.

During the severe thunder storm on Wednesday last the store at Unicorn Mills was struck by a flash of lightning which ploughed a furrow from ridge of roof to corner post of building, ripping up shingles, tearing off weather boarding and splintering the timbers of the structure. Mr. Cahall and another person were in the back room of the store at the time but escaped injury. The lightning accompaning this storm was very vivid and the thunder quite heavy. The rain, while not heavy, was timely and very much appreciated.

Mrs. Addie Mallalieu, of this town, who has been ill for several weeks was accompanied by Dr. M. Brice and her husband to St. Agnes Hospital, Baltimore, on Friday of last week for special treatment. She was operated on Saturday and is reported doing well. Mrs. Mallalieu's illness is particularly sad as since her illness her mother has suffered a stroke of paralysis and is still critically ill. Her friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gillespie entertained a number of friends at their home on Wednesday evening in honor of the eighteenth birthday of their popular [d]aughter, Miss Marie.

[M]iss Mary Barnes, of Crumpton, spent [a] week with her aunt, Mrs. Emma [S]heppard.

[M]rs. John R. Poore, whose illness was reported last week, is not improved. Her sons, Charles Davis, of Philadelphia, and George Davis, of Wilmington, were summoned to her bedside this week.

It is reported that Miss Georgia I. Donaldson, who [s]erved as vice-principal of Millington High School with such splendid satisfaction to all for the past two years, will not return to this school for another year. A large number of friends, pupils and parents regret her departure from the school as her services have been very efficient and highly appreciated by the patrons. We hope success may follow her wherever she may go.

Miss Lizzie Mabrey, of Washington, D. C., has returned home after a pleasant two weeks visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mabrey, near town

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bishop and Miss Emma Tremble, all of Wilmington, spent part of last week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bailey, were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Winnie Cashmere, of Harrisburg, Pa., a few days last week.

Miss Lillie Jones and nephew, Master Earle Makens, of Philadelphia, are visiting her sister, Mrs. H. L. Disharoon.

Mrs. Edward Pinder and two children, Edward and William, of Newcastle, Del., spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Harrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Porter, of Clayton, Del., were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Porter, a couple of days this week.

Miss Anna Little, of Chestertown, was entertained last week by Miss Marguerite Ahern.

Mrs. J. Seward Barwick, of Sudlersville, spent a few days last week at Bailey's Hotel.

Miss Elizabeth Woodall is visiting friends and relatives in Philadelphia.

Rev. H. M. Thompson and wife spent this week with her son, who is quite sick at his home in Baltimore.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Woodall.

Mrs. Walter Tolson, of Philadelphia, is spending sometime at her home in town.

Married.—Miss Angie V. Taylor daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Taylor, of Locust Grove, and Mr. Norman Faulkner, of Locust Grove, were married on June 29, 1911, in Wilmington, Del., by Rev. D. L. Wolfe.

THE HAMAN LAW.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

While reading the last issue of the "Chestertown Transcript" I found a letter signed by Mr. Garrett Foxwell relating to the Haman oyster law, and his connection with it,

The writer has known Mr. Foxwell for a great many years, and he has ever been a very affable, pleasant gentleman. I was amazed when I saw this Haman letter, and so the marvel of its invention is still fresh in my mind and I am quite sure that time will not dull in any measure the sense of its novelty.

There is a fascination about it, its delicate origin, its nimble imagination and its exquisite grace, that caused us to instantly realize that its author is charmingly conversant with what is known and recognized as "newspaper" english. Well, we are not surprised that these forces find it necessary to hasten to Mr. Foxwell's assistance.

Oh yes, we remember very forcibly how this kind hearted gentleman was led into this entanglement by serving Mr. Haman when he was in the Legislature, when he might have been guided by his better judgment, served his constituents better, looked after and voted for the interests of his oystermen friends who gave him their support eight years ago for State Senator.

The letter of Mr. Foxwell asks if any oysterman has caught a bushel less oysters since the passage of the Haman oyster law. We answer, since Attorney Haman succeeded and made it possible for the dry land oyster talkers and the Packers to seize and hold absolute control of the output and the prices to be paid, (even if they had to cry sick oysters) the oystermen have not caught less oysters generally, but have been compelled to take less money in particular per bushel. I have not exagerated as to the output and the price, the statement can be proven by any intelligent oysterman in the county. Put that in your pipe and smoke it as a part of the results of the passage of the Haman oyster law.

Mr. Haman, Mr. Foxwell and his advisors should have remembered with a great deal of thoughtfulness and complacency before they laid violent hands on this interest, that there are at least 3,000 men, women and children in this county who are directly and in hundreds of instances wholly dependant for the propagation and preservation of the oysters and the oyster bars, therefore the interest is too great to be trifled with by Mr. Haman and his few Kent county allies.

The oystermen have no unkind feeling toward Mr. Foxwell as a man, but they realize that the time has come that they must necessarily turn to Mr. Beck another candidate for the state senate, a man whom we are persuaded cannot be moved to gratify Mr. Haman's friends in the forthcoming batch of amendments for his pet law.

Indeed we are loath to believe that Mr. Foxwell who is usually so kind of heart, did voluntarily betray our interests, slap the screws on our living and so jack it down that we are almost on the edge of being the servitors of the Packers and their friends.

We rejoice in this particular that the farmers are not our enemies, for out of our hard toil, the meager means, the farmer sells his pigs, his beef, his eggs, his butter and poultry which aggregates many hundreds of dollars within a year.

It is not at all difficult for the oystermen to say who Mr. Foxwell's advisers are and have been, and through whose instrumentality our ship has been almost scuttled.

CHURCH NOTES.

Rev. G. A. Morris preached Sunday evening in Christ M. P. Church, the pastor, Dr. Little being sick. He is a splendid talker.

Sunday was monthly missionary day in Christ Church Sunday school, the collection amounting to over $38. The class of young men taught by W. W. Hubbard won the banner with $10, and Mr. Dwight Long presented it in an acceptable manner.

Chestertown M. E. Church, Rev. Louis E. Barrett, D. D., pastor—Next Sunday, July 16th, services as follows: At 10.30 a. m. preaching by the pastor, subject, "The New Pushing Out the old"; 2.15 p. m., Sabbath School; 7 p. m., Epworth League, followed by brief talk by the pastor. All invited.

Rev. F. C. Klein, of Baltimore, who greatly pleased the people of Chestertown some weeks ago, will occupy the pulpit in Christ M. P. Church next Sunday morning and evening.

Evenings with Jesus.—Rev. Dr. Barrett beginning tomorrow evening at the M. E. Church will give a series of evening interviews with Jesus. The first will be "A Crisal Talk With a Ruler." The service will begin promptly at 7 o'clock with a song service, closing at 8.

THE mercury got up to 97° on Monday and Tuesday was not much better. Boston was the hottest city in the country.

THE County Commissioners on Wednesday awarded the contract for furnishing 50 tons of coal for the Court House and Jail to Mr. J. D. Bacchus, who was the only bidder.
