Special Notice to Ladies

Our large purchase of Ladies' Suits for this season are now completed and the final lots have arrived, and are ready for selling. These Suits are just what you are looking for. Our strong argument is that you get them just a "little cheaper" than elsewhere. These specials should sell at sight.

Prettiest Wash Fabrics

We say prettiest, for surely there never were any prettier Wash Fabrics than these we are showing. Organdies, Dimities, Batistes, French Ginghams, Lawns and Voiles crowd each other for room, and when you consider that the prices are so very low the goods become very tempting.

Embroideries : An Endless Variety

There are All-Overs, Edgings and Insertions—baby width, medium widths and flounce widths. Patterns from a fraction of an inch to a half yard, with unusually liberal margins. The designs are beautiful, artistic and diversified. Neat exquisite effects for baby clothes and women's lingerie, dainty styles for trimming waists and showy elaborate combinations for flounces and ruffles.

YOUNG STYLES THAT ARE NEW

Jaunty Felt Hats With Velvet Fixings—Tailored Serge Coat—Frocks—Gray Mousseline With Rose Linings.

Its youth to the fore just now, for only a short time remains before all the schools will be open, and outfits must be made ready to meet the various demands of term time.

TAILORED SUITS.

Tailored suits in coat and skirt models, come with coventry and Blazer coats that the girls find fetching, but these are being largely superseded by the various coat dresses so universally worn during the summer. Blue serge is first favorite for these but any desired color may be selected. For dress wear later velvet—which means velveteen—promises to be the favorite material.

BRAID TRIMMINGS.

There was, for a time, a lull in the use of braidings and braid trimmings but they are all back again on smart new suits with buttons galore. There is simply no end to the buttons used. For older wearers Russian Blouse costumes are being made up in heavy nets over tunics of satin. All sorts of transparent coats are increasingly worn. Beads in embroidery and fringes and tassels continue stylish.

TAFFETA TAILORMADES.

Black or dark blue taffetas are returning to favor for tailormade wear and fringes are increasingly worn. East Indian turbans, and other Indian gleanings, from the pageant presented by East Indians at the English coronation, are coming to adorn the women here this winter. Odd little coats and skirts with more trimmings than we have seen recently are features of the new tailormades. There is a decided liking for the beige and white contrasts that made their appearance in Paris late in August.

The very modish set here are dropping the collarless type of bodice and using transparent collars and guimpes. Many of these are of plain net in square or round mesh so that the effect is not so very different, but the low bodices have been overdone and exclusives will have none of it.

EXTRA WAISTS.

The wash silk waists that have been smart all summer will continue popular for school and utility wear with tailormades. The turn back cuff and sailor-collar edged with a plain band to match the color of the stripe, is a very youthful style, but there are others with high collars that are better liked by many women and girls. The stripe of the silk usually matches the skirt in color; but this is not obligatory.

FANCY NECKWEAR.

Fancy fichus of embroidered batiste and net are very useful additions to the outfit since they transform a plain get up into more dressy effect, in the easiest possible way. The hemstitched collar and cuff sets that launder easily are to be had in organdy at 50 cents and in heavy chiffon cloth for three times as much.

IRISH CROCHET JEWELERY.

A novelty that is being eagerly bought is Irish crochet pins in sets of three. One long and two smaller. The larger with a rose decoration at the centre. The weave of the lace is very close, and may be cleansed by scrubbing with soap and water. There are also hat pins of the same style.

WOOL EMBROIDERIES AND HATS.

Wool embroidery is a very new trimming used on gowns, hats, parasols and scarfs. Sometimes the color matches the material, but more often it is in strong contrasting tints, of brilliant rose, robin's egg blue, cinnamon brown, and hunter's green. Among the felt hats shown for early wear there are a number with crowns made of worsted braid in white beige or other colors, with facings of black or other dark velvets. High conical crowns are a feature of the new shapes which are in most cases more given to crown than brim.
