DRY GOODS — MILLINERY

THE HUB'S BIG DOUBLE STORES, MILLINGTON, MD.

COMPETITION IS THE LIFE OF TRADE!

Under the present trade conditions—it's up to the merchant alone if he's to be successful or not. The public demands full value for their hard earned dollars and the stores that can't compete in a legitimate way will sooner or later be forced out of business. The true facts about the HUB'S BIG DOUBLE STORES GREAT SUCCESS IN THE CLOTHING LINE for Men, Women, and Children is due only to our honest dealings and our "Keen Underselling Prices," our reputation for selling High Grade Clothing at moderate prices, in the last few years has set "AGOG" many of the high priced clothiers within 25 miles of Millington.

Ladies New Fall Suits

Some people are apt to form the conclusion that $8.50 because our prices are so low that our qualities are not first-class. The facts are that we sell none but strictly HIGH-CLASS goods. We guarantee you satisfaction on everything you get at the Peninsula's Greatest Store.

Ladies' Caracul Coats

These coats are made of the finest Caracul in $6.25 the very latest styles with deep rolling collar. They are 50 inches long and are handsomely tailored throughout. You would pay $10.00 in any of the city stores for coats not as good.

Men's Fall Suits

These suits are not equaled at $9.50 less than $15.00 elsewhere. You will have to acknowledge these facts. When you see these garments they are the greatest $9.50 Suits in the world. Compare them with any you have ever seen.

Men's Fine Overcoats

The swellest and nobbiest $8.50 styles you ever saw made of the newest styles of the season. You would almost double the price elsewhere. Try the Peninsula's Greatest Clothing Store for your next Overcoat.

ODORS AND MOISTURE.

A Scheme That Is Said to Improve the Sense of Smell.

"The most striking fact connected with my school career," said the prep school graduate, "was a peculiar ability on the part of our commandant to detect the faintest odor of smoke in a room on his daily inspection. The school I attended was of the military variety, and smoking was a rather serious offense. No matter how much a room had been aired or fanned with wet towels previous to the inspection, the offender was always caught.

"After I had received my finishing touches and become a citizen I made so bold as to inquire from what peculiar dispensation of providence the ability was given to detect one molecule of smoke in a hundred cubic feet of pure air. The old boy smiled and, binding me to secrecy, imparted the reason of his wonderful ability. Then he took me to a boy's vacated room and told me to wet my finger and rub my nostrils with it and sniff. Lo and behold, where before there seemed no taint in the atmosphere was now detected that smell of old tobacco smoke! Since then I have taught school myself and have used the trick occasionally, entirely for experimental purposes, however.

"I have also sought the scientific explanation, but with little success. It may, however, be somewhat analogous to the process of tasting. You know, it is impossible to taste anything that is not dissolved in water or is not a liquid itself. So the moisture on the nostrils must carry the small particles of smoke in a more or less damp state to the olfactory nerve ends and thus make the smell more apparent. At least this is the only explanation I have ever found for the phenomenon.

"The same thing can also be used for detecting other odors, and I have found it useful on a number of occasions for this purpose, both in analytical chemistry, when only a small particle of a certain material is available for analysis, and in detecting faint perfume from flowers that are ordinarily quite odorless."—Chicago Record-Herald.

COUNTING HEADS.

The First Census Was Taken by Moses in the Wilderness.

There is a record of a census in China as far back as the year 2042 B. C. and of one in Japan in the last century before Christ. Under the constitution of Solon the citizens of Athens were divided and registered in four classes, according to the amount of their taxable property or income. The Roman census was burdened with more statistics than any of these, however. It had its origin under Servius Tullius, sixth king of Rome, and was an affair of much solemnity. Every citizen had to appear upon the Campus Martius and declare upon oath his name and dwelling and the value of his property under the penalty of having his goods confiscated.

The most ancient statistical record of a census is found in the Bible. The census was taken by Moses in the wilderness, and, as shown by the first chapter of Numbers, the enumeration must have been very simple. "Take ye," says this account, "the sum of all the congregations of the children of Israel, after their families, by the house of their fathers, with the number of their names, every male by their polls; from twenty years old and upward, all that are able to go forth to war in Israel; thou and Aaron shall number them by their armies." This census was an affair that must have been soon over, lasting no longer than one day, being merely a counting of the heads of the fighting men. The women and children and cripples and the old men were not included; "neither were the Levites numbered among them." Those who did stand up to be numbered totaled 603,550. — New York World.

His Bad Break.

"Why on earth do you come to me to borrow money, Billups?" said Harkaway peevishly. "Why don't you go to Jorrocks? He's the prosperous looking member of our set."

"That's just it, Harkaway," said Billups. "Jorrocks looks so very prosperous that I am quite sure he spends every penny he makes, but you, old man—why, you dress like a man who saves his money."

P. S.—He didn't get it.—Harper's Weekly.

It Was His Own.

Shirley Brooks, the famous Punch editor, once met Charles Salamar, the composer. On being introduced to Shirley the composer said:

"I had often and often seen your face, Mr. Brooks, but I never knew to whom it belonged."

"Oh," replied Brooks quickly, "it always belonged to me."

Stronger Than Sympathy.

"I am glad to see, anyhow, that you sympathize with the under dog in this barbarous fight."

"Sympathize with 'im? Gosh, mister, all the money I've got is up on that dawg!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Superlative.

Smith (to member of vested choir)—I hear you've got a new tenor in the choir. What kind of a voice has he—good? Jones—Good? I should say so! It's so good none of the other tenors will speak to him.—Life.

What It May Come To.

Customs Officer—Baby born at home or abroad?

Mother—Abroad.

"Well, ye'll have to pay duty on it."—Life.

Victor Fine Ground Limestone

THE BEST WAY TO LIME: The United States Government and the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experimental Stations are now recommending Finely Ground Limestone as the best way of applying Lime to the soil. It does not destroy manure, there is no danger of burning your crops, it keeps for years, and can be applied at any time or season.

EASIEST AND CHEAPEST TO USE Comes packed in canvas or paper bags. Can be easily handled, and kept in storage indefinitely, without change or loss. No more laborious slacking, no more choking dust, nor scalding burns. Can be drilled into the soil, or sowed on the surface and harrowed in. Saves half the cost of the old way of applying Lime. Is cheaper and better.

GIVES MAXIMUM RESULTS It has been proved that very Finely Ground Limestone produces, as a fertilizer, the same results pound for pound as air-slaked Lime, or any other commercial fertilizer, and because VICTOR Fine Ground Limestone is the purest, most Finely Ground Limestone on the market, and because it destroys no manure or crop, it gives much better results than any other burned or hydrated Lime made.
