vaunt the warde of the vertue of the said soveraigne lorde the kinge is standeth bound unto Richard Venables of Andover in the me of England as thereby it doth and may appeare or otherwise trators or assignes or anye of them by the said George Calvert his ye saved and kept harmelesse aswell the said George Calvert and every mannor of Danbye wiske alias Danbye uppon wiske wth all the messuages George more and written Leasses thereof hereby and assigned for ant monthe of February 1614 made betweene the said Richard e of Middlesex Esq on thone parte and the said George Calvert more at large it doth and maye appeare of and from the s from all extents executions actions troubles charges from bea the said Richard fforster together wth Joane his now wife doe te thereof knowledge and levye in due forme of lawe before and by the said George Calvert his heires or assignes at said mannor landes tenements and hereditaments to the said Richard fforster or thereunto reasonably required and have e of dedimus potestatem ~~[illegible]~~ at the now dwellinge house of ~~and daughter~~ likewise cause or procure Katherine Calvert Esq before ~~the next~~ last daye of Aprill next ensuinge after landes tenements and hereditaments premisses to the said George ever hereafter doe well and sufficientlie save and keepe harmeles d assignes of and from all Joyntures dower or title of dower and o the said mannor landes tenements hereditaments and premisses obligacion to be voyd and of none effect or else it to stand in full force and further that if the said Richard fforster doe obs ements on his parte ought to be observed and fulfilled es shall or will deliver up forthwth the said thereof In Witness whereof ng.

George Calvert (1580?-1632) was the first Lord Baltimore, receiving his title in 1625. Richard Forster (1546?-1616) was a physician, serving as President of the College of Physicians in 1601-1604 and 1615-1616.