

Lovering, Henderson and Clarke pay the workmen

John Nicholson to Mr. Deblais Nov. 17, 1795.

(the workmen) "were employed by persons who should pay them and Messrs. Clark, Lovering & Henderson are only person in the business w/ whom we have concern or contract.

Mr. Lovering hired due to need for "practical architect" 1795

John Nicholson Letter books, HSP

JN. to Mr. Deblais p. 16 late 1795 see full citation

... we deemed it necessary to employ a person who was a practical architect & with that view engaged Mr. Lovering one year but we did not think it safe to entrust him to make contacts w/o consulting & have the previous consent of those ⁱⁿ whom we have confidence w/ this view chose you & Mr. Morris chose Mr. Cranch & w/o your consent Mr. Lovering can do nothing