Shaw employed many men who worked under Clark and ^{perhaps} some under Wallace.

They knew the State House well and their work was efficient, no runaways, accidents or other delays in the work. In the Scharf Papers at the Maryland Historical Society, there are accounts of Shaw that name the workers, one of which is here transcribed:

James Smith
William Sewell
Pinkney Y. Guyer
John Randall
William Lillie
William Taylor
Thomas Price
Isaac Holland
Edward Roper
William Grant
Simon Rattallock
William Ilkins
William Rynolds
Daniel Fowler
Nace Johnson
Thos. Townsend
Taylor J. Sands
James Elliott
Seth Sweetser
