EXECUTION OF HENRY MCCURRY, THE MURDERER OF PAUL ROUX.
The outrage had been vindicated—...demands of justice satisfied—and ...McCurry consigned to a felon's
...At 20 minutes before 12 o'clock ...yesterday, the body of the doomed ...was launched from the gallows and ...spirit took its flight into another world ...to a fearful and endless eternity—be...a fearful Bar of that just, but offend-
...God, whose commandments he so de-
...and wantonly violated by the in-...murder of the poor and confiding ...Roux.

The neighboring eminences, and every ...top, or other situation, where a view
...the execution could be had, was filled ...crowds of men, women and children, ...all ages, colors and descriptions. A ...number of persons were within the
...of the jail walls, all gazing to...her by that strange feeling of curiosity, ...ich takes hold on the minds of men to ...ness each and every scene that takes ...re. The gallows was erected in the ...west corner of the jail yard of suffi-
...height to enable all to view the exe-
...and was the same, with exception ...a few timbers, that was used at the
...of Adam Horn, at the foot of the ...of the coffin (of black walnut) was ...to receive his body. Everything ...prepared in the best possible manner,
...that no delay or accident might occur.

Officers were stationed at an inner fence, ...keep the crowd from coming too near
...scaffold, none but those immediately ...connected with the execution and the ...directors of the press being permitted at the
...of the scaffold, a very judicious and ...cessary arrangement. The Rev. gentle-
...continued in constant prayer with him ...ring his last two hours. At 11 o'clock
...e Sheriff, Mr. Tracey, arrived, and his ...puties came to the cell with the gown, ...white muslin. We noticed when they ...ed, he turned deadly pale, but soon he ...sumed his wonted composure. The ...own was put on, and his arms bandaged, ...then the prisoner joined in prayer with ...in again before they left the cell. The ...now came down dressed in a suit ...black, with a sword at his side, which ...office officials him to wear, and in a few ...ments proceeded to the scaffold. The ...arden and the Rev. Mr. Hecker, went first,
...followed by McCurry, with Sheriff Tracey
...his right, and the Rev. Dr. Cokerly
...his left, the Sheriff's deputies, officers ...of the jail and others, brought up the rear
...the ministers singing during the time ...occupied in going from the cell to the ...scaffold, McCurry bore up very well, and ...talked up the steps of the scaffold with a ...derable firm step. None but the Warden
...the Sheriff and the ministers went on ...the scaffold.

He knelt down with them a few mo...ments and prayed, when he arose, and ...they took leave of him—Sheriff Tracey ...adjusted the rope, pulled the cap over his ...eyes, and the drop fell, at 20 minutes to ...2 precisely, amid the death-like silence of ...the vast multitude. He appeared to strug...gle a very little, and died almost instan...taneously, his neck being broken by the fall.
...he was permitted to hang 20 minutes,
...when his body at 12 o'clock, by orders of ...the Sheriff, was taken down and examined ...by physicians, who pronounced him to be ...dead. His body was then placed in the ...coffin, and we understand will be kept to ...await the disposition of the Rev. Dr. Cokerly ...burialment. It was the request of Mc-...Curry that his body should not be subjected ...to experiments with the galvanic battery,
...as was the case with Horn's, which desire
...was complied with.

Thus has he expiated his crime upon ...the scaffold, and satisfied the imperative ...demands of the law, and which, by his ...own confession in this case, all will ac...knowledge to be just.

As we have stated an immense concourse ...had assembled to witness the execution, ...estimated at from 15 to 20 thousand per...sons, probably nearer the latter number,
...and we must confess that the great major...ity of them consisted of women and chil...dren, all drawn together to witness this ...awful sight. The greatest order prevailed ...so far as we heard among the vast multi...tude, but there is no doubt, but that the ...proper place for hundreds of them would ...have been at home, past experience proving ...that the morals of any community are not
...bettered by such exhibitions.—Balt. paper
...of Saturday.

The Price of Wheat.—The Hagerstown
...Torch Light states that some of the flour ...dealers of Washington county have been ...contracting for wheat, to be delivered in ...August, at $1 per bushel. This is in con...sequence of information received from N.
...York; and is, doubtless, owing to the con...templated failure in the crops of Great ...Britain; which news was brought out by ...the last steamer.

Duelling in Delaware.—Gov. Stockton,
...of Delaware, has issued a proclamation,
...calling upon the Magistrates, and other ...officers of the law, to seek out, arrest, and ...bring to judgement, all those who have ...been engaged either as principals or abet...tors in the late duels fought within the ...boundaries of the State of Delaware.

"Honest industry has brought that man ...to the scaffold," said a wag, as he observ...ed a carpenter upon the staging.

FASHIONS IN GEORGIA.—The Spirit of
...the Times says that summer clothing in ...Georgia consists of a shirt collar and a ...pair of spurs!

THE GREAT DEMONSTRATION IN NEW YORK.

The great demonstration of patriotism and respect for the memory of ANDREW JACKSON, surpassed any pageant ever witnessed in New York. Business of every kind was suspended.

The city was one vast scene of mourning. The funeral knell tolled sadly from every spire and dome. The slow and solemn tread of military companies, civic societies and citizens generally, with the sound of the muffled drum; with the discharge of minute guns from all the fortifications and from some of the public Parks; the universal display of flags at half mast; banners shrouded in crape; public buildings and Hotels dressed in mourning, all spoke of the great worth of the departed CHRIS-TIAN, HERO, STATESMAN AND PATRIOT, and of the affectionate regard with which the people cherish his memory.

Private divisions were forgotten, and men of all parties, sects and creeds united in honoring the illustrious dead. People from every clime and from every quarters of the earth, stood on either side with the native born, to pay their respect to the memory of one who had nobly defended the land of the free and the home of the brave; and who had twice enjoyed the highest honors of the country.

There was an immense concourse assembled at the Park to hear the Eulogy, which was pronounced by the Hon. Benj.
F. Butler. It was listened to with the most profound attention.

The head of the Procession reached the western gate of the Park about the time the end had left the eastern gate, showing the line to be some five or six miles in length.

Texas was represented by the Hon.
Branch T. Archer, who has, with no small degree of justice, acquired in his own country the sobriquet of "the Old Man-of-Roman." General Thomas J. Green and his prison companions in Mexico; Mr. George Van Ness, and Lieutenant Clarke. The last named gentleman was on this occasion the bearer of the first Texas flag ever planted on the west side of the Rio Bravo.

There is a tale of romance connected with this relic. It is the flag known as the "Bloody Bed," and was first hoisted in Mexico, opposite Resaca. Subsequently, he alone with Captain Reese, crossed the Rio Bravo, and hoisted it in the face of an opposing enemy. From that time it was the standard of General Green's flag boat in his descent of that river. At the bloody battle of Mier it was destined to fall. At the capitulation, Gen. Green, who had in vain opposed the surrender, broke his arms upon the pavement, and with his knife cut up this flag, which he put in his pocket. He surrendered nothing but his naked sword belt to Gen. Ampudia. Ampudia demanded his arms, and was pointed to the fragments in the street. He then offered $500 reward for the "bloody relic," but a portion of which Gen. Green had in his hand as a memento. The General told him there was not money enough in Mexico to buy it. Since that time that flag was the hos-tom companion of General Green in almost every prison in Mexico; and when he made his wonderful escape from the Castle of Perote, it was buried and was subsequently exhumed by his friends and brought home to him. It is a national relic which every friend of Texas will read of with interest.

THE FUNERAL OF GEN. JACKSON.
PHILADELPHIA, June 26th, 1845.

Messrs. Editors: The funeral ceremonial to-day, in honor of the Memory of GENERAL JACKSON, was a solemn and imposing sight. The morning was remarkably clear and pleasant, and at an early hour the citizens were astir, and the various bodies began to assemble in the streets.

The day was ushered in by the firing of guns, at regular intervals and the solemn tolling of the church bells. The places of public business were generally closed, and the houses of many of our citizens were dressed in the drapery of mourning. Business was suspended in the public offices for the greater part of the day, and from every public place hung flags, covered with mourning badges. One general sentiment seemed to pervade the whole city, that of paying proper respect to the memory of the illustrious deceased, and the manner in which this respect was testified was highly creditable indeed. The entire population was abroad—the ladies crowding the windows, along the route of the procession; and immense numbers of persons upon the sidewalks, steps, and every place from which a sight of the procession could be obtained.

The number of strangers in the city was immense. Every railroad car and steamboat, which arrived at the wharves and depots yesterday, was crowded. Burlington, Bristol, Salem, Chester, Wilmington, Lancaster, and all the surrounding towns and villages, sent forth their deputations.

The various bodies began to move in their separate divisions, at 8 o'clock, to the place of general formation, Spruce and Thirteenth streets. At 10 o'clock the line was formed.

The military formed on Broad street in considerable force, and looked extremely well. Indeed, we never saw the Military Companies appear to so fine an advantage.
The officers and men seemed to be animated with a proper military enthusiasm, and appeared on the ground in large numbers, and in the very best trim. The movements of the soldiers also showed the utmost precision and regularity, and proved that they had been submitted to the drill of competent officers. A detachment of the Jackson Artillery were posted in Penn Square, and, with two pieces of Artillery, fired half hour guns throughout the day, commencing at sunrise.

The Civic Divisions were formed, in various positions, according to the orders of their Chief Marshal.

THE ORATION.
After the procession had passed through the route laid down, which extended from the northern bounds of the city proper to the southern limits, they entered Washington Square, where the Oration was delivered by George M. Dallas, Vice President of the United States. Here the taste of the Committee had displayed itself in the handsome arrangements for the Orator and Officers of the day. In the centre of the beautiful Square, and beneath the shade, and surrounded by the fragrance of the many varieties of trees and shrubbery which it contains, was erected a stand, handsomely covered with mourning.

Upon this the orator took his stand, surrounded by the officiating clergy. The venerable white head of Vice President Dallas, shone conspicuously among the number, and made him the mark for all observers' eyes.
The late hour that the procession reached the Square will prevent us giving you a further account of the interesting proceedings which followed. It is now time to close, and the speech has not yet been commenced.

"TELL YOUR NEIGHBORS" that Sherman's Cough Lozenges will cure a severe cough or cold sooner than anything else you can take; that they also all irritation, promote expectoration, and are a quiet cure for the throat when it cannot otherwise be obtained.
They are a specific for worms, and have been tried with perfect success in more than 4000-000 cases, and have never been known to fail—and being prepared by a regular physician, are perfectly safe, as they have never been known to do injury in any case in which they have been used. Say to them that Sherman's Cough Lozenges are a remedy for the headache, curing it in from three to five minutes, and relieving from inflamation, nervous diseases and depression of spirits. And last, not least, tell them that if they have rheumatism, pain or weakness in the back, chest, side, loins, or any part of the body, that Sherman's Poor Man's Plaster is decidedly the best strengthening plaster in the world, and will ease them quicker than anything of the kind they ever saw.—
And tell them, also, that Dr. Sherman preparates Lozenges for fever and ague, heartburn, dyspepsia, and all the ills the body is liable to, and being a regular physician, all his remedies are prepared with the most purity, and can be relied upon for all for which they are recommended.

Baltimore Market.
[PRICES OF GRAIN &c.—corrected weekly.]
Baltimore, June 25th, 1845.

GRAIN.—The supply of old Wheat has materially fallen off, and the low prices coming forward hardly merit notice. We have one sale reported, which was a cargo of Pennsylvania at 90 cents. Some low small lots of Maryland new Wheat were disposed of at the close of last week at 90 to 95 cents, but these prices were obtained merely because the article was new; and another similar lot sold on Wednesday, very uneventfully, at 85 cents. "WHEAT" is in demand, and in fact, in note. Corn has improved a cent or two since last week, prize white having commanded 40 to 41, and yellow 41 to 42, and possibly something more, as we did not learn the particulars in regard to one cargo. Oats are in demand, and have advanced, as far as received, at 31 to 32 cents for Maryland.

MARRIED.
On Thursday evening last, by the Rev.
Levi Stokes, Mr. RICHARD MARSHALL to Miss HENRIETTA BARNES, all of this town.

we have to record the death of two of the children of these allied parents. A stroke of Providence so severe must have been keenly felt.

spirits. And last, not least, tell them that if
the back, chest, side, loins, or any part of the body, that Sherman's Poor Man's Plaster is decidedly the best strengthening plas-
than anything of the kind they ever saw.—
And tell them, also, that Dr. Sherman
burn, dyspepsia, and all the ills the body is
which they are recommended.

also for sale by agents advertised in another part of this paper.

Baltimore Market.
[PRICES OF GRAIN &c.—corrected weekly.]
Baltimore, June 25th, 1845.

GRAIN.—The supply of old Wheat has
materially fallen off, and the low prices
coming forward hardly merit notice. We
have one sale reported, which was a cargo
of Pennsylvania at 90 cents. Some low small lots of Maryland new Wheat were
disposed of at the close of last week at 90 to 95 cents, but these prices were obtained
merely because the article was new; and an-
uneventfully, at 85 cents. "WHEAT" is
improved a cent or two since last week,
prize white having commanded 40 to 41,
and yellow 41 to 42, and possibly something
more, as we did not learn the particulars in regard to one cargo. Oats are in demand,
and have advanced, as far as received, at 31 to 32 cents for Maryland.

MARRIED.
On Thursday evening last, by the Rev.
Levi Stokes, Mr. RICHARD MARSHALL to
Miss HENRIETTA BARNES, all of this town.

In Baltimore on the 23d ult., by Rev. Stephen A. Roszel, William C. D. Perezoy, of Baltimore, to Miss Ann M. Camper, of Talbot county, Md.

DIED.
On Tuesday, 10th inst., in this county, Frederick, son of Hugh and Margaret Sherwood, aged 5 years and 10 months.

On Sunday, 22d inst., Elizabeth Tilghman, daughter of Hugh and Margaret Sherwood, aged 4 years and 7 months.

Thus within the short space of two weeks
we have to record the death of two of the children of these allied parents. A stroke
of Providence so severe must have been
keenly felt.

An assignment of property in consideration of an annuity to be paid by the grantee for the life of the grantor.

An order or draft not paid, or intended to be put into circulation, but made solely to obtain possession by the party of his own funds.

But we think a Stamp necessary to the instruments following:

A mortgage with a covenant to pay, and whether such mortgage be the only security taken, or whether there be also a note or bond also stamped and for the same debt;— the note or bond being of course to be stamped.

A Bill or written acknowledgment of indebtedness for a certain sum.

An account stated signed by the parties or by the party to be charged, as evidence of debt.

Dorsey and Martin J. dissented from the conclusion that a mortgage without a covantant to pay the debt, was subject to a stamp, and Chambers J. dissented from the conclusion that a due bill and an account stated should be stamped: True copy, R. W. GILL, Clerk.

man's Cough Lozenges will cure a severe
cough or cold sooner than anything else you
can take; that they also all irritation, promote
expectoration, and are a quiet cure for the
throat when it cannot otherwise be obtained.
They are a specific for worms, and have been
tried with perfect success in more than 4000-000 cases, and have never been known to
fail—and being prepared by a regular physician, are perfectly safe, as they have never
that Sherman's Cough Lozenges are a remedy for the headache, curing it in from
three to five minutes, and relieving from in-
flamation, nervous diseases and depression of
spirits. And last, not least, tell them that if
the back, chest, side, loins, or any part
