A farmer cannot produce anything like the sample in this bottle!

K. No sir, I have taken a ton of pruden Peruvian Guano and reduced its Leband lumps with the most elaborate care source, upon my farm, as perfectly as any Fries farmer could do, then manipulated Manip amother ton of the same by machin-came ery to a condition as powdered as say: Y the sample you hold in your hand, find it sowed them side by side upon the moting same land, and there was a difference When of upwards of 4 bushels of wheat ruviar per acre, in favor of the latter. The we ha the is amply capable of discharging its whole duty. Many small lumps Mr in the Peruvian, when the farmer has of the done his best, kills the seed, and burns gret t mp the land; these are important facts prom and truths, which every farmer should should know, even if they do not buy my atten manipulated.

F. Can I see it in the bags?

K. Yes sir, walk into the store; your there it is. F. Is that it? I took that for the will Peruvian Guano. K. No, sir, that is the originator, will "Kettlewell's" Manipulated Guano, of or branded upon every bag-but no one en y could tell it from Peruvian by its Man outward appearance—the bags—the all o odor-the whole appearance so re-Prin sembles Peruwian that it cannot be trial told until you examine its complete- lives ly pulverized condition; here are no get i lumps; no dint; perfectly dry; entire-state ly uniform, and admirably prepared the for the drill, or the farm hand to ap-

F What did you say the price tify so fa

K. The price waries with the price Post of Peruvian Guano, which was last be p fall $55 per ton, but this year has with been advanced by the agents to $60 ton per ton-I then sold the No. 1 man- Mai ipulated at $45 per ton and the No. nea 2 at $40 of 2000 lbs. So long as Pe-plie ruvian continues at its present price sam the No. 1 will be $17 per ton and sam the No. 2 $42 per ton of 2000 lbs. the I have not advanced fully with the the Peruvian. In actual value to the the farmer, in crop and land, these pri-cur ces ought just to be reversed, the ula manipulated advanced to the price rich of the Peruvian, the Peruvian re-He duced to the price of the manipula san

ted. Thousands who have used both ma will confirm this. F. What quantity do you apply her per acre, of the manipulated? K. Precisely, the same quantity from you would apply of Peruvian Guano, be not cost for cost, but pound for pound; lan your crop will be fully equal, never and less-in all probability more-and lan the service it will render your land in durable improvement, will be a full equivalent for the cost, independent of the crop. F. Would you recommend its ap na plication with the drill, or broadcast? era K. It is in a most perfect. condition to apply with the drill; wheat flour could be scarcely more so, and so far as the cost of the manure is concerned, there is a great economy in this mode of application; but you must not forget that using the Manipulated Guano is like using bone. dust, and therefore sown broadcast gives permanent improvement to the whole land. With this explanation, every farmer ean execusise his own
