THE PRINCE ACROSS HIS MOTH-ER'S KNEE

The Rochester Democrat relates the following on the authority of an eye witness, a gentleman now residing in Roch-

"Some thirteen or fourteen years ago, her Majesty, accompanied by the Prince Consort and the Royal children, visited Scotland for the first time. The yacht in which the party traveled by water called at Aberdeen, and of course the loyal inhabitants of that city turned out in large numbers to do honor to their beloved Sovereign. A guard of honor consisting of mest of the merchants of the place, was formed, and paraded on the edge of the dock to which the vessel was moored at just sufficient distance to prevent people from stepping on board. Seats were erected on the bank, tier above tier, like those in a circus to accommodate the thousands that assembled to gaze on the spectacle of an anointed Queen

Her Majesty good naturedly remain-'ed on deek to gratify as much as possible the curiosity of the bonny Scotts and promenaded about in full view of the immense crowd. The Prince of Wales then a child of five or six years old was with her. Among the other articles of furniture placed on the deck for the accommedation of the Queen was a splendid sofa ornamented with tassets, and the Prince, like other boys at that age, being of a destructive turn began to pull at one of them in a manner that threatened to detach it His mother observed
