

two governments [of Maryland and of Virginia] the western and southern limits of the state. These appointments were made to fill the vacancies occasioned by absences of William Pinkney and William Cooke.