

Dublin

Baltimore 20th Sept 1844

Agreeably to your desire on Tuesday last we remitted D Scott & Co for $579. I am very glad to hear that he is pursuing the course recommended, but I would be still better pleased to know that the business was executed agreeably to his promise, I had not an opportunity of seeing Mr Scott on his return but some of our young men who saw say that he did not seem to have done anything. No news here. I have not lately seen at New York & no letters. I understand by Peter that James L. & John's son has come to the New world to try his fortune, that Mr Coulson had been wounded by a pistol shot from John Keiston, who found him unexpectedly in his house, what situation I know not, whether praying or interfering I prefer to mention. We are all well yours truly
J. M. Campbell