

$100 against me and in truth you say. "I am in great want of it. I hope you will find it convenient to remit me at least the greatest part of it ~~as soon as~~ There is one thing most certain - as sure as I have a soul in my body. I must have given the money either to Robinson or Schriver. yet cannot bring my recollection to my mind when or where - or of my ever receiving the $40 which from my Letter there can be no doubt of. It has given me much trouble to have such a sum to pay over again but one misfortune never comes alone I know my dear friend Robinson if he can bring my idea of the matter to his mind - he will. I am doing every thing in the compass of my power to keep the Wagon going. but in truth my Dear Friend the demand for Porter is really very bad. Whisky & Brandy seems to be the common drink. Quicksilver the study and Distillation never had been taken of. If I can make sale of the Porter which I have on hand. there will be plenty to pay my note which is the only wish I have. should there not be one Cent left after -

I send $100 to Schriver and then come to me Robinson & the Family. with

Yours
5th July 1818

Dear Sir
Yours most truly

J. L. Scanlan