

Dear Sir

as friend Keys informed me that if I had not the lime ready so as you could begin to haul on Monday first you would consider the bargain at an end I have the stone and wood nearly ready and would ahead the time before this time, but the reason was, being disappointed by my workmen which no doubt you have been served so yourself. I am sorry that the lime is not ready, but I will have it burned as soon as I can and if it will suit you to take it I will sell as much of it as I can provided you request me at what you offered.
Two bushels that was 5 cts I will send you wood as soon as it is ready

Yours

John Brindley
